A JAIL BREAKER RE-CAPTURED.

Valuable Strike of Ore in Arizona—Peculiar incident in a Mine—Other Gems.

George Miller and Frank Courtney, two of the Indians who were at Salt Lake City, N.M., on Saturday night, have explored about sources miles south of that place.

The citizens of Ogallala, says the Endeavor (Ogallala), are congratulating themselves upon the successful operation of their new theater and the most capable in making the necessary repairs they may have had to make in order to keep the machinery going until another day.

Thomas Street and James Chapman, two miners, who have been working on the Right Fork mine, at Ogallala Creek, Okla., for several months past, have been arrested at Ogallala, by a deputy sheriff. They are charged with having committed a robbery.

Victims of Saturday morning. The men profited the rascals.

Bartley Clark, an old-timer and deputy sheriff, was shot and killed in a saloon at Ely, Nev., on Saturday morning. The assassins left the saloon right after the second shot, which was fired at the victim, and made off in a buggy. Clark, who had a quarrel with Clark, was arrested on suspicion, although there is no evidence against him. Clark was of a questionable disposition, it is said, and had many enemies.

George Newell is in the city from his (Gardiner) Montana. Mr. Newell has informed a reporter yesterday that an immense enterprise was about to be inaugurated on Snake River near the warm springs. Pennsylvania engineers, he says, are engaged in work to the purpose of generating electrical power. It is proposed to put in a plant and furnish electricity to operate the mines and mills at Belmont and Silver City and for other purposes.

In his annual report in the adjutant general of the United States Army, General W. A. Shambaugh, makes a most remarkable recommendation. He suggests that in the event of strike or other disturbance demanding the presence of the military a provision be made by which the United States military power could be called into the territory of the National Guard in the Territory. In this way it is pointed out that the well-being of frontiersmen between the National Guard and militia citizens may be assured.

In the Goldfield case, says the Carson (Nevada) Appeal, Nease was judged by a jury of nine. Justice Dyson, who presided over the trial, was the owner of Nease. Three of his daughters have been justice. Miss Mattox is ranked as the third string of them all, and there is no doubt that runs that she will return to that. She is eloquent, nervous and good skill, and Miss Mattox is said to have caused a good many ladies to attend.

The late Joseph Stewart, one of the best men, Owyhee, Colo., was one of the largest ranches in the state, says an exchange. It is situated on the east bank of the Colorado river, and extends from a point just west of town to the eastward, embracing miles of entire valley lands and reaching into the foothills for ten or twelve miles, most of the products known to farming life are grown there. The recent purchases of the Stewart Ranch, however, have been on the northern boundary, along the mountain side, 30,000 sheep grazing. The yearly wool output of the ranch is 275,000 pounds.

A valuable strike is reported to have been just made at Arthur Lake, formerly of Aspinwall, Colo. He has been here on business since June in the vicinity of the lake, and has found the bank very rich and red ore in the bottom fifteen inches wide that assays twenty-five to fifty square silver and three to four ounces gold. The wad drives them out, so they could not start a tunnel to come in under the shaft and struck the vein fifty feet from the shaft. This has been followed twenty-seven feet. The ore averages two to four pounds per cubic foot and assays one-half ounce gold and ten to fifteen carats silver to the ton, besides 20 per cent in lead.

A very peculiar and disastrous accident happened at the High Ore last evening, says the Butte (Mont.) Miner, and as a result operations in the workings will have to be suspended for a time. The accident was the seizure of an engine—the Crocker Jack engine, which passed as a sample of perfection in the machinery room at the Columbian Emporium to Chicago last year—and it took up terrible hold and split in two and fell into the mine shafts. His cage dropped into the shaft, and were followed by the wire cables. The shaft of the High Ore is about 1,200 feet deep, and about at the bottom, as an impetus, therefore, to complete
