UTAH'S BANNERS WAVE AT THE A-Y-P TODAY AT M'KEES ROCKS?

Governor Spry Presents Picturesque Building to Exposition Officials With Significant Ceremony—Cadets Making A Hit at the Fair-Choir Will Arrive Tomorrow.

(Special to the "News.") dets from Salt Lake, Governor William Spry of Utah and his staff, accompanied by several hundred Utah citizens, formed a pageant today at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition which has not been equalled by any of the states in their official "days" at the big fair. The picturesque Utah building, modeled afer the ancient Hopi Indian homes in the most remote corners of Utah, was formally presented to the officials of the exposition by Governor Spry in a speech at once characteristic of the west and of Utah in particular. The exercises were enlivened with patriotic strains from the cadet band. The exercises began at 11 o'clock and lasted until afternoon. Upon their arrival at the Utah building, the Utah party was welcomed in true western style by President Schalberg of the exposition | CADETS LIVING HIGH and other officials of the fair. It was

After the Utah day exercises at the Utah building, the courtesies were extended by the state of Washington, whereby the Washington building at the fair was turned over to the Utah people for a reception, which was attended by an immense crowd from other states and the entire Utah delegation. The members of the Utah party. several hundred in number, each appointed himself a committee on reception and taking absolute possession of the Washington building, as invited to do by the Washington officials, they extended a Utah welcome to all comers. Souvenirs in the form of medallions cast from pure Utah copper, bearing the state seal, the beehive and the legend, "Busy all the time in Utah," were distributed. There were 30,000 of these bronze pieces given away to the crowds who will surely treasure them as a reminder of one of the most successful at the big fair.

A striking feature of the Utah party at the fair is the battalion of cadets from the Sult Lake High school, under the actual command of Capt, William C. Webb, whow as an officer of the famous Utah batteries in the Philippines and is now a militia officer of prominence in his state. The cadets are a fine looking body of young men, well trained and soldierly in their bearing. They arrived here Monday morning and went at once to their camp on | Huriburt.

Portland, Or., Aug. 22.—At the sound of "Reveille" at 6:30 a. m. Sunday morning, every cadet was up and answered to rollcall, each in the best of health and spirits. After a hearty breakfast of bacon, eggs, potatoes, cantaloupes, bread, butter and coffee, the cadets went through the morning cleaning and inspection. At 11 a. m. an inspection of rifles and uniforms was made and they were highly praised by Capt. Webb, for their neatness and quick response to orders. CAUSE OF INVESTIGATION.

Today's investigation grows out of the complaint sworn to several days ago by Albert Vams, an Austrian of New York city, that President Frank Hoffstot of the Pressed Steel Car company and Samuel Cohen, labor organizer, had been gullty of peonage. The strike situation at McKees Rocks has now settled down to the quiet that prevailed several weeks before the Sunday night riots. It is generally conceded that from now on trouble, if any, will be of a minor character and rioting practically is out of the question.

It is further conceded even by sev-It is further conceded even by several of the strikers' executive committee that the idle workingmen have all but lost their cause as the Pressed Steel Car company is in daily operation now and is increasing the number of imported workingmen daily. A TENSE SITUATION.

Excitement was caused this afternoon by the blowing of the fire whistles at the Pressed Steel Car plant. Strikers started towards the mill. The situation was tense until it was learned that the brush on the hill near the plant was on fire, the constabiliary having ignited the brush in order to prevent the con-cealment of strike sympathizers, who have been shooting into the works from this point.

The committee, after further consideration of the 30 kilometer (18.63 miles) speed situation has decided to apply the penalty of one-twentieth of the elapsed time to every machine that failed to start or did not cover the distance Sunday or yesterday. The penalty for both days has been imposed on Glenn H. Curtiss, the American aviator. FAMILY IS VERY RETICENT

Arrived from Europe Yesterday-Will Take "After Cure" at His Estate on the Hudson,

Although a small army of reporters emained near to the great stone mansion, which is the nucleus of a $2,000,-000 estate, all night, the private electric lighting plant was shut down soon after 16 .o'clock and darkness in Mr. Harriman's suite of rooms indicated that the financier and railroad magnate had retired.

Harriman's buoyant spirits on his arrival from Europe yesterday and by his eagerness to talk with reporters and by his frankness.

Mr. Harriman would have talked with the newspaper men all the way from Jersey City to Arden in his private car had not his companions objected. Even on reaching his country estate he seemed eager to speak, and the lightness of his spirits had been diminished in no way by the fatigue of the journey from the ship.

The convalescence of the distinguished invalid is a matter of conjecture. He has decided definitely to remain at his estate here until he has fully recovered his normal strength, which he admits is now at the low ebb.

The magnificence of the 30 rooms which have been finished in the house, which will contain more than 100, did not impress Mr. Harriman as strongly as did his private inclined railway, which is the only means of reaching the house on the summit of the mounthe house on the summit of the mountain unless one attempts to make the long and tiresome journey by foot. After leaving the railroad station here, it is necessary to drive quite a distance before coming to the outer line of the Harriman estate. Then it is necessary to traverse nearly five miles of a private road belonging to Mr. Harriman and access to which is given only to those who are invited. Then comes the inclined railway, which is a large platform capable of carrying automobiles and horses and carriages up the steep mountain side. It is operated by a cable from an electric power house, which also provides the lighting for the estate and all the water

WHO GAVE THE ORDER STARTING WACHINES?

Mayor Did Not And Promises to Take Action-Chief Barlow Awaiting Advice-Saloonmen Say: "Somebody" Telephoned Them to Put Nickle Eaters to Work.

With the buzz of the nickle-in-theslot machines, which started in the saloons and cigar stands this morning; it s apparent that there is something in the persistent rumor that the "American" party bosses and the liquor interests have reached some kind of a settlement whereby the latter contribsettlement whereby the latter contrib-utes to the party's campaign fund and the saloonmen's vote. From what can be learned, it is probable that the other demands of the liquor interests have been granted, which amounts to a wide open town. When Mayor Bransford, who has been a stumbling block in the negotiations and has fought the "advisory" board of the "American" party and the saloonmen's committee, was informed that the slot machines were in operation this moraing, he said that it was the first that he had heard of it.

while he was mayor. C. J. Crabtree, Frank Sefrit and J. E. Darmer, who composed the "advisory" board which attempted to dictate to him, declared that they would settle the matter without his advice. Mayor Bransford told them to go ahead and intimated that he would make trouble for them.

The court decision that Chief Barlow referred to in his interview, was probably the one where it was held that a license could not be collected from a slot machine because it was a gambling device under the ordinance from a slot machine because it was a gambling device under the ordinance and therefore unlawful. After this decision was rendered the slot machines were closed in March last.

In connection with this decision there was about $800 involved which had been collected as licenses and held by the license collector, pending the decision of the case. City Attorney Harper J. Dininny was asked to give an opinion on what disposition should be made of the money after the case was decided.

on what apposition should be made of the money after the case was decided. He informed the license collector that it ought to be returned to the saloon-men from whom it was collected. It is common rumor that part of the money was never returned to the saloonmen who paid it in as a license. What was done with the money cannot What was done with the money cannot be found out from the books of the license collector.

In every saloon and cigar store in the city the same order was given but nobody will say who gave it. The saloonmen were busy for an hour this morning retting the machines out of the basement. The dust was wiped off and the machines were soon singing away. Cards were placed on the machines which said "Trade Machines. Only." This only drew attention to the machines. Before noon it was estimated that there were 300 slot machines in ed that there were 300 slot machines in

There seems to be some activity in the back rooms of saloons. These places are being cleaned out and white covered tables placed in them. It appears that card games will be run more openly in these places and without being molested by the police.

The saloonmen refuse to talk about the situation. They knew nothing alout the $3,000 in the bank which was collected for the "American" campaign fund. They were delighted, however, because the ban has been raised on slot machines. There is a fascination in machines There is a fascination in playing these machines which is easily cultivated. The machines increase the revenues considerably and the rake off for the saloonmen is estimated from 10

MAXWELL'S TROUBLES NOT ENDED WITH DEATH

Two Women Claiming Dead Bandit as Their Husband Both Claim Pawn Tickets.

Turmoil over the affairs of Charles L. Maxwell, alias Bliss, alias Seaman, better known as "Gunplay" Maxwell, the bandit and cattle rustler, who was shot "But," said he, "It is in my mind to open up new territory and to build new tributary lines. This means new settlements and more people."

Mr. Harriman said he had no immediate improvements in mind—at any and killed by Deputy Sheriff Edward Johnson in Price Monday afternoon, did not end with his death. Before the body was cold his two wifes, Mrs. Ada Maxwell and Mrs. Bessie Seaman, began to lay claim to the pawntickets which wer found on his body which call for about $1,000 worth of diamonds pawned by him in Ogden-

When the body arrived here this afternoon at the Eber Hall Undertaking parlors both women laid claim to the body. Sheriff F. C. Ketler accompanied the body here to see that it was properly taken care of and close up some of alfairs.

Atty. Sam King is representing Mrs. Ada Maxwell, who lives in Salt Lake and also his daughter, who lives at and also his daughter, who lives at Fort Douglas. The pawn tickets and the other effects of the dead man are still in Sheriff Ketler's hands.

Mrs. Seaman is also in the city to claim the pawn tickets. She declares that the diamonds belong to her. The amount loaned on the diamonds and iswelve amounts $428 and it is assigned.

amount loaned on the diamonds and jewelry amounts $428 and it is estimated that they are worth $1,000.

In view of the claims which have been made by both women Sheriff Ketler is holding the dead man's effects until something definite is done in the matter. The fight will probably be carried into the courts for a settlement. In the meantime the burst will ment. In the meantime the burial will be delayed until the right of the women to take charge of the affairs of Maxwell s decided.
