EASTERN DISPATCHES.

Ohio, Kansas, and Delaware Democratic Conventions—N Y Blacksmiths strike.

INDIANAPOLIS, 11.—The Democratic convention to-morrow promises to be the largest held here for many years. Hendricks, who positively declined yesterday, it is understood has now, at the urgent request of the liberal Republicans of Indiana and the Democrats, consented to accept the nomination for governor. The indications are that the convention will endorse the Cincinnati convention, and that none but Greeley Democrats will be elected to Baltimore, although there will be a strong opposition to it. The liberal Republicans held a meeting this morning and elected Geo. W. Julian as candidate for congress from the State at large.

WASHINGTON, 11.—A large number of prominent Democrats, representing Virginia, Texas, Indiana, New York, Illinois, Arkansas and Kentucky held a secret meeting last evening in the Ebbitt house, and resolved in the event of the Baltimore convention endorsing the Cincinnati nominees, that they would take steps to call another convention and put a Democratic ticket for President and vice-President in the field. They established their headquarters at Indianapolis, with Colonel Gray, chairman.

INDIANAPOLIS, 11.—The district delegations were in caucus to-night and elected delegates to Baltimore, all favoring Greeley and Brown. In the Terre Haute district caucus, a motion to substitute Voorhees for Dowling, as delegate from the State at large, was lost by a vote of 76 to 93. Geo. W. Julian said, in the Liberal Republican caucus to-day, that he would be glad if the Democrats would take him as one of their standard bearers.

TOPEKA, Kas., 11.—The Kansas State Democratic convention met here to-day and elected delegates to the Baltimore convention. Resolutions were adopted unanimously condemning the administration, urging the union of all opponents of corruption, endorsing the Cincinnati platform and nominees, and instructing the delegates to Baltimore to oppose a separate Democratic ticket and to vote unanimously for endorsing Greeley and Brown.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., 11.—The Conservative State central committee to-day appointed delegates to the Baltimore convention, a majority of whom are pledged to favor the acceptance of the Cincinnati nominees, but will abide the action of the convention.

DOVER, Del., 11.—The Democratic State convention met to-day and passed resolutions bitterly denouncing Grant, declaring the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments to the constitution a fraud on the American people, and calling for a straight Democratic ticket. Senator Bayard, ex-governor Saulsbury, and representatives Biggs and Winans were chosen delegates to Baltimore.

NEW YORK, 11.—The blacksmiths and wheelwrights, to the number of three hundred, struck for the eight-hour system to-day. Five employers have already acceded to their demands. Ten coachsmith shops have returned to the ten-hour system and have plenty of workmen.

A Washington special says the President, before leaving the city, told a prominent member of the senate foreign committee, that in his opinion the British ministry had no intention of allowing the treaty to fail.

WASHINGTON, 11.—Sickles telegraphs Fish that Spain will comply with our demand for the immediate release of Dr. Howard. Admiral Polo, minister at Washington, has given the State department a similar assurance.

BALTIMORE, 11. — Gen. David L. Stanton, ex-collector, is indicted for embezzlement of government funds, and bailed in $25,000.

MANCHESTER, N. H., 11.—Mrs. Daniel Wilford and Miss Annie Therier attempted to poison the husband of the former by administering oxalic acid with medicine. Neither deny the charge.

WESTERN DISPATCHES.

New Peaches and New Wheat—Fell Dead—Mining and Stocks.

SAN FRANCISCO, 11.—The first peaches of the season arrived from Marysville to-day. The first new wheat arrived yesterday.

Mrs. Wheelock, of Nevada City, arrived here last evening, en route for Healdsbery, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Robert West, and staid over night at the Cosmopolitan. This p.m. she started for the Petaluma boat, but, finding she had forgotten something, got out of the carriage and ran up stairs to fetch it, when she fell down in the hall and died instantly, of heart disease. She was about sixty years of age.

Since the smash up in stocks on the exchange, a large number of our citizens are making investigation into mining companies than for some time before. Brokers who have been accustomed to carry stocks for customers on 20 per cent. are without exceptions compelled to discontinue that branch of the business, owing to heavy losses by purchases made on orders from customers who did not come to time, and banks will not loan on stock at any figure, save on very exceptional cases.

Edith O'Gorman, the "escaped nun," is now in San Francisco.

EUROPEAN.

Style of Rowing—Alabama Claims in Parliament.

LONDON, 11.—The Times this morning says the Americans have not yet acquired the true style of rowing, and hopes they will learn it and then put English oarsmen to a severer test than yesterday.

In the commons Gladstone stated that in the present condition of the Alabama negotiations, the main point was the proposition made by Granville to the United States for a postponement of the Geneva board for eight months. Bernal Osborne considered Granville's proposition humiliating and undignified. Gladstone defended it as honorable to both parties. Disraeli strongly opposed the proposition for a postponement, particularly while a heated presidential contest was in progress in the United States, and believed the policy of the government would end in disastrous disgrace.

There was an angry debate in both houses of Parliament on Granville's proposition to adjourn the Geneva board of arbitrators, and a declaration by Earl Grey, in the Lords, that England ought to withdraw from the treaty unless the indirect claims were withdrawn, was received with loud cheers.

CANADA.

BROOKVILLE, Ont., 4.—The royal mail steamer was burned to the water's edge this afternoon, off Grenadier's Island. She had a full load of freight and about 100 passengers. All escaped except Mrs. Dr. Jones, of Montreal, who jumped overboard and was drowned. The loss of the steamer is $75,000; the cargo is a total loss.

Americans in Europe.

Year by year the Americans will learn better what is the true method of enjoying a European tour. Their wives and daughters will learn that a trip across the Atlantic can be made to yield higher delights than even a dress designed by Worth or the ability to buy silks at half price. Meanwhile the influence of European experience is becoming perceptible in the tone of American society and the current of American public opinion. The ignorance of a certain portion of the British public in regard to continental Europe found its counterpart until lately in the absurd notions entertained by the average American about all things European. Excellent as it is in most respects, the system of education adopted in the public schools of the United States, their methods of imparting historical and geographical information are hardly calculated to give the pupil a correct idea of the relative importance of the past and present nations of the world. The boys of the United States have grown up to be men, and very often, highly successful men, with very little more knowledge of the world outside of the Union than they got at school. To hundreds of Americans it has been a genuine surprise to find European cities better paved, better cleaned, better governed altogether than anything they had known at home. To find that the subjects of Queen Victoria were not apparently less free by reason of their subjection, and that people might live under a monarchy and speak their minds on public questions as freely as they would in New York, come unquestionably to many Americans in the light of a new revelation.—Scottish American Journal.

A Gorgeous Editor.

Mr. Whitelaw Reid, Mr. Greeley's young man, was in the city last week. He stopped at the Arlington Hotel, and attracted universal attention by the beauty of his person and the gorgeousness of his apparel. He wore a magnificent maroon colored velvet coat, a white satin vest, trimmed with ruffles and point lace, a blue necktie, an immense gold chain which went twice around his neck and fell gracefully over his snow-white shirt bosom, resplendant with three precious stones of enormous value, namely an emerald, a diamond cluster and a magnificent ruby. His pantaloons a delicate shade of ashes of roses—were cut in the latest Parisian style, and strapped tightly over patent leather shoes, stitched with yellow silk thread. He wore a white silk hat—a compliment to his distinguished chief—gloves made to match his pantaloons, and a slender cane with a handle of ivory and gold. Mr. Reid was the observed of all observers on the avenue; thousands of admiring eyes followed him wherever he went. He made an immense sensation at the Capitol. Doors flew open at his approach, and the crowds of lobbyists, Congressmen and other vulgar people who lounge around the halls and corridors instinctively made way for him as he approached. Wherever he passed the air was filled with a sweet fragrance and perfume; an angelic smile played around his classic mouth, disclosing a set of pearly teeth; his hair was dressed a la Pompadour, frizzed at the sides and curled and parted behind. Washington has rarely seen so much loveliness and beauty and perfection as Mr. Reid in his person and attire exhibited last week.—Washington Republican.

Is this Sporting.

A good many men who have never joined Bergh and Angell' Society for the Prevention of the Cruelty of Stewing Live Oysters, and otherwise torturing Helpless Beasts, will, nevertheless, very earnestly denounce the folly and brutality whereof Dexter Park was witness yesterday. For one or two thousand men to assemble and stand together all day for the purpose of witnessing the endurance of a boy trying to ride two hundred miles in twelve hours on horseback; for them to see him thrown repeatedly, to become twice unconscious, and finally, after killing a horse to be carried away unsuccessful, blind in one eye, his arm cut, his face distorted with pain, "covered with bruises from head to foot," and his side half flayed where a horse had fallen on him; for them to enjoy all this, and win and loose bets on it in Chicago, where so much good work waits impatiently to be done, seems like a reversion to barbarism. On the whole we are glad Chan Ridicker failed in his "great feat" yesterday. We approve of all manly sports, which tend to make the human frame more strong or more supple, or to exhibit its marvelous flexibility and power. The amateur athlete is a person to be encouraged. Even in his excesses he is more tolerable than the average "sport." Even Blondin, dancing upon a spider's web over Niagara, with another fool upon his back cooking pancakes at a portable cooking stove, is a less sorry spectacle than a crowd of able-bodied loafers gambling over the endurance of tired out horses, and the agony of a foolish boy.—Chicago Post, May 29.

So much is said, and so little understood respecting the size of nails, that the following statement, giving the length in inches for each number from 3 penny to 20 penny, will be information to many readers; 3-penny, 1 inch; 4-penny, 1½ inches; 5-penny, 1¾ inches; 6 penny, 2 inches; 7-penny, 2¼ inches; 8-penny, 2½ inches; 10-penny, 2¾ inches; 12-penny, 3 inches; 20-penny, 3½ inches. —Ex.
