EDITORIAL NOTES.

A Philadelphia clergyman preached on the text, "Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God," and illustrated it with, "We pray to the Lord to give us health, and tempt Him with filthy streets, sewer gas and bad water."

The Chilians are at length preparing to evacuate the northern portion of Peru. They have left nothing there worth taking or destroying, and they leave more for their own good than for any good their departure may be to the crushed Peruvians.

Dr. Felix Oswald says that the dyspeptic who intends to be cured has to make up his mind that recovery cannot be hoped for till he has not only discontinued drugs, but expelled the burden of sin which the stimulant outrage has added to the cause of the disease.

Postmaster General Gresham announces his intention of starting postmasters generally by instructing them of their duty to send newspapers through the mails as promptly as they do letters. The Postmaster General has a square head. The newspapers prepay their postage and the obligation to carry them straight through to their destination is as binding as on any other class of mail matter.

A study of the religion of the Tlank Indians of Arizona has been made by the Rev. E. Hall Young, who says that it resembles so much that of Christians that their conversion is quite easy. They believe in God who is a trinity in his attributes. He is, first, a universal punisher of evil and a rewarder of good; second, a holy spirit of benevolence, to whom they pray for blessing; and, third, a mediator in the various forms of lesser divinity. But many of the elaborations of that religion are savage and grotesque.

According to the Berlin press, the moral situation of the German capital is deplorable. Murders, suicides and accidents of all descriptions have pestered the great city during the month of May and the first half of June. On the 26th inst. only, 81 corpses were delivered at the amphitheatre or at the morgue. Among them were two cases of infanticide, five women, and three men who had poisoned themselves, three women, seven men and a boy drowned, and thirty-three persons who had lost their lives through unknown causes.

The Chicago News truly says: "There is apparently no diminution in the number of crimes committed daily in this country, nor is there the slightest improvement in their character. Whiskey, passion, lust and the pistol are doing their worst. The black belt is still in the land as the great organizer and promoter of crime and bloodshed. Nineteen of all the murders, stabbing affairs, brutal assaults, wife killings, rapes, and suicides reported in the daily papers are chargeable directly or indirectly to the influence of King Alcohol."

The efforts of the Brazilian government to attract immigrants to Brazil, have not been well rewarded. It spends upwards of two hundred thousand dollars a year in this way; but while 1,100,000 people came to the United States in 1880, only 40,733 entered the empire of Dom Pedro, and the most of these came from Italy and Portugal. Two reasons are given for this result. One is the fact that a large proportion of Brazil's vast territory is practically inaccessible, and the other that while the immigrant is fed and lodged at the government boarding house at Rio Janeiro after he lands, while he is given free transportation to the government lands, and a few seeds and tools, and is for six months allowed twenty cents a day for each adult in his family and ten cents for each child, he nevertheless gets very little land, and, besides being remote and very often impracticable to develop, the land is high priced; for he is allowed only eight acres, for which he must pay down sixteen dollars an acre, or else $16.30 an acre in installments covering six years.

A SHORT-SIGHTED POLICY.

The condition of affairs in Salem, Utah County, as described by our correspondent "Factibus," in another part of this paper, is evidence that the land-owners of that little town are very short-sighted. They appear to be governed by selfishness, unguided by even worldly wisdom. The general welfare should be sought by all persons pretending to brotherhood and having interests with the community that are mutual. In seeking the common good, each member receives personal benefit. A property-owner who is public-spirited, increases the value of what he owns in every successful effort to build up and improve the place in which he resides.

It looks to us that the Salemites who will not encourage additions to their numbers are injuring themselves as well as preventing new-comers from acquiring homes. Their course is wrong because it is ungenerous and indifferent to the needs of others, and foolish because it prevents the proper growth and improvement of their town and thus keeps their own real estate depreciated. In a community like ours, receiving additions to its numbers from abroad, people too, of our own faith, seeking similar opportunities to those of which we have had the advantage, everything that can be done ought to be done, in reason, to assist them to obtain homes and become self-sustaining. By disposing of those surplus town lots to persons who have none, the present owners will certainly profit materially and will be performing a duty which comes within the golden rule.

We understand that the close and selfish policy pointed out by "Factibus" is not endorsed by Bishop C. D. Evans, but on the contrary he has advised the division and selling of surplus lots, so that the population may be increased, the town be built up and prosperity and progress mark the future history of Salem. We are, we think, generous to others and at the same time kind to ourselves.

AN UN-CHRISTIAN REQUIREMENT.

A BAPTIST missionary by the name of Ashmore, has made some progress at Swatow, in China, but has run against a snag in the shape of plural family relations. A man and his two wives received Christianity after the form of the Baptist faith, and desired to enter the Church. Ashmore insisted that the second wife must be discarded. The first wife had no children; the second had several. The mother appealed piteously to the missionary to be allowed with her children to remain with her husband. She claimed that she was lawfully married according to Chinese and customs of her country, and that she ought not to be robbed of husband, home and her good name and put in the position of a disreputable woman. The pretended disciple of our Lord was inexorable.

This case coming under the notice of an American Presbyterian missionary, he wrote on the subject to the Chinese Recorder, and contended that there was no reason or scripture for the forcing of a heathen convert who had several wives to put all but one away. He said:

"It would require a very clear command on the subject to justify any missionary saying to a man who is in the very same circumstances that Abraham was in when Hagar was his concubine, 'You must send away the mother of your children; you must turn her out of her home; you must make her children illegitimate; you must make the woman who has been your wife a disreputable woman before I can baptize you.' I unhesitatingly say the Lord has given no such command."

The Presbyterian missionary is in the right. Our Lord never gave any command that could be construed against plural family relations, but did give a command that may be reasonably construed in their favor. He declared against divorce. He forbade the putting away of wives. And this too among a community of practical polygamists. They were under the dominion of Rome and were becoming influenced by Roman customs, which were strictly monogamous, but he did not tell those who had more wives than one to divorce them; on the contrary he declared that "God hateth putting away."

The subject of the disposition of plural wives among heathen converts was discussed in 1881 by the representatives of a number of American and English Missionary societies in Calcutta, and it was proven that the early Apostles did not teach the doctrine of such separation; it was then decided that polygamists should be allowed to retain their wives after conversion. The truth is, that no "Christian" preacher or scholar can produce anything from the scriptures on which the various founders of Christendom profess to be founded, that in any way speaks against a man having more wives than one; and the source of enforced monogamy is not Christian, is not Jewish, is not Biblical, is not religious at all; it is Roman, heathenish, tyrannical, and against the teachings and practices of the holy men of old who are looked up to as exemplars of piety, and as opposed to the permission and direct mandates of the Almighty God Himself.

THE CONCERT.

A large audience attended the concert in the Theatre last night for the benefit of Bro. O. R. Savage. It was a splendid entertainment. Everything presented was good. There was not a hitch or a discord. The orchestral music was choice and rendered in a manner to please every listener. Mr. Weihe's solo on the violin evoked enthusiastic applause and showed wonderful talent. Miss Agnes Olsen's rich voice was in good condition and her songs in English and Norwegian delighted the audience. Great applause greeted the appearance of Mrs. Geo. Careless, and her charming voice showed no deterioration in compass, volume or tone, and a rapturous encore, which was responded to, gave the audience a double treat. Mr. James T. Dunbar proved to have a voice of great sweetness and musical resonance, and his song was thoroughly enjoyed. Mrs. Laura N. Smith, Mrs. Helen Whitney, Mrs. Maggie Hull and Mrs. Sarah E. Langford received a well deserved encore in their beautiful glee, as did Messrs. Whitney and Spencer in their trio with Miss Agnes Olsen. Mr. Evan Stephens did his part well to entertain the audience, also Messrs. McAllister, Gardner, Owen and Morgan. The pieces rendered by the choir gave great satisfaction, and the programme, which was fully given, with many encores, was judiciously selected, and the whole entertainment was of a character that the musical public could but appreciate. The accompaniment on the Weber piano by Prof. J. J. Daynes, was everything that could be desired, and Prof. Beeley performed the part of Conductor in his usual modest, but thorough and efficient manner. We are pleased to say that the affair was successful financially as well as artistically, and its promoters deserve due credit. We hope the benefactors will soon recover from the disaster which has temporarily obstructed his business, and that "ye gentle Savage" will soon be in such a position as not to need, while he will always deserve the kindly help of his many musical friends.

The Concert.—It has been decided to admit Sunday School children under 14 years of age, in charge of teachers, to the seats in the gallery of the Tabernacle, to both morning and afternoon concerts for 10 cents. Officers of the Sunday Schools and those interested in the matter, are desired to wake up an interest among the people that the gallery may be filled with children.

We regret very much to learn that Brother Lorenzo Richards, son of Hon. F. D. Richards, is suffering from a very severe attack of sciatica, confining him to his room. The talented last night netted, in round figures, $500 for Mr. Savage. It was a delightful entertainment.

A New Railroad Line. A meeting of representatives of the Grand Central, Wabash, and Lackawanna roads has been held here to make arrangements for a new through line between Chicago and Salt Lake City. The new line is formed of the Lackawanna from New York to Buffalo, Grand Trunk from Buffalo to Detroit, the Wabash from Detroit to Auburn Junction, from which point the track of the Baltimore and Ohio will be used to Chicago. The new line is 814 miles between New York and Chicago. The line will run to New York, Boston, Philadelphia and other eastern points reached by connecting lines. The Great Eastern fast freight line, will be operated over the new route. President Sloan, of the Lackawanna, was here yesterday in consultation with officials of the various roads.

FORBIDDEN. ALEXANDRIA, 14.—Thirty eight deaths from cholera occurred at Damietta yesterday, 37 at Mansurah, and 15 at Samamoud. Since the outbreak of cholera at Mansurah 11 men and officers attached to the troops forming the cordon around that place have died from the disease. The colonel and his staff took alarm at these deaths and fled. The colonel has been arrested and replaced by a British officer.

VIENNA, 14.—Considerable alarm was caused here by reports that cholera had appeared among the Austrians troops. The reports originated from a breakdown of new cases of dysentery.

There are now more than seven hundred miles of underground telegraph lines in France, and 1,800 miles more are being laid.
