SOCIAL CHAT

The week has been a busy one in social circles, many of the events having been in honor of three of the season's brides, Miss Van Cott, Miss Stingley, and Miss Sadler. Every day has witnessed a function in their honor and next week other affairs will be given for the three popular brides to be. A number of card parties and Kensingtons have also enlivened the week.

On Monday Miss Florence Kimball entertained for Miss Van Cott and Miss Sadler, her function being a bridge tea, and about six tables being played. The decorations were in white and yellow, tulips and lilies being used. Assisting were Miss Katherine Geddes and Miss Leslie Savage.

Mrs. J. F. Dunn entertained yesterday at a bridge party in honor of her guest, Miss Trainer, five tables being played and prizes won by Mrs. W. E. Smedley, Mrs. H. A. Whitney, Mrs. Smedley, Mrs. Vollmer and Miss Trainer. The decorations were in lilies and carnations and assisting the hostess were Mrs. F. J. Fabian, Mrs. P. J. Quigley, Miss Mary Smedley and Miss Stella Fabian.

Miss Lorene Leary was hostess at a tea on Thursday given for Miss Sadler and Miss Stingley, about a dozen intimate friends being entertained during the afternoon and the time being spent in hemming towels which were presented to the guests of honor. At 4 o'clock other friends, numbering about 40, came into tea, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Leslie Savage, Miss Terrell and Miss Mildred McMillan.

Mrs. L. L. Downing was hostess at two bridge teas this week, on Wednesday and Thursday respectively, the decorations at each being in white and purple lilies, and about 60 friends, altogether being entertained. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. C. H. Lindley, Mrs. Landenberger and Mrs. Van Knoblock, and prizes in the contest at the two functions went to Mrs. J. B. Cosgriff, Mrs. J. J. Broughall, Mrs. Van Knoblock and Mrs. Chaucer M. Benedict, Mrs. T. R. Black, Mrs. W. T. Benson and Mrs. F. J. McGinnis.

Miss Eleanor Stewart entertained at a delightful card party yesterday, her decorations being spring flowers and about 20 present.

Miss Katherine Geddes entertained at a pretty affair on Wednesday for Miss Sadler and Miss Van Cott, her decorations being in pink with roses and sweet peas as the flowers. The table in the dining room had a lace centerpiece upon which stood a large basket of pink roses and sweet peas, its handle tied with pink tulle, while candelabra with pink shades added in the effect. Present were Mrs. June Sadler-Donnell, Miss McGrath, Miss Pearl Van Cott, Mrs. Leslie L. Savage, Miss Lella Stingley, Miss Mary Moore, Miss Juliet, Miss Genevieve McCormick, Miss Lorene Leary, Miss Alice Bass and Mildred McMillan, Miss Minnie Baer, and Miss Florence Kimball.

Mrs. A. C. Wherry was one of the week's hostesses, white carnations and lilies being the decorations and Mrs. Alexander Eberhardt assisting. The

DIVORCE MICROBE—SIX TIMES WEDDED.

Mrs. Grace Snell Coffin-Coffin-Walker-Coffin-Layman-Love, six times married, five times divorced, still fair and only 40, has again found married life "consonant and has filed suit for divorce from No. 1, who is Hugh M. Love, secretary of the Los Angeles board of health. Cruelly it is this time the ground upon which the former Grace Snell, daughter of the murdered Chicago millionaire, seeks liberty.

Three times Grace Snell married and divorced her first husband, Frank Nixon Coffin. This extraordinary matrimonial experience, rather than her devotion to the writing of romantic fiction, or her being sued for the purchase price of cigarettes and jewelry, or her bankruptcy for $3,000, has spread her name to the country.

James C. Walker was husband No. 3, Perkins A. Layman was No. 5, and Hugh M. Love No. 6. Her husband No. 1, and 4 was Frank N. Coffin.

And was this matrimonial infidelity? The four men who have been this unusual woman's six husbands have all been literally "head-over-heels" in love with her at one or more stages of the game. Each one has blamed the erratic disposition of his wife inherited from her father.

No such explanation appeals to Mrs. Grace Snell. Love, Marriage is not a fallacy, she contends, but the men have been at fault. She has had unbounded happiness while love's dream has remained young; she thinks love should remain in youth even by frequent changes, if they are necessary.

The popular question arises: "Who will be the next?"

Miss Mary Olive Grey will give a
