

often and do so badly for want of just a little knowing."

Chicago chapter, D. A. R., one of the most important in the society, has prepared an outline of its work for next winter. The first meeting will be held early in October, in which month its new departure, a study class in federal and civil laws, will be started. Some of the topics to be studied are: "The Constitution," "The Government," "The Policy in the Philippines and Cuba," "Illinois Laws as Pertaining to Differences for Men and Women," "The Government's Policy in Our Standing Army," "How Can Patriotism be Made to Take the Place of the Political Machine?"

Prof. Fernand Deschamps of Belgium wrote to Mrs. Annie L. Diggs of Topeka in reference to the work of woman's suffrage in Kansas, and Mrs. Diggs has replied with a statement showing that equal suffrage produces no evils and, on the contrary, many blessings. Mrs. Diggs states that no detriment to domestic life has resulted from woman's use of the ballot; that in many instances homes have become more harmonious and satisfactory, because the wives are intelligent and sympathetic companions to the husbands. The enlarged scope of vision has corrected the fault of petty excursions and a narrow view of life, and the American man shows increasing respect and deeper devotion to a wife who is his intelligent companion. The education of the children does not suffer from the political activity of the mother because one of the chief interests of women voters relates to improvement in educational affairs.

The sixteenth biennial conference of the International Board of Women and Young Women's Christian associations will meet this year at Cleveland, O., from October 30 to November 5.

The Minnesota federation of women's clubs proposes to offer prizes during the state fair each year for long and efficient domestic service in the hope of raising the standard of capability and enter the ranks of house-helpers. This is the first sequel to the more or less general discussion of the "problem" among the club women of that state for fully a year past. The prize competition will be under the auspices of the Household Economics committee of the federation.

The Colorado federation at the convention last week "took up" the mooted question of what would be most appropriate as a Louisiana purchase celebration tribute to woman's clubs? The majority favored the erection of a $100,000 building to serve as headquarters for all federated clubs in the Louisiana purchase territory.

The National society, Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America, which has been in existence for three years, shows by its latest annual report that the society has enrolled more members during the past year than in either of the first two years of its career. Its membership now reaches from Maine to California, Connecticut being the latest state to organize a local chapter.

An international congress of nurses will be held this week in Buffalo, opening next Tuesday evening with a reception, and closing Saturday with a formal "at home" extended by the Exposition Board of Women Managers at the woman's building.

The official badge will be a white satin ribbon with a red cross, lettered "International Congress of Nurses, Buffalo, U. S. A., 1902." The Buffalo delegates and nurses will wear in addition a pale blue ribbon bearing the word "Welcome." A large and representative attendance is expected, England, Ireland, Scotland, Australia, India, Canada and Holland being among the countries who will send delegates.

The question of manual training in the public school is being taken up most earnestly by club women. The Iowa state federation meeting at Council Bluffs devoted a generous part of the session to its discussion and adopted a resolution that placed it as a department of the educational work.

Last year the Indiana Federation of Women's clubs had four bills pending in the legislature. Illinois and Wisconsin federations were busy with the legislature all winter; legislative work is a prominent feature with the Alabama clubs; the New Orleans club woman is a type of the political worker; the Kentucky federation is interested in forestry, a subject that carries with it opportunity for much legislative work, and one of the most conservative clubs in Kentucky—a club so conservative that it stays out of the federation for fear of getting too progressive and advanced—recently enlarged its borders by petitioning the town council to pass a school law prohibiting stock from roaming the streets and destroying gardens, shrubbery, etc.

EDUCATIONAL.

LATTER-DAY SAINTS UNIVERSITY.

And now the enrollment has passed the 500 mark. In the third week since the fall opening. It is clear that additional teaching force will shortly be required. The first year high school and normal classes will have to be divided into three sections. When these classes were divided into two sections it was thought that all the students that would attend would be accommodated. But the large enrollment has exceeded all expectations, and it is believed that arrangements will quickly be made so that no students will be denied admission.

The business college will give two free business scholarships for next year to the two best stenographers up to June, 1902; one lady and one gentleman, using the Hammond typewriter. This will be a strong incentive to young men and women to compete for such a prize with the honor that it signifies.

Drs. T. A. Clawson, Ezra O. Taylor and John H. Taylor have jointly presented to the university library a set of books on modern history.

The students' society effected a temporary organization a week ago. We have as president, May Hendricks as vice-president and Geo. Parkinson as secretary. The following students were appointed on constitution and by-laws: Stanley A. Hanks, Fred. Oline Ruby Irvine, Nellie McBride and W. M. Worthington.

The list for the first instalment of books for the Clark library of natural science has been completed by the professor of biology, R. V. Chamberlain and President J. H. Paul. The list will be sent to various eastern firms for a bid on the entire lot. The first purchase will aggregate about $600 worth of the finest works on ethnology, zoology, botany, ornithology, anatomy and physiology, geology, mineralogy, etc. The books will occupy a room in the Lion house until the completion of Barratt hall.

The contractors say that work will be resumed on the Samuel M. Barratt building next week. The brick famine caused a suspension of operations during a period of nine weeks. Every effort possible is being put forth for the renewal and completion of the work on this much needed building.

The lecture to be given on the Book of Mormon next Monday evening begins at 8 o'clock. Special music has been provided.

The students of zoology have now completed careful laboratory studies upon the grasshopper and the cricket. On Wednesday a general lecture was given before the class upon the order represented by these insects. The class is now proceeding with work upon the butterflies and moths.

All the students that successfully completed the Latin last year have returned to the university and have enrolled in course B. The work in Latin a year has been prefaced by a series of lectures with the development and character of the social and political institutions and conditions belonging to that period of Roman history in which Caesar and Cicero were central figures.

There are 15 students in the telegraphy class, and more than 75 in our shorthand classes.

All commercial students are required to be at roll call every day at 9:45.

Lucetta May Cooley, a former student has been appointed stenographer for Supt. A. C. Nielsen. Jessie Hansen and Lenora Jorgenson have recently been placed in good positions.

Movements are on foot to organize a band under the direction of R. L. Sweeten, who has had considerable experience in this work. Mr. Sweeten leads the singing at devotional exercises.

Miss Eunice Dill, who was teaching school last year in Idaho, entered for normal department this year. We welcome her back to school.

BRANCH NORMAL.

Cedar City, Sept. 26.—The friends and patrons of the Branch Normal have every reason to be satisfied with the splendid opening of the school this year. The attendance in general is not only larger than it has heretofore been during this time of the year, but the gain is all in the advanced classes. The third year class is from four to five times as large as it was last year and the second year class has broken its record in numbers already.

The benefit to the school of this gain in the advanced classes, being felt on every hand, for the new students have all caught the contagion of work spread by the third and second year classes and the entire school is filled with the spirit of earnest application.

Wednesday, the 15th, no classes were held, but the school assembled at 9:30 for the purpose of holding short memorial services in memory of our late President. The student body was represented by one of its members, Mr. Willard Jones, who made a few well chosen remarks. He was followed by Principal N. T. Porter, after which the school adjourned in a body to the Cedar City tabernacle, where the citizens had assembled for the same purpose.

THE UNIVERSITY.

Up at the good old school, business is being conducted quietly but effectively. Classes are reported as well settled to their work, and an air of harmony prevails in all departments. The registration now stands 562—a mark somewhat higher than that at this time last year.

A new arrangement, settled on by the faculty last week, puts the time for chapel from 10 to 10:30 instead of from 8:30 to 9, as formerly, and lunch period is made from 12:30 to 1:00, instead of half an hour later.

The 1902 class met in the Normal building Tuesday and indulged in a kind of general hand shake "among itself." Another meeting for the purpose of reorganization will be called very soon.

From the Branch normal there come this year: Vito Redd, Assistant Secretary, Willard Corry, all of whom have completed the work given at Cedar City. They have registered for the fourth year of the normal course and will, if successful, be graduated with the 1902 class next June.

Chapel exercises were conducted last week by Dean Eddy of the St. Mark's Episcopal church.

Prof. F. W. Reynolds left Tuesday for the East, where he will continue his work at Harvard College.

Among the visitors this week was Leon Watters, one of the University boys of yore, now connected with the Columbia University, New York.

From the mining school the reports show that the department is becoming decidedly popular. The sophomore class in the engineering course is the largest yet, and there is a general increase all along the line.

A goodly number of new faces are to be seen at faculty meetings. Among them: Prof. Acree, of the chemistry department, Mr. Thompson, of the training school, Mr. Arnoldson, instructor in modern languages, Mr. Heckstead, of the mining school, and Messrs. Bennion and Driggs, late of the Branch Normal, of the pedagogy and English departments respectively.

THE CITY SCHOOLS.

The marriage of Miss Mary A. Brown and John H. Markey took place at the residence of the bride's parents in Iowa City, Iowa, September 3. Miss Brown was, for many years a teacher in the city schools here, and Mr. Markey is in Denver.

Misses Lily and Maude Potter, of the Lincoln and Jackson schools, respectively, were detained from their duties on Monday by reason of the death of their grandfather.

Miss Keate has resigned her position as stenographer for Clerk Moreton, and has accepted a position with the De La Mar-Mining company.

Miss Minnie Ray, who has been assistant at the Fremont, has been transferred to the Emerson.

County Superintendent Ashton has been visiting several districts of the county the past week.

WALKER'S STORE.

A Remarkable Transaction—Fifteen Thousand Yards of J. C. Bonnet's Guaranteed Black Silks At Wholesale Prices.

Hundreds—yes, thousands of Salt Lake women will remember this event for years to come. Once in a life time does such a house as J. C. Bonnet ever consider a transaction of this kind, for they are the autocrats of the silk world, dictate their own market prices and protect them so closely that when bought under most auspicious conditions the merchantman can mark them but little beyond the first cost. The great collection comprises:

15,000 YARDS OF EXQUISITE BLACK SILKS,

Just consigned to us; new and fresh from the looms as can be and to sell for little more than the cost at wholesale. The most radical offering of fine silks that has occurred, we might say, in America. To see or to buy, all are alike welcome. A feast awaits beauty lovers. Faultless silks Every woman who ever possessed a silk gown knows. The tone, the character, the refinement of the goods, puts them in a class of their own; the Bonnet silks are the crowned heads to which all others are subordinates.

Many other Black Silks, some of the choicest here, greatly reduced in price for this sale. Come see for yourself.

Tuesday, Oct. 1st and the Week

It took the Walker Store just one year and a half to bring about this consummation. It is the effort of supreme energy and enterprise crowned by success; and not to seem vain-glorious, do we make this assertion, but to impress our public that the Walker Store is ever meditating price-saving opportunities for its patrons—even to the making of seeming impossibilities, possible. From which you may gather, too, the importance of strong words in announcing a sale that is to as far outshine any previous one here as diamonds outshine cut-glass. Every yard is guaranteed to be

UNBREAKABLE, UNTEARABLE, UNMATCHABLE

Purchasers do not take the slightest risk. If a single yard proves disappointing in the least degree, we stand ready and anxious to replace it. So never fear the honesty of the fabrics—the Walker Store and J. C. Bonnet, alone, are responsible; you've but to select qualities that meet with your wishes and have no further care. Goods as staple as muslins, which through the wonderful liberality of the makers we are enabled to sell at the prices quoted. Come mornings if possible, for afternoon crowds are proverbial these cool days and choosing therefore becomes more of a task. The following tells the price story:
