

The week has witnessed a round of delightful events social and musical, and society has been largely represented at both. Next week another notable list is promised, the season seemingly being in full swing.

The most brilliant event of the week has been the dancing party given by Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Pearson at Christensen's hall last night. The hall was elaborately decorated for the occasion, and a charming feature were the numerous cozy corners partitioned off from the main hall with screens, each with its rug, divan and chairs, where guests were privileged to lounge and rest between the dances. The platform was heavily banked with palms and rubber plants, and a space in front was carpeted with rugs, and furnished with divans. The corners were screened as were also the entrances to the dressing rooms, and punch was served in one of the alcoves. The electric lights throughout the hall had Japanese shades, and with the rest of the decorations were most effective. In the parlor a long table was spread with white damask, a centerpiece of Battenberg lace over pink holding a huge cut glass bowl filled with pink carnations. Silver candelabra stood at each corner with pink candles in shades of pink, and surrounded with a cloud of plumosa, and pink carnations. The mirror was festooned with ferns and smilax, and palms aided in the artistic effect.

LEAVES FROM OLD ALBUMS.

JOHN CLARK.

Recent friends of ex-Mayor John Clark would never have suspected that he ever looked so much like a Frenchman. But the picture was taken in war times, when everything was "out-of-joint." The above picture was taken in the city of St. Louis in 1864. Mr. Clark was there buying goods for the firm of Chislett & Clark, which was doing business on Main street just below Godbe-Pitts drug store. St. Louis at the time was under martial law and Mr. Clark had to get a permit before he could go about the town. He did not look much like a "Seesh," at that time, so had no trouble in getting the permit. When the Z. C. M. I. was opened on March 1st, 1869 Mr. Clark entered that institution as manager of the grocery and hardware department, having sold out his interest in the firm of Chislett & Clark. He subsequently became treasurer and later assistant superintendent of the institution. He remained in that position until 1882, when he formed a partnership with H. S. Eldredge, of which firm he is now the head. It might be interesting to know that when Mr. Clark entered the employ of the Z. C. M. I. the grocery and hardware department was in the old Constitution building on the present site of the building that bears that name, while the dry-goods department was located in the Jennings store where the Utah National bank is now.

There was a bronze vase of incandescent lights looking like a huge bouquet. The orchestra was enlarged to fifteen pieces, and rendered beautiful selections throughout the evening. Mrs. S. S. Woodward had charge of the decorations. The affair was one of the largest as well as the most elaborate of the year, over 200 guests being present.

Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Niles entertained at a delightful card party at their home on Tuesday night. The rooms were handsomely decorated with candelabras, carnations and ferns, and the scores and tallies were Indian heads. The first lady's prize was taken by Mrs. Nye, and the second by Mrs. Glendinning. Mr. Franklyn won first gentleman's prize, and Mr. Glendinning second. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Walker, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkes, Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn, Mr. and Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Bach, Mrs. Holmquist, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Walker, Dr. and Mrs. LaMotte, Mrs. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Holman, Mr. and Mrs. Miner, Mr. and Mrs. Nye, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Glendinning, Miss Bertha Carter, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien, Mr. W. D. Thompson, Mr. Schramm, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. B. X. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Y. Wallace, Mrs. Duke Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bird, Miss Shearman, Mrs. Woodruff, Miss Kimball, Mr. J. M. Thompson, Miss Judge, Mrs. Styer, Maj. and Mrs. Wilkes, Mr. and Mrs. Weir, Mr. and Mrs. Fox, Dr. and Mrs. Bascom, Mr. T. E. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Sharp, Mr. J. J. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. McCormick, Mr. Clarence McCormick, Miss Keogh, Mr. and Mrs. M. Terry.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. David Keith was hostess at an elaborate reception, about 400 guests being present between the hours of 3 and 6. The decorations were especially beautiful. The hall was embowered with American clematis roses and palms, candles with shades of red carrying out the color scheme. In the reception room yellow predominated, chrysanthemums being used in profusion, while festoons of smilax and roses on mantels and chandeliers, with palms set about the room completed the effective decoration. The library was in pink and green, and the dining room in white and green, a huge bunch of chrysanthemums forming the centerpiece, and white candles shaded in green with sprays of asparagus fern aided in the pretty effect. The Indian and Turkish rugs were among the features which elicited admiration with their beautiful oriental furnishings. Mrs. Keith was assisted by Mrs. James N. Ferguson in the reception room, and in the library Mrs. Samuel Woodward served punch. Mrs. C. D. Rooklidge and Mrs. E. L. Carpenter poured tea and coffee in the dining room. Assisting in entertaining were Mesdames Kate Burton and L. C. Allen, and the Mesdames Annette Ferguson and Phyllis Burton. During the afternoon Lambourn's orchestra, stationed in the hall above, rendered delightful music.

Miss Gertrude McGrath, who has been visiting in the East for the past several months, has returned.

The marriage of Miss Carrie E. Davis and Frank E. Darcy took place on Tuesday, the ceremony being performed at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Davis, Rev. W. M. Paden officiating. The bride wore a charming gown of white silk mulls and carried bride roses. The bridesmaid was Miss May Davis, and Mr. E. W. Dorman acted as best man. The rooms were prettily decorated with flowers and vines and dainty refreshments were served. The bride was for some time past a teacher in the public schools, and the groom is connected with the Oregon Short Line.

BEAUTIFUL ODGEN HOMES.

THOMAS A. WHALEN.

A. R. HEYWOOD.

Above is an excellent half tone of two pretty Odgen homes. They belong to Thomas A. Whalen and A. R. Heywood, and are located on Jefferson avenue, one of the attractive residence streets of the city. These residences are of pressed brick with sandstone trimmings, they are roomy and conveniently arranged within, are equipped with all the modern improvements, and the furnishings are well selected and up to date. BIGELOW CARPETS

The Carpets made by this Company have received the highest award wherever exhibited, including Gold Medals at the Paris Exposition, 1875, and at the Centennial, 1876.

Their deserved reputation for excellence of fabric, richness and durability of color, novelty and beauty of design, has led to frequent infringements and inferior goods have often been palmed off in their stead. For the protection of the public the Company has adopted as a trade-mark the word "BIGELOW," which will be woven (at every repeat of the pattern) in white capitals into the back of the fabric. Customers will therefore have merely to examine the back of a carpet to be certain that they are getting the genuine Bigelow Carpets.

These Goods can be obtained from all first-class dealers.
