BRIGHAM YOUNG,
EDITORIAL AND PUBLICATION.

EDITORIAL NOTES.
The Woman's Era of March 1st is an excellent number. The paper grows in interest and is worthy of the patronage of the ladies of Utah and other places.

The peace conditions assigned, and the Russians keep up the number of the object of the war, by claiming that the freedom of the Christians from the Moslem rule was accomplished on the anniversary of the liberation of the serfs from Russian bondage. Turkish domination is, at the same time, far more liberal and just than Moscovite government.

The telephone is now working successfully between points 133 miles distant. It is used by the English Houses of Parliament, Great Britain and France are in telephonic communication. In both hemispheres it is utilized by railroads, gas, elevator and other companies, and in large cities, business offices and doctors' establishments are connected with private dwellings, drug stores, etc. And in large factories it is found a most useful means of swift communication. Utah's enterprising business firms, mining and manufacturing companies, etc., can secure its benefits and we refer them to Mr. Mower's notice in another column.

The New Hampshire Centennial of February 21st contains an interesting account of a centennial gathering at Greenfield, near Portsmouth, on the 15th ult., when Mrs. Elizabeth Weston reached her hundredth anniversary. One hundred relatives met to congratulate the old lady, who spent the early morning in a buggy ride, which she greatly enjoyed without fatigue. She said, in answer to a question as to her ability to attend to her household duties, "I bless your soul, I have washed my dishes this morning; I wash the dishes and make my bed every morning and I have killed two or three pairs of stockings this winter." She has an excellent memory and repeated nearly all of the 1000 names containing twenty-five names. A number of speeches were made by different members of the party, and Mr. Samuel W. Woodard, eighty years old, read a paper on his own composition. Mrs. Weston is a relative by marriage of Bishop L. W. Hardy of this city, who also comes from a family noted for longevity. His grandfather lived to the age of 121 years and when a hundred years old had a new set of teeth grown, which she said gave her more pain than anything she had endured all her life. She says the Bishop, who saw her when 101 years of age. We notice the above at his request. He is accompanied with nearly every person who attended the centennial gathering.

The March-April number of the North American Review contains a symposium on "The Doctrine of Eternal Punishment." It is signed and closed by Dr. Noah Porter, President of Yale College, and the other contributors are, Rev. C. B. Farnham, Thos. S. Frost, V. G. Henry W. Bellows, D. D. Wm. R. Williams, D. D., and T. J. Sawyer, D. D. The subject is treated with uprightness and exactness, being viewed in regard to the moral nature of man and the moral administration of God, and the relation of the teachings of the Scriptures. These eminent "divines" all write from a different denominational standpoint, and it is interesting to note the variety of their views and the ingenuity of their arguments. They leave the matter, however, just where they found it, but convey many thoughts calculated to assist in forming rational conclusions. Besides the articles referred to, the Review contains The Army of the United States; English and American Unions; The Valley Campaign; The Fifth Struggle of the Republic; The Position of the Jews in America; the Alliance of the South and West; and Contemporary Literature, all by very able writers. Published by D. Appleton & Co., 23 Broadway, New York, and can be obtained here at Dwyer's.

FALSEHOOD, OR IGNORANCE?
There are certain influential newspapers which, when touched upon Utah questions, seem to be afflicted with a profound ignorance, or an utter obliviousness to the obligations of truth, which is truly astonishing. Why they should publish such palpable falsehoods, whether from wilful wickedness or dense stupidity is an unexplainable mystery. Here are a couple of samples. The first is from the St. Louis Journal.

A committee of the Utah legislature have reported on the subject of polygamy that they find to be an institution established by the divine will, and that the legislature should enact. And yet Utah is asking to be admitted as a State.

The second is from the New York Herald:

The latest outrage in Utah is the passage of a law which virtually disfranchises the Gentile population and places the elections under the control of the Mormon priesthood. Congress ought to rip up the whole Mormon infamy as soon as possible.

by the St. Louis Journal. They simply declared that marriage was a matter of religion, and therefore that the Legislature had no jurisdiction in relation to it. Utah has never legislated upon polygamy, and marriage is not touched upon in the constitution under which she has repeatedly sought admission into the Union as a State.

The election law referred to by the New York Herald is equal in its provisions upon all citizens, and gives the minority the right to one of the three judges of election in any precinct where there were two parties at the last previous election. The "Gentile population" are not disfranchised by the bill unless they are non-taxpayers, and in this respect we are no less equal to the old, one of the qualifications of male voters being that they must be taxpayers. This provision is a common one, taxpaying being adopted by most of the States as the foundation of the elective franchise.

If any of the "Gentiles" are disfranchised in this Territory it is not because they are "Gentiles," and if any "Mormons" are entitled to vote it is not because they are "Mormons." The disfranchisement, if any, arises in either case from a valid cause. The bill is extremely liberal in regard to the tax-paying requirement. It simply provides that a voter must be a tax payer in the Territory. In many of the States a certain specified sum, or of insignificant amount, is required to have been paid and the tax-receipt to be produced before registration. But the Utah statute makes it easy for the citizen to establish his right of franchise, and throws no stumbling block in the way of any rightful elector.

The "Mormon" outrage, that the Herald talks so foolishly about, consists of giving the minority a place in the management of elections, opening the way for every lawful voter to exercise the suffrage freely and secretly, and in throwing around the ballot box all the safeguards that could be suggested to preserve it from corruption. If any "Gentiles" are disfranchised by the new law it will simply be because they are disqualified by legal regulations, established in nearly every part of the Union.

The St. Louis Journal adds the New York Herald should not be too fast to find fault. They have shown themselves exceedingly false or inexcusably ignorant in their rash statements, and should either read up a little before touching on Utah affairs, or repent and learn to tell the truth.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF HIM?
THE New York Herald Washington correspondence, which contains the letter from the Utah Judges, published in our issue of Saturday, last, has also the annexed:

The following dispatch was received here yesterday by the anti-Mormon delegate:

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 23, 1879.
To J. C. Hemingway, Washington, D. C.
The Gentiles, apostate Mormons, and miners are highly indignant at the approval by Governor Emery of the so-called secret ballot act just passed by the polygamous Legislature. The bill virtually disfranchises nearly the entire Gentile population of Utah and places the elections irrevocably in the hands of the Mormon priests. An indignation meeting has been called to meet at the Liberal Institute on Tuesday night. A copy of the bill, which is entirely different from the one submitted to the House sub-committee on Territories, has been sent you.

A. LOCKEY.
Pity and profound contempt are the only sentiments we feel for the miserable falsifier who sent that dispatch. Here, it is well known that the number of persons who disapprove of the new election law is very small, and that they are of that class which would be satisfied with nothing short of giving the minority all the powers claimed in other places by the majority. And every Member of Congress who reads the dispatch, will rank the poor wretch that sent it with the low and despicable beings who are so degraded for decent society.

However, good will grow out of this ill designed. A perusal of the bill will show that it disfranchises no proper elector, but is honestly intended to meet the wants of the electors and the reasonable desires of those who objected to the old law; it will be easily perceived that those who clamor against it do not want fair elections, but an opportunity to control them against the wishes of the majority, and that it is really to notice the workings of the same in Utah who are working for special legislation.

We pity the being who by his own false covers his name with infamy, and we have the most profound contempt for the baffled malignant who spits out his spite in such wilful fabrications as are contained in the above dispatch.

Discovery of a New Volcano.—Extraordinary Treaty.
PANAMA, 25.—A new volcano has been discovered by an officer of the United States frigate Owaka, in the Pacific, and the name of the ship Owaka is proposed for it. U. S. Senator, the first American to be discovered by the United States frigate Owaka, arrived here under guard, en route for New York, on the 20th inst., but was set at liberty by the Panama Government. The President, in a letter to the United States Consul, explaining the action, says: "Wah-e-ver be the degree of G. G. Stanford's guilt as an alleged forger, given up by the Peruvian Government in compliance with the extradition treaty, he cannot be allowed to remain in prison or under arrest on Columbian territory until the extradition of criminals has been celebrated between our Republic and the North American Union, and such act would in fact place the extradition of criminals governing such cases under the international law."

A special dispatch from various points in the Greek provinces, of Turkey indicate that the insurrection is spreading.
