

two drams. Mix in one pint of water these three, and take a teaspoonful once each three hours. Any person in fairly good health who takes this each summer will defy cholera poison and get rid of several other troubles also. Besides each person ought to take a bath into which some washing soda has been put, say half a pound dissolved in boiling water and poured into the bath. Wash the skin clean with this and use soap and brush or coarse towel. By this means the pores are kept clean, the circulation stimulated and you will defy cholera poison. Shun all acid fruit, all cabbage, pickles, vinegar, acids, salads, frozen fish and lager beer. Do not drink any water unless boiled. Drink plenty of black pepper mixed with sugar and water. Eat no veal or young meat. Eat fowl or well roasted mutton and roasted potatoes. Eat corn and green beans, but no peas, as they produce diarrhoea."

ANON-"MORMON'S" SENTIMENTS.

A non-"Mormon" resident of Oakland, California, who spent some months in this Territory a couple of years ago, writing a private letter to a friend here, says:

"I am sorry to hear of Mr. Angus Cannon's unfortunate condition. It must come very hard on his family to be parted from him thus. I think in a moral sense Mr. Cannon is under very unjust punishment, as I believe from what I saw and learned of him during my short acquaintance, he is a man of good sound principles. I don't think he has his wives for any but a good purpose. Give my sincere sympathy to him and his family.

This is a very good country to succeed in. The Lord has blessed California with many advantages over all other States I ever was in. It is a country of wine, honey and milk, but as a general thing they are a very unthankful class of people that subsist on its bounties. There is very little love and good feeling among the people here. A man is more honored for his business qualities than for a good character. If you have plenty of money and are successful in business here, no matter how great a rogue you may be, you are entitled to choose your own place in society."

LOCAL NEWS.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, AUG. 27.

Death of an Old Timer.—Samuel Broadhurst, an old timer, who lived for many years in the Fourteenth Ward in this city, died, at his late residence in East Mill Creek last night, after a lingering sickness of three years duration. He was sixty-five years of age.

From Provo.—S. S. Jones, the enterprising merchant of Provo, is in town, and is feeling somewhat concerned for the safety of his brother Albert, who is now a missionary in London, since learning of the assault recently made by the desperate and bigoted populace upon the Elders there.

Diphtheria at Smithfield.—Diphtheria exists at Smithfield, Cache Valley, to such an extent that it has been considered necessary by the people there to suspend meetings, schools and all public gatherings for the present. There have been three deaths in the family of Mr. Joseph Hill, of that place.

Damage from Hailstorm.—Brother John Kirkman, who resides on the east bench, reports that the hailstorm which occurred day before yesterday did considerable damage to grape vines and garden products in the neighborhood of his home. His grape vines were almost completely stripped of their leaves as well as fruit.

Telephone Extension.—The poles are now being erected on the way to Bingham Canyon for the extension of the telephone from this city to that place. A lot of telephone poles, forty-five feet in length, obtained from somewhere on the line of the D. & R. G. W., for the purpose of replacing a large number now in use in this city, and which have been found to be too weak, are now at the depot, and will soon be erected.

A Disturbance.—This morning the wife of John Aird entered a complaint in the Justice's Court against her husband, charging him with disturbing the peace. Last night Aird went home drunk and began the soiree by abusing his wife. He then took down the pictures from the walls, the knives, forks, etc., from the cupboard, and carried them off, all the while shouting and yelling like a demon. He finally struck a 17-year-old son of Mrs. Aird, and lapsed into a more peaceful condition for the remainder of the night. This morning he came down town, and while the complaint was being made out, was around in the saloons, filling himself up for another spree, but this time it is liable to be behind the iron bars of the city jail.

Aird is the person who was fined $300 last spring, for unlawful cohabitation, and who escaped the six months' imprisonment penalty by "promising to live within the law and teach others to do the same."

Accidental Shooting.—Last evening's Ogden Herald contains the following:

"Yesterday afternoon, at Hooper, some members of Mr. John T. Jones' family took out a double barreled shot gun for the purpose of shooting a hawk which was hovering around. The gun was not fired, however, for the purpose for which it was taken out. As they were returning to the house the firearm was accidentally discharged and the contents lodged in the left arm of a little four year old son named John. The wound was near the elbow and the brachial artery was severed. The accident occurred at about half-past one and Dr. H. J. Powers of this city was sent for. Amputation was found necessary and the surgical operation was skillfully performed by Mr. Powers. The injured member was taken off just above the elbow. The juvenile patient was made as comfortable as possible and it is to be hoped the consequences will not prove to be more serious than at present indicated."

The Summit County Election.—The following is a copy of the notice of contest, given by Hon. Ward E. Pack, for the right of a seat in the next Legislature as representative from Summit County:

David McLaughlin, Esq., Park City, Utah:

You will please take notice that I, Ward E. Pack, a citizen of the United States, a resident and elector duly qualified of Summit County, Utah Territory, do contest your right to the office of member of the House of Representatives of the Legislative Assembly of Utah Territory for said County of Summit to which you have been declared elected at the election held on the 3d day of August, 1885, on the ground that at said election in Park City precinct, said county, illegal votes were cast and given for you, and votes were illegally counted for you, which, if taken from you, will reduce the number of your legal votes below the number of the legal votes given to the undersigned for the same office, and the undersigned claims that at said election he was legally elected and is entitled to said office.

Dated 26th August, 1885.

WARD E. PACK.

Similar notices will be served upon the Liberal candidates for the offices of County Surveyor, County Superintendent of District Schools, and Selectman. Bennett, Harkness & Kirkpatrick are the attorneys for the People's candidates.

Fight About Land.—A complaint was entered in the Justice's Court this morning, charging Alma Colvin, a man about forty years of age, with an assault and battery upon John B. Hurst, about sixty years old, in Sugar House Ward, a couple of weeks ago. Colvin had purchased from a boy named Gibson, grandson of Mrs. Hurst, five acres of land for $20. The land had been given by Hurst, as a present, to Gibson, who is about fifteen years old. On the day the row occurred, Hurst was cutting lucern off the land in question, when Colvin came up and objected. Hurst replied that the lucern belonged to him, and upbraided Colvin for swindling the boy in getting the land so cheap. Colvin then seized the scythe which Hurst was using, and in the struggle the latter fell to the ground. Colvin jumped on him, and struck him several blows on the head. The parties then separated, and some of the neighbors, learning of the fuss, endeavored to have the affair amicably settled. Since that time, however, Hurst claims that Colvin and his family have continually taunted and abused himself and family, and the matter will be brought into the courts for adjudication.

Nearly Suffocated.—The Butte Miner of the 25th contains the following account of an experience of an employe of Heesch, Ellerbeck & Co., of this city, who also have a house at Butte, Montana. Mr. Coulson is employed there as foreman:

"Yesterday morning Mr. Coulson, of the firm of Heesch, Ellerbeck & Co., plumbers and steam fitters, came near losing his life in a curious manner. A drainage tunnel is being constructed in the alley in the rear of Main street, between Park and Broadway, to connect the buildings with the sewer below. Of course a drain pipe was necessary, and yesterday Mr. Coulson, assisted by a boy, was engaged in laying the same. He had progressed with his work in a most satisfactory manner—the boy going in and out of the tunnel to supply him with materials—when he suddenly noticed that there was an overpowering stench from sewer gas. He was at the time making a joint and not fearing any trouble continued with his work but was soon overpowered and fell senseless. The boy at once gave the alarm and Mr. Coulson was taken from the tunnel apparently dead. Medical aid was summoned and after much labor the man was revived and taken to his residence, where at a late hour he was resting quietly, apparently entirely recovered from the shock, but still very weak. The escape of Mr. Coulson was almost miraculous, for if the boy had not been with him his condition could not have been ascertained until he would have been beyond medical aid."

Iron-Clads.—It has generally been supposed for some time past that there were no grasshoppers in the vicinity of this city, but a ride over the Tenth Ward bench recently convinced the writer to the contrary, for there they appeared to be quite numerous, and voracious too, as shown by the sweet clover growing in that vicinity being entirely denuded of its leaves. We are told, too, by a resident of that part that a new crop of iron-clads have lately hatched out there, and that now the diminutive specimens may be seen fairly swarming over the ground. The area, however, infested by them in that vicinity, seems to be quite limited, but upon the west side of the valley, in the neighborhood of Pleasant Green, they have been rather numerous all through this season, and now they are to be found pretty much all over what was formerly known as the West Jordan range. The second crop of lucern has been somewhat damaged by them in some places, but their depredations have not been very extensive so far, and are not likely to be this year. However, they are sufficiently numerous to produce devastating swarms next year if everything be favorable for their propagation, which, while we indulge in the hope that it may not be the case, we will do well as far as possible to prepare for.

We learn from a gentleman just down from the north that the grasshoppers are so bad in the neighborhood of Kaysville that the second crop of lucern upon which so many of the farmers were depending for the raising of seed, is fast being stripped by them and very little if any seed is likely to be harvested. If this be true, it will be quite a serious loss, not only to Kaysville, but to the entire Territory, for that is where the most of the lucern seed has heretofore been raised.

A Scene on the Bathing Train.—Last evening, as the Utah & Nevada train was returning from the Lake, a disgraceful scene occurred among the passengers in one of the cars. As a result Peter Schmidt, who keeps a drug store at Sandy, and Chas. Thiede were arrested on a charge of battery upon Miss Emma Barratt, a young lady who resides at American Fork. Attorney J. H. Moyle conducted the prosecution. From the evidence given it appears that Mr. Schmidt and Miss Minnie Thiede were sitting in one seat and Miss Thiede laid her head on her companion's shoulder, he putting his arms around her waist. This caused considerable merriment among the other passengers, one of whom, whose identity has not been discovered, handed Miss Barratt a paper to pass over to Schmidt. The paper blew over to Charles Thiede, brother of Miss Thiede, (Mr. Schmidt being a cousin) and he sprang up and shook his fist in the face of Miss Barratt's companion, Mr. Finlayson. Thiede sat down, and the tittering continued, Thiede again jumped up and struck Miss Barratt in the face with his fist, causing her to faint. Mr. Thomas Evert, constable of Benjamin, Utah County, interfered and stopped further proceedings, in which he was assisted by others. Miss Thiede also claimed she was struck, and fainted.

During the trial this afternoon, Miss Barratt, who seemed to have sustained a severe nervous shock, swooned in the court room, and had to be removed.

Mr. Thiede claimed that he struck at a young man whom he alleged struck his sister, and that he was greatly excited at being laughed at.

Mr. Schmidt was discharged, and Mr. Thiede was adjudged guilty, and fined $25 and costs, $12.05.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, AUGUST 23

Postmasters Appointed.—Today's dispatches inform us that President Cleveland has appointed John Sorenson postmaster at Ovid, and George S. Winegar postmaster at Egin, both of which are "Mormon" settlements.

Kicked by a Horse.—A young son of Bishop Warburton, of the First Ward, Samuel by name, was accidentally kicked in the face by a colt yesterday, completely flattening his nose and disfiguring him frightfully. Dr. Benedict raised the nose to its original position and put ten stitches in it, and is in hopes that when it heals the boy will not appear much, if any, the worse for his injury.

Encouraging Progress.—From Elder Wm. M. Palmer, who has charge of the Northwestern States Mission, we learn that sixty-one baptisms occurred in that field of missionary labor between May 1st and August 1st, with a good prospect for the future. The Elders laboring there have met with but little violent treatment of late, about the only exceptions being in the case of Elders Jackson and King, who are operating in the northern part of Indiana, and were, upon two occasions, pelted with rotten eggs for preaching.

Selling Liquor Contrary to Law.—This morning Peter Schmidt, of Cottonwood, was brought before Justice Speirs for selling liquor on Sunday. He entered a plea of guilty, and asked the leniency of the court, claiming that the party to whom he sold the drink complained of being very thirsty, and Schmidt could not refuse the request for some beer.

Mrs. Dudley, who keeps a place at the mouth of Parley's Cañon, was arrested on a charge of selling liquor without a license, and was this afternoon brought in, had a hearing and was fined $150.

Sudden Death.—Shortly after 10 o'clock last evening, Alfred DeGray, of the Eleventh Ward, retired to his bed apparently in his usual health. On lying down he felt a sensation as of strangulation, and died in a few moments. Dr. Beatty was summoned and pronounced it heart disease, from which the deceased had been a long sufferer, to have been the cause of death. Mr. DeGray was an iron moulder by trade, and had been employed at the Eagle Foundry for some time past. Yesterday he seemed in good health and cheerful spirits, and ate his meals with a hearty relish. He was about 60 years of age, and leaves a wife and seven children.

Unexpected Demise.—At about five o'clock last evening, Mrs. Jones and family, of the Sixth Ward, were shocked by the realization that Alexander J. H. Wallis, cousin of Mrs. Jones, had breathed his last. The deceased was an estimable young man, about twenty-three years of age, and had always been delicate in health. He came to Utah in November, 1884, and since that time his physical condition had greatly improved. Some weeks since he went to visit a cousin at Paris, Idaho—J. H. Wallis—and while there his health began to fail. He, with others, started in a wagon, for this city, and one night while sleeping out, were caught in a rain storm and thoroughly drenched. The deceased was chilled with the cold, but on his arrival in this city last Saturday, and since that time, there was nothing to indicate that the result would be fatal. His parents now reside in the Lambeth branch of the London Conference, England.

Upton Notes.—We had a pleasant call this morning from Bishop Clark, of Upton, Summit County, who is in town, with a number of others, on some land business connected with a dispute between Eli Saxton and Eliza Cook in reference to an entry of land. The former made an entry under the Desert Act, and took the water out, and the latter homesteaded the same piece of land. The question is now before the General Land Office.

Bishop Clark states that the people in his district are prosperous and feel well. The crops this season are in better condition than during any previous year, and the harvest will be abundant. From present prospects the field crops will all be gathered before frost comes.

The Stake house in Coalville is a fine structure, built of brick, and is nearing completion. On September 16th the Relief Societies of the Stake will hold a fair at Coalville, the proceeds of which are to be used in assisting to finish the building.

Burglary in Ogden.—The following is from the Ogden Herald of last evening:

"On Wednesday afternoon, a burglary was committed at the residence of Mr. Orson Riser, on Main Street, about half a block south of Eighth. Mrs. Riser was out visiting with Mrs. Collinson, the wife of Mr. Riser's partner in business, when the robbery was committed. Access was gained to the house through a window which was forced open with a hatchet, obtained from the coal shed. On the sill of the window through which the entrance was made, some flowers were standing, and these were removed and again replaced, but not in the same order. This fact aroused Mrs. Riser's suspicions on her return, and on going into the house it was found that some person, who is evidently well acquainted with the premises, had been inside and taken away property to the value of nearly $400. The furniture and everything was all straight and in its proper place, which is another evidence that the purloiner knew just where to find the booty.

"The officers have the matter in hand, and with the information they have to work upon it is very probable the bold burglar and his companions, if he had any, will be brought to justice."

Refined Salt.—Farnes Brothers, of Logan, have established a new enterprise, in the shape of a salt refinery—something which has long been required in this country. It has always seemed the height of folly to be under the necessity of importing Liverpool salt to this Territory when a pure article in that line has been required for butter-making, etc., in view of the fact that we have one of the most extensive deposits of crude salt both precipitated and in solution, to be found in the world, right at our doors; but heretofore no one has stepped forward to supply the demand.

The works now established are situated upon the shore of Salt Lake, immediately west of Farmington. They have a capacity for making 3,000 pounds per day, but the intention of the proprietors is to add to the works as the custom will warrant. They have a man in charge who has had an experience of thirty-six years in this line in England, and is well qualified for the position.

The process of refining is far more elaborate than a person unacquainted with the business might imagine—even more so than that required in England, owing to the animalculæ found in the waters of the lake, which have to be extracted to make a pure article of salt.

The utmost care is taken to have everything about the works as clean as possible to prevent dust or other impurities getting into the salt, and the article produced is warranted to be equal in every respect to the very finest Liverpool salt, which is noted the world over for its purity. The price at which this can be sold is but a fraction of what the imported article has heretofore cost, as this can be supplied at the works for one and a half cents per pound. We most heartily wish the proprietors success in their new and laudable undertaking.

From the Northwestern States.—We had a visit this morning from Elder Lewis Anderson, of Fountain Green, who returned last evening from a mission to the Northwestern States, upon which he started on the 12th of April, 1884. He labored principally in Minnesota and Wisconsin States, in which he filled a mission ten years ago, but spent about two months of his absence in Illinois. He met with fair success and greatly enjoyed his labors until his health gave way a short time since; indeed, as it was, though released to return home because of his failing health, he felt loth to do so, for he was thoroughly interested in the work of proselyting and thought he saw openings for accomplishing considerable good in that line in the near future. The prospects are better for missionary work in that portion of Wisconsin in which he has lately labored than they have been heretofore, and he expects quite a number of new converts to be added to the Church there soon.

What is known as the Minnesota Conference includes that State and also Wisconsin, Dakota and Iowa, and there are now at least twenty Elders in that field, laboring zealously and energetically for the spread of the truth.

Elder Anderson baptized fifteen persons, and was present at the baptizing of some eight others, when his fellow-Elders officiated.

He reports the feeling of a great many of the people in the region where he has labored as considerably modified since the religious-judicial crusade was inaugurated in this Territory. The outrageous manner in which it has been carried on has had the effect of attracting the attention of thoughtful people to the Church and religion assailed, and of creating in their favor an interest and sympathy. Others, however, who are filled with hatred towards the Saints, appear to grow even more bitter in their feelings and gloat over the indignities which are being heaped upon them, and what they imagine to be a prospect of their early destruction.

He found invariably that where the DESERET NEWS reached the people a better understanding prevailed in regard to the situation here, and more liberality towards the Elders was manifested. He feels that the Saints here in Utah who have relatives or friends in that part ought to take more interest in the matter of subscribing for or mailing the News for their benefit; indeed, any others who feel interested in the spread of the truth might accomplish good also by mailing papers to the Elders who are laboring there. They will help to counteract the effect of the anti-"Mormon" stories with which the papers of that region teem.

Elder Anderson made many friends during his absence for whom he entertains warm feelings. He generally met with kind treatment, and though he was many times threatened with violence, such as tar and feathers, whipping, etc., and upon one occasion had stones hurled at him, he fortunately escaped injury.

Many of the inhabitants of that country are Scandinavians—principally from Sweden and Norway, and as a rule they are quite hospitable. They generally locate together and form thrifty, prosperous settlements.

Times are generally hard at present in that region, owing to lack of remunerative employment, markets for their products or failure of crops. In some parts of Wisconsin the crops are almost an entire failure, because of blight and the ravages of chinch-bugs. However, quite a number of those who have embraced the Gospel in that part of the world of late expect to raise sufficient by the sale of their property or by other means to emigrate this fall, and will probably come here in October.
