GUARDING AGAINST SPIES AT NAU-LELAND

W. J. Frost of Coal Valley, Kan. Writes to San Francisco: Treasurer Wilkes a Defector. Miscellaneous.

Gen. Col. William F. Randolph of the Third artillery, regiment left San Francisco Friday night on the steamer cable. He has been assigned to the command of the light artillery in the federal camp in recognition of distinguished services.

It has been decided to remove Edward Bellamy, the author, who is the head of a conspiracy at Denver, to his home in Chicago, Pa. He is to be accompanied on his journey by his family and his mother, C. J. and J. J. Bellamy. The party started last Friday evening.

Two Dallas, Texas, riding on a train going east from Grand Junction, Colo., were held up by a third party riding from the city Friday morning. The hold-up demanded their money. One was shot in the leg and arm and the other received a bad wound over the eye. The desperado escaped.

Delayed passengers have been taken at Nau-Leand, Cal., in great numbers. Some express government employees may enter the navy yard without a pass and this will be looked out for persons having business at the yard. An attempt to visit without a pass will be followed by arrest.

An explosion of giant powder at the Oak Hill quicklime mine, thirty miles from Napa, Cal., Wednesday, resulted in the death of two Chinese and probably a third. Several others were badly hurt. The explosion occurred at 2:30 o'clock in the morning. The Chinese employed in the mine live in little shacks near the works. Although it is contrary to the rules of the company, a box of giant powder was placed in one of the shacks by some of the Chinese. One of the occupants of the cabin was burning punk to smoke out the devil when the building caught fire. The explosion immediately destroyed, possibly because he knew there was giant powder in the place.

The Chicago Sun-Leader says that Wednesday a train composed of gravel cars got started at Sherman, and the city broke proving ineffectual. It soon became evident to Conductor Duffy and his brakemen that the train was running away. Three times were to be made at the three first stations, and the trainmen but six miles to the train in the broken-down train. The Chicago Sun-Leader says that the train was running away. Young Augustus C. Withers, the trained and respected treasurer of San Francisco, Cal., and the son of a prominent and official whose name was synonymous with probity, stands today a thief and a defaulter. The treasurer of Withers's crime was made public late Wednesday afternoon. Soon after dark he was arrested at Walnut creek. When confronted at the new city hall with the proofs of his guilt he admitted that he had stolen $10,000 of the city's funds, and declared that he and his wife would flee. The investigation will show that a wife's name is not a woman's name.

It is reported that a man named John Smith, who was a member of the San Francisco Police Department, has been found guilty of stealing $10,000 from the city's funds.
