A HUGE BLOT UPON CHRISTENDOM.

It has been said frequently, in effect, by skeptics that rum and religion go together with the spread of Christian civilization. It is certain that wherever the white race obtain an entrance into the dark domains of the earth, the vices of civilization are planted as well as the seeds of salvation. Fire-water was offered to the Indian tribes of this continent simultaneously with the creeds of the churches. And while a few of the dusky sons of the forest have been won to the faith of the pure Nazarene, multitudes have gone down to degradation and destruction through the debilitating influence of intoxicants and other evils introduced by the "superior race."

Alas! there has been drawn to this great blot upon the free institutions of the world, a number of the "Puritans" of 1840 to prevent this evil. A congress was then held in Berlin for the purpose. Unfortunately it proved a failure. Since then other efforts have been made, but they have all failed. The world is now in a state of confusion, and the "Puritans" are now in a state of confusion. The world is now in a state of confusion, and the "Puritans" are now in a state of confusion.

Editor Deseret News:

An individual in this city has been delivering a series of lectures, the object of which has been chiefly to disparage the divinity of all religions, and to show that no religion is in one way or another a revelation from God. This is a very serious matter, and one which should be taken into consideration by all who are interested in the progress of civilization.

The credit of some of the Christian Associations, notably the National Temperance Society in this country, a strong effort has been made against this traffic both in England and America. The people of this country have been very much interested in the progress of civilization, and they have been very much interested in the progress of civilization.

But the people of this country have been very much interested in the progress of civilization, and they have been very much interested in the progress of civilization. The people of this country have been very much interested in the progress of civilization, and they have been very much interested in the progress of civilization.

The people of this country have been very much interested in the progress of civilization, and they have been very much interested in the progress of civilization.
