WAR CLOUDS.

By reference to our telegraphic dispatches in another column it will be seen that there is a prospect of an "unpleasantness" arising between France and Prussia. Late dispatches upon the same subject have shown that France is excited at the probability of the Prince of Hohenzollern being elected to the vacant throne of Spain. This excitement has at last culminated in a demand on the part of France for the complete abandonment of the Hohenzollern project; and it is intimated by the Moniteur, the leading journal of Paris, that even this will not be deemed enough now: Prussia must give pledge that she will not seek to aggrandize herself or to extend her influence, and that no combination will be maintained between Spain and Prussia with a view to filling the Spanish throne with a Prussian Prince. Whether Prussia will give these pledges is somewhat questionable. That power has not manifested a very meek disposition of late years, the overwhelming defeat which Austria received from her hands having had a tendency to make her arrogant. Neither is Bismarck the man to endure menaces quietly, unless he perceives the odds against Prussia are too great. Should war break out, however, the latter power will find in France a very different foe to contend with from Austria or Denmark.

The allusions made to the Schleswig-Holstein question are significant at present. The convention of Gastein, on the strength of which Austria assumed the administration of Holstein, and Prussia the administration of Schleswig, did not suit England and France, both powers having expressed, in diplomatic notes, their dissatisfaction with the arrangement. If Prussia were justified in seizing upon Schleswig-Holstein for the reasons set forth at the opening of the war with Denmark, then France has grounds upon which to base a claim to the provinces of the Rhine. She cannot forget that by traditions, language and religion these people are dear to her. There is sympathy between them; and when it is said that if Prussia does not break silence by to-day that French troops will be on the march to the Rhine tomorrow, there is deep significance in the threat. We shall await, with great interest, further developments in that quarter.

THE OGDEN MEETING.

According to previous appointment, a special train left this city at 8 a.m. on Saturday, the 9th inst., to convey President B. Young and party to Ogden, where an appointment had been made for meetings to be held on Saturday and Sunday. The party consisted of Presidents B. Young, Geo. A. Smith and Daniel H. Wells, of the Presidency; Elders John Taylor, George Q. Cannon, B. Young, Jun., and Joseph F. Smith, of the Twelve Apostles; and Elders Jos. A. Young, R. T. Burton, I. Groo, J. Clinton, S. W. Richards, D. B. Huntington, T. T. Taylor, David O. Calder, John R. Winder, H. C. Jacobs, L. S. Hills, B. Y. Hampton, Charles Livingston and O. P. Arnold. The advantage of railroad communication was never more fully illustrated than on this trip. Formerly a journey to Ogden consumed a day. Animals arrived there dusty and toiled. On Saturday, within one hour and a half after leaving this city, the elders stepped out of the cars ready for meeting; and President Young, who had taken up his carriage and horses on the train, drove up to the Tabernacle at Ogden at ten minutes past ten; having made the quickest trip, as it was humorously said, from Salt Lake City to Ogden, behind horses, ever made.

The morning was occupied by Presidents George A. Smith, B. Young, D. H. Wells and Elder Geo. Q. Cannon; the afternoon by Elders John Taylor, Joseph F. Smith and Lorenzo Snow; the latter had come from Brigham City to attend the meetings. Yesterday Elder W. Woodruff, A. M. Musser and D. W. Evans joined the party. The forenoon meeting was addressed by President B. Young, Elder B. Young Jr., and President Geo. A. Smith; in the afternoon President D. H. Wells, Elders John Taylor and W. Woodruff and President B. Young addressed the meeting. An epitome of these discourses would not do them the justice which they deserve. We have full reports which will be published in extenso as soon as we have space. The addresses were replete with instruction and very spirited; they cannot fail, we think, to be of great benefit to those who listened to them. At 6 p.m. the party returned to the city in the special train which had been provided by Superintendent Joseph A. Young. We heard but one expression respecting the visit and the meetings, that, altogether, it was one of the most pleasant preaching excursions any of the Elders ever shared in—the beautiful weather, the ease and comfort of the journey, the excellence of the meetings and the hospitality of the friends with whom the members of the party stopped, all contributed to make the visit one of delightful interest.

SABBATH MEETINGS.—Yesterday morning, Elders Carrington and Raleigh addressed the congregation; in the afternoon, a highly interesting discourse was delivered by Elder Orson Pratt.

[SPECIAL TO THE DESERET NEWS.]

By Telegraph. AFTERNOON DISPATCHES. CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

The Coolie trade to be inquired into.

Sumner presented a petition from Cyrus W. Field, setting forth his desire to furnish cheap and increased facilities for telegraphic communication throughout the United States and the West India, and, to this end, asking authority to lay a cable from Florida to Cuba, and the repeal of the international telegraph companies' exclusive privilege to have a cable between those shores; referred to the committee on foreign relations.

Morrill, of Mo., from the conference committee on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, made a report, which was adopted. In reply to a specific inquiry he explained that the Senate amendment for the extension of the capitol grounds and a new State Department building were struck out, and an appropriation of a hundred thousand for the North Pole expedition was reduced half. Upon the general proposition for an increase of official salaries the Senate had receded, consequently there was no increase in the salaries of the Judges.

WASHINGTON, 9.—Stewart offered a resolution requesting the President to cause the act of February 19th, 1862, "to prohibit the coolie trade," to be strictly enforced, and for that purpose to instruct the proper civil officers of the United States to prosecute for all violations of said act, and directing an investigation as to whether Chinese coolies are being transported to the United States in violation of that law. Trumbull and Cameron objected to the resolution as an imputation upon the President that he did not perform his duty. The resolution was tabled, but was subsequently adopted and modified so as to provide for a simple inquiry as to whether the alleged Chinese importations were in violation of the law.

On motion of Sumner, the bill for a pension to Mrs. Lincoln was taken up, yeas 30, nays 21, and after discussion a vote was taken on tabling the bill, which was regarded as a test, resulting in yeas 24, nays 33. The bill was laid aside informally.

The civil and miscellaneous bill was reported from the committee on appropriations. The army appropriation bill was taken up, and the amendment of the committee on appropriations, diminishing the amount for pay to the army to seven hundred and seven thousand dollars was withdrawn.

The army bill, recently laid on the table, after several modifications, was adopted and the bill, as amended, passed.

The bill amendatory of the bankrupt act, to extend the operations of a part of the law to brokers, manufacturers and miners, passed.

The Senate then went into executive session.

In the evening session the bill for establishing a steamship line between San Francisco and Australia was considered. Cole advocated the measure at length, urging its commercial importance. The amendments by the committee of commerce were agreed to, but without further action the Senate adjourned.

In executive session Davis was confirmed Attorney-General of New York, vice Judge Pierpont; R. S. Green, Associate Justice of the Superior Court of Washington Territory; Farnsworth, of California, consul at Tangiers; J. C. Bennett, consul at Chihuahua; T. M. Farmer, receiver of public monies at Olympia, Washington Territory.

HOUSE.

Coke offered the following resolutions, which were referred to the committee on education and labor: Whereas, since the emancipation of the American slave and the elevation of our humbled laborer to the full rights of citizenship, unscrupulous speculators in human flesh have demonstrated the practicability of fastening slavery upon the nation in another form; and whereas, to take a step backward is contrary to honor and a healthy public policy and does not tend to better the condition of the people and of the government; and whereas the United States of America have ceased to be the home of the slave or the field in which the slave driver may pursue his trade with impunity; and whereas danger may be anticipated from the organized emigration of bands of Chinamen, therefore resolved that the white people of the whole world are invited to come as voluntary freemen to share with us the protection of our lands, and our free institutions, and the wonderful advantages of our land; and it is the wish of the age to bring them here in bonds for a term of years or even months, and that this traffic in bondsmen is degrading to labor and will not be tolerated by freemen, and must be checked in its inception by prompt action on the part of the representatives of the people. And be it further resolved that the committee on education and labor are hereby instructed to investigate the subject, including the contract or coolie system, and to report a bill, as soon as practicable, prohibiting the introduction of bondsmen from China or elsewhere, and providing for the protection of those who seek and are in quest of free homes, and who will, as speedily as possible, adopt the manners, habits and customs of our people; and making it a criminal offense to be a party, direct or indirect, to any project tending to perpetuate the barbarism of slavery.

In considering the Senate amendments to the tax bill the following were concurred in: the one limiting the allowance for rent to $500; reducing the tax on steel railway bars from 1 1/2 to 1 1/4 cents per pound; the one reducing the duty on live animals from thirty to twenty per cent., and allowing their importation free for competition in exhibition; putting on the free list household goods of families returning or emigrating from foreign countries, not exceeding 500 dollars; allowing the putting up of tobacco in metallic packages and its transportation from any port of delivery to other ports of entry, in bond. The following amendments were non-concurred in: the one striking out the paragraphs in relation to nickel, albeta, German silver and mixed metals; reducing the duty on smoking opium from ten to six dollars per pound. Negley introduced a bill to encourage the establishment of a line of steamships for the conveyance of U. S. mails to the ports of Europe, India and China, and for the promotion of immigration from Europe to the Southern States; referred to the committee on commerce.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Insurrection Declared.

RALPHIGH.—Gov. Holden has declared Caswell county in a state of insurrection, and a proclamation, published this morning, sets forth the reason for doing so, which is the commission of various outrages.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, 9.—One of the buildings belonging to the California powder works was blown to pieces to-day, and one white man killed and two seriously wounded.

WYOMING.

Fears for the Big Horn Expedition.

LARAMIE.—The Sentinel has informed us that but little is known of the Big Horn party since it left Camp Brown and struck out into the wilderness, further than that they were beyond the reach of the hearing of friends and among intensely hostile Indians, and the Judge expressed the belief that not one of them would ever get back alive. Judge Jones would not express such an opinion if there were not the strongest grounds for the worst of fears.

FOREIGN NEWS.

ITALY.

The press back France. FLORENCE.—The press of Italy, official and national, back France.

AUSTRIA.

Imporing Spain to reflect. VIENNA.—The semi-official Presse has an article imporing Spain to reflect before precipitating war.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Raid on betting houses, etc. LONDON.—Late last evening the police made a raid on the betting houses in New Market, and several of the inmates were arrested.

Queen Victoria reviewed the troops at Dershot to-day.

Reed, who recently resigned his position in the navy as naval constructor, has become a partner in the Whitworth Rifle Manufactory.

FRANCE.

Activity at the Ports.—Every preparation for war.

PARIS, 1.30 p.m.—The excitement on the street is increasing. The Bourse is much excited, rentes declining, the last sales being at 89 francs 50 centimes, or 87 centimes lower than anything during the crisis. There is great activity in Boulogne, and other ports on the Mediterranean. A large number of transports are being fitted up, enough to bring home the entire French army in Algeria.

Circulars have been issued recalling to their commands all the officers and soldiers absent on furloughs. Large quantities of powder and war stores are being transported to strongholds on the eastern frontier. The government authorities of France have in their possession plans of all the fortresses, roads and canals of the Prussian government, and they have taken measures to put the Garde Nationale and the Garde Mobile on a war footing. Agents of the French government are now in Hungary purchasing horses for cavalry. The Bourse is still excited, but closes a shade firmer, rentes being 89 francs 52 centimes.

PARIS, 6 p.m., 9.—The Prussian answer to France, on the subject of the Spanish throne, has been received, and contains the following points:

First: Disclaiming all participation in the candidature of Hohenzollern; second, that the prince is not even a relative of the Prussian royal family; third, that the prince is not in Hungary, and he must be responsible, not Prussia. It is believed the answer is unsatisfactory.

Eight p.m.—The second division of the army of Paris has been ordered to Chalons.

Ten p.m.—The Duke de Grammont announces that the French minister at Berlin informs the home government that he had an interview this afternoon with King William, the result of which was that he was known to the Chambers on Monday.

The Moniteur, this evening, says the abandonment of the Hohenzollern project by Prussia is not enough now. France must prevent a recommencement of similar projects, and will demand the entire fulfillment of the treaty of Prague, namely the liberty of the South German, the evacuation of the fortress of Mayence, the renunciation of military influence beyond Mayence, and the settlement of the Schleswig-Holstein question with Denmark.

General Palikas, commander of the fourth army corps, arrived to-day to witness the marriage of his son, but was ordered to return to Lyons, and not to leave his post.

Eleven p.m.—The officers of the French Mediterranean squadron have been ordered to be in the Bay of Palermo on Sunday, to receive instructions.

The Journal Officiel, this evening, says if the silence of Prussia continues till Monday French troops will be ordered to the Rhine on Tuesday.

The Patrie says the declaration of Grammont has produced a sensation in Denmark.

At a meeting of the diplomatic corps last evening Grammont said France would abandon her legitimate pretensions and he hoped the collective efforts of the Great Powers of Europe would preserve peace, but France had decided not to depart from the line of conduct traced out at first.

A general strike among the operators at Mulhouse, near Strasburg, occurred to-day. It is reported that the strikers number 60,000. Troops will be sent there.

TOULON 9.—Six war ships are here, receiving their armament and fitting up for immediate service. The furloughed sailors have been recalled and ordered to be ready for duty.
