its fierce rays, a fact that has, as it always does, in summer time, reduced to a minimum, the social galety that both precedes and follows this season of the year. Nevertheless there have been some functions of note. The Daly lawn party in honor of Miss Donnellan will rank high among the largest affairs of the year. Then the card parties by rs. D. R. Gray and Mrs. Clasbe were more than ordinarily pretentious, while several fine luncheons were given in honor of visiting guests. From this time on to the end of the heated term. society will seek rest in mountain glens and lake resorts preparatory to entering upon a season that promises to be a notable one for the number and elaborateness of its social festivities, as it is known that some very big affairs have already been outlined.

This afternoon at the Country club tea was served at 4 o'clock, Mrs. David Keith and Mrs. J. X. Ferguson being the hostesses. During the afternoon music was played. This is the last tea until after the middle of August.

Yesterday at the Country club luncheon was served from 12:30 to 2:30.

The society known as the M. M. S. O. U. spent a very pleasant afternoon at the home of Miss Marie Thomas Thurs-day, July 23. This being the first meetany, July 23. This being the arst meet-ing of the season, much time was giv-en to the business of the society, part of which was the initiation of two new members. A dainty luncheon was serv-ed at 4. The colors of the society, pink and white, were used in the decora-tions the flowers being used in the decorations, the flowers being sweet peas and roses. An hour of social chat and needlework was enjoyed before time to adjourn. The society will hold its next meeting at the home of Miss Nellie One of the most brilliant social events of the season was the lawn party given to Miss Edna Donnellan by Mr. and Mrs. John J. Daly, Wednesday evening, Mrs. John J. Daly, Wednesday evening. The decorations were elaborate to the fast detail. A long screen of burlap in-closed the grounds and over the on-trance was a large arch of red, white and blue electric lights. Above the entrance to the hall were many Ameri-can flags and a large "D," in lights of yied, white and blue. The dancing floor was placed at the west side of the house having as an effective back-ground the beautifully ternaced lawn. Behind a screen of green balze and pink Behind a screen of green baize and pink oleanders sat the musicians. Above the center of the floor was an immense the center of the hoot was an insteaded star of lights from which extended numerous strings of vari-colored globes. The veranda at the southeast of the home was made most attractive by handsome rugs, couches and divans with large palms as a decoration. The interior of the home, loo, was very beautifully decorated, the hall, which was done in palms and green plants with plumesa and smilax interwoven from the top of the bannisters to the bottom, was most effective. In the drawing rooms white sweet peas and while the library was decorated with bright red carnations, maroon sweet peas with plumosa and smilax.
