Interest in Story of Visit to Disappearance of Man and Wife from the Farm.

Porte, Ind., May 18.—The autopsy today on the remains of the seven unidentified dead exhumed from Mrs.
Guinness's private burial ground was held this evening, and revealed that one of the seven was a has aroused new interest in the of Emil Greening of Oklahoma Okla., who was employed by Mrs.

Guinness in the fall of 1904. Greening Miss Olsen disappeared, and his husband's effect that on Friday Mrs. Guinness and a woman came body which is now declared to of a woman was taken from the hole as was that of Jennie Olsen.

The hole also were the bodies of Budsberg of Iowa, Wis., and the of another male person. All bodies were dismembered, but the of the four were such that it possible to identify the bodies of Olsen and Mr. Budsberg and it made possible by today's autopsies determine that one of the other two a female. The theory now ad-ed is that Mrs. Guinness may have the same night, the night that Jennie Olsen, but also the and woman. To Coroner Jack Stutner and Prosecutor Smith seems almost inconceivable, but considered in the light of recent de-vels, nothing appears impossible this arch murderess.

as the couple, occurred in Sep-this could have been the last placed

HOUSE INTEREST IN RIVERS AND HARBORS.

York, May 18.—The directors of Rivers and Harbors coma dinner last night at the to New York newspaper magazine men in pursuance of that organization to avail the need for a na-policy with regard to the inment of rivers and harbors.
Senator Joseph E. Ransd-of New York, president of the congress, said that Congress the pressure of the nation, without hesitation to to Panama, although it the rest of the world more it benefited this country, and been liberally about out-waterways. He wanted give the waterways bills ration which the commerce entry demanded. He knew would move only when the people who whole-ly, he thought was now a most business like man-man.

Senator E. C. Kilgore of Kansas president of the Missouri river development commission, told how it Congress treated the water-question so shabbily. In the past, there had been a good deal management of what money been appropriated and appropri-had been made in most cases to with pressure from local colonists. There had been no great plan or policy. As soon as such policy had been formulated

JENNIE BLUNT GETS THREE YEARS IN PRISON

New York, May 18.—Jennie Blunt, who shot and wounded Charles M.
Sanford, a Brooklyn lawyer, in his office last February, after he had refused to give her money, was denounced by Judge Dike today as a blackmailer and perjurer and sentenced to serve not less than three nor more than four years in the state prison at Auburn.
In her own defense Miss Blunt had accused Sanford of misconduct. Her counsel appealed for leniency after her conviction, but Judge Dike in imposing sentence said:
"A blackmailer who, her demands refused, substitutes lawlessness for law and inflicts punishment upon her victim and is shown by the evidence to have other victims yet to punish, is not a woman who should remain free. The jury is to be commended for upholding the law rather than listening to the maudlin sentiment of an unwritten law."

sion in awarding conditional contracts to the American Book company, for the attorney general's department to night Miss Vanderbilt disappeared she saw her in an automobile with another young woman and a man. The man family. He is home on a leave of ab-row.

Mr. Russell said little information was obtainable at Caracas regarding conditions there, but he said he understood that as a result of an outbreak of bubonic plague.
Reports of serious differences between President Castro of Venezuela and Minister Russell were denied by Mr.
Russell.

ANNA GOULD AND HELIE DE SAGAN

Regard Themselves as Engaged But Find Obstacles in the Way of Their Marriage.

HER CHILDREN ARE INVOLVED

Then If She Marries Without Consent Of Executors of Jay Gould's Will,
Her Share Reduced One-Half.

Paris, May 18.—When and where the wedding of Prince Helle de Sagan and Mme. Gould will take place has not yet been definitely decided. They regard themselves as engaged and would like to solemnize the marriage immediately.
Certain peculiar complications, however, confront them. First, there is the clause in Jay Gould's will reducing the share of each child one-half if he or she marries without the consent of the executors. If the marriage of Mme.
Gould occurs within the very near future it can be assumed that the consent of her brothers and Miss Helen Gould has been given; otherwise the ceremony will necessarily be delayed to permit the courts to decide the issue.

The most serious obstacle to the marriage is Count Boni's attitude, which involves the possible limitation of Mme.
Gould's rights over her children. Count Boni naturally is furious at the idea of the wedding and makes no concealment of his intention, if this occurs, to demand a modification of the divorce decree which gave her the custody of the children, basing this demand on the ground that the prince would not be a suitable stepfather, and that such close relationship with his children would be prejudicial to their interests.
During the course of Prince Helle's recent suit against Count Boni and his brother for assault, it will be remembered, Maître Boni, the Count's attorney, declared that no court in France would confide the custody of children to a man of De Sagan's character.

Mme. Gould feels certain that no court would take such a view, but nevertheless, the suit would create en-less complications which both she and the prince desire to avoid. To circumvent this phase of the situation, the marriage might occur abroad, perhaps in England, but this would involve the decision to reside in the future beyond the jurisdiction of the French court, unless some settlement could be effected with Count Boni.

The question of a religious ceremony does not stand in the way, alone. Gould is a Protestant and the marriage would occur before a Protestant minister. To do this it would not be necessary for Prince Helle to change his religion; he would only be obliged to accept the Protestant rite.

HAWAIIAN MARRIAGES.

U. S. Supreme Court Renders Important Decision Regarding Them.

Washington, May 18.—In deciding the case of Annie Keolu and Keona Williams, granddaughters of the late J. R.
Williams of the island of Oahu, Hawaii, vs. William E. Castle, trustee of the estate of Williams, against the women, the supreme court of the United States today held that marriage by the father to the mother of the children born out of wedlock does not have the effect in Hawaii of legitimizing the children.

The girls are the daughters of a son of Williams, but as he was not the husband of their mother at the time of their birth, Castle refused to pay them any of the proceeds of the grandfather's estate, notwithstanding a marriage between the two parents.

INTERESTING DEMONSTRATION

The large factory of Hewlett Bros.
Co. on State street was thrown open last evening to the Retail grocers of this city and county and their clerks, who attended in large numbers to receive a practical demonstration of how the foods are manufactured, which they sell from their counters every day. They were shown how green coffee was roasted and turned out brown, with a fresh aroma, and packed and weighed by electricity at the rate of 50 packages a minute.
Each of the other products of this firm were also prepared and blended ready for the market. The men behind the counter enjoyed fully their visit and had an instructive and interesting time and will enable them to more fully demonstrate to the consumers how the food products are prepared for the market.

Ten Years— Ten Gains— Ten Millions

The achievement of success is often attributed to luck, but no commercial success can be maintained for a period of ten years, unless back of it there is real strength and merit.

Our Company was organized in 1898. Since that time the country has enjoyed an era of great prosperity. In 1903 however, there was a period of unrest; but the money panic of last year was the supreme test. To survive required ability and strength to overcome difficulties and go forward, while others faltered.

We met the emergency and by putting forth the greatest effort, maintained our business record of showing gains every year, regardless of conditions.

We take pride in announcing to our customers and friends that shipments for our Tenth Year were $10,041,385.65, showing a gain of $15,220.30 over 1907; though small, we are as proud of this gain as if it were the largest we had ever made, because it was accomplished by overcoming many difficulties.

The honest construction of STAR BRAND SHOES and the loyalty of our customers and friends have gone far towards enabling us to make this record, and we thank them for their support.

We own no interest in retail stores. The shoes made in our ten big specialty factories are sold on their merit direct to retail merchants. THREE MILLION PEOPLE (or an average of one person in every thirty-two in the United States) wear our shoes all the time. They know that our Star trade-mark stamped on every heel stands for honest shoes—no substitutes for leather.

We enter our Eleventh Year feeling that the resources of our great country will sustain a steady demand for honest merchandise.

Every manufacturer, jobber, retailer or consumer is responsible for his share in the advancement or decline of commerce. We accept that responsibility and will work harder than ever to make this the best year of all. The man who shirks is not a good citizen. The world does not need the man with his hands in his pockets.
