come tonight CONSULTATION HELD.

Rome, July 9, 7:30 p. m .- The follow. ing bulletin has been issued:

The general condition of the illus triaus patient having become depressed, a consultation was held at 4 o'clock with the participation of Prof. Rossini, From objective examination it appears that the liquid is again rapidly gather-ing in the pleura. The sounds of the heart are weak, without any symptoms heart are weak, without any symptoms of valvular lesion. The pulse is easily compressible, that is to say, it has 30 pulsations instead of 65, which is nor-mat. The breathing is superficial and at long intervals. The kidneys are not performing their functions. The state of his holiness is considered grave.

"ROSSINI, "LAPPONI

"MAZZONL Dr. Lapponi remained at the vatican after the consultation of the physicians was ended, but he came from the sick chamber long enough to say a few words. The doctor looked haggard and much depressed. The hopeful appearance which he had shown early in the day had entirely disappeared. He said:

"I fear there is no hope, no hope whatever, and yet the end may not come tonight. Although the patient's condition is very grave, the disease seems to be developing through slow but certain processes."

MAZZONI RETURNED TO VATICAN Doctor Rossoni and Dr. Mazzoni left the vatican after the consultation, but at 7 o'clock Dr. Mazzoni returned. It is now expected that another official bulletin will be issued about 9 o'clock One of the most remarkable features in the turn which affairs have taken is that the pope continues dressed and partially sitting up. His mind is perfectly clear and apparently the only cause for alarm is that the doctors have the last seven days. The doctors, pre-vious to the alarming attack of this af-ternoon, said there was not the slight-est diminution in the acuteness of the pontiff's mental faculties, as shown this morning in a remarkable manner, when the pope insisted on going over some of the large questions of church policy laid before him by Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state. At about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, although no worse, the pope was not reported to be any better and then came the news of the pontiff's sudden relapse and of the sending for a con-sulting physician.

HENLEY REGATTA Henley, England, July 9-Delightful eather prevailed during this, the final day of the Henley regatia. There was not sufficient wind to affect the choice of stations. A large crowd was present to witness the finals of all the events, which were reserved for today, and which resulted as follows:

which resulted as follows: Grand challenge cup-Legnder, beat third Trinity, Cambridge last year's winners, by six feet, after an exciting race. Time-7 minutes, 9 seconds. Ladies' challenge plate-Magdalene college, Oxford, beat Eaton by a length. Time-7 minutes, 33 seconds. Thames challenge cup-Trinity col-lege, Dublin, beat Eton by a length. Time-7 minutes, 27 seconds. The silver goblet and nickle challenge cup-Victoria Rowing club of Berlin, beat Kingston Rowing club by 12 lengths. Time-8 minutes, 45 seconds.

Special interest was taken in the final of the grand challenge cup because of third Trinity's misfortune in losing the services of P. D. Goldie, who was indisposed and who had as a substitute an intrained man. But for this Trinity would have undoubtedly retained the rophy. As it was, the race was a great one, Leander from the start tried cutting down tactics, but third Trinity held the lead until Fawley court. Amid i the end until rawing court. Aind a roar of cheering, the two boats paised the Grosvenor club enclosure rowing level, but a little later Leander strug-gled forward and won.

The ladies' challenge race was another tirring contest. Magdalene college led by a length when a furiong from home Eton spurted at this point and the poats were almost even. Ejon was un able, however, to sustain the effort and was defeated by a length.

Rome, July 9, 4:15 p. m.-By special favor, the correspondent of the Assoclated Press here was allowed this morning to visit the papal apartment, where he had an interview on the situation with a personage who is better informed than any one else, but who, from motives easily understood, does not wish his name mentioned. He said: "The first possible sign of amelioration in the pope's condition since he was taken ill was seen this morning. The patient rested well enough during a great part of the night. It was not the sleep of prostration or collapse, but peaceful and natural, so much that the benefit is quite visible this morning. His temperature is 96, which is quite normal for the pontiff, considering his age and present condition. What is important is that his temperature never rose above normal and never even approached a feverish state. He now has a slight cough and his kidneys are still deranged, but the secretion of urine, although very scarce, is somewhat augmented, which proves that his heart is stronger and his condition bet. ter, as demonstrated by the complete disappearance of cyanosis, so that his hands have again taken their natural, almost diaphaneous aspect.

Dr. Lpponi this morning informed the prelates who were waiting in the ante-room that he had examined the matter which the pope had expectorated through coughing and he said he was able to confirm his diagnosis, having found traces of blood, clearly dem postrating the existence of pneumonia.

DR. LAPPONI HOPEFUL.

"Everyone noticed that while in the past Dr. Lapponi never participated in the rejoicing and enthusiasm over the announced or imagined amelloration in the pope's condition, remaining always extremely reserved and anxious look ing, this morning, for the first time, Dr. Lappont's face was tranquil and even hopeful looking, though it was said that he was very far from believ. He insisted on ressing himself and walked to his arm chair, where he sat down and went through his complete tollet arrange-ments. It was not until his beard had been shaven that he would return to

As the pope is much touched by the evidences of sympathy coming to him from all parts of the world, Dr. Lapponi showed him some of the telegrams which had reached him as the pope's physician, including the following message from the Rev. Father Cleary, which said in part:

"Before he dies I wish to see the world at peace. God bless him. Do hot give him up. The world needs him.

The attorneys for the defense requested that Frank Davi, one of the boys, be given a change of venue. assuming that Judge Diehl held a prejudice against him. The judge said he would never try a man who had asked for a change of venue, and the petition was promptly granted. Davi, therefore, will be heard before Justice Clark to-morrow. The defense then moved that the boys be granted a separate trial, which also was allowed.

which also was allowed. The case of young Doolan, the most pugnacious looking one in the lot, was then called, and Officer Leaker was placed on the stand. The officer recited the circumstances leading up to the arrest of the boys, and the melee that fol-lowed ending in his shooting Wilson. He testified that the boys were drunk and disorderly; that they were throwing empty beer bottles around among

Some men leaped forward then and puiled the boys off and Wilson started to run away. Witness called upon him to halt, and when he refused witness shot him. Fred Schneger, a baker and confec-tioner was one of thoses who went to the rescue of Leaker and on the witness stand corroborated everything that Of-ficer Leaker had testified to. He said he saw Wilson knock the officer down with the latter's own club, and so far as he could judge the boys were trying to do the officer fatal injury.

George Chase told practically the same story as did also Samuel Austin of the St. James hotel.

At noon the court adjourned and the case was postponed until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Prof. Kossel Tells Berlin Medical Society Result of Experiments -Strengthens Koch's Views That Animal Consumption

Does Not Play Role Attributed to It.

Berlin, July 9 .- The Berlin Medical, The experimentation covered 39 separsociety yesterday evening assembled to hear Prof. Kossel, of the imperial health officers, report the results of the prolonged experiments of the tuberculosis commission infecting calves with human tuberculosis. Prof. Koch's observations, prior to the celebrated London ddress, caused the health officers to appoint a commission to make systematic experiments. Yesterday's paper was in the nature of a preliminary report. The commission's investigations cover three forms of introducing tubercole baccilli in calves: first, subcutaneous injection; second, in food; and, third, by inhalation. The preliminary report covers only the first form, but the experiments with the other forms continue.
