FIFTY-SIXTH YEAR.

"I TOLD YOU SO" MEN A BUSY BUNCH

Even Those Who Gave Hope the Glad Hand Are Telling That Gag Today.

KNOW IT FROM THE FIRST.

When Other's Suspected Smooth Englishman From the Beginning They Were Called Knockers.

Woman Now Living in Salt Lake Identifies Hope as a "Dr. Kingsley" Who Worked Denver.

Today it was open season for doubters in the case of Beresford Hope, millionaire maker for Utah professional men. Every other man that was met on Main street had met Beresford Hope, sized him up for a crook, spotted him for a sure thing expert, and had looked upon him from the very start with the wide eye of superior discernment. How on earth anybody could be "taken in" by him was a big surprise to them and how he dragged in so many of their friends, whom they could have warned against him, was a still bigger surprise. It was a busy day today for the crowds who carry the banner "I told you so."

A FEW ARE FAITHFUL STILL.

As for Hope he still has a few friends despite the literature of exposure and the "muck raking" by a portion of the Salt Lake press, and it is thought these few sentinels are watching developments in the rear of the "bunko king," with a view of warning him in case there is someone among those who dreamed of millions last week, who begins to dream this week of prison bars, and of making the agent of British royalty "come through" with the goods before a justice of the peace or with his royal prerogatives.

HOPE'S CREDENTIALS.

The case in its final analysis shows more than anything else the basis of faith in the other fellow on which the business transactions of a community are based. Hope showed letters and credentials from the British American Securities company of London, and every day hundreds of such credentials are current and admit representatives into the private offices of community business men. In this case they proved to be manufactured, and now people are wondering why they ever received them in the first place.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING.

The lust for a fortune is not an uncommon feeling among men, and the moral courage to resist taking something for nothing is not reputed to be overvalued among promoters and men who seek a goodly supply of dollars. The bait has caught men before, and Salt Lake has only a few more boom days. In this case they proved to be manufactured, and now people are wondering why they ever received them in the first place.

"DR. KINGSLEY" LAST YEAR.

Mrs. L. C. Robinson of 670 Fifth street, formerly a newspaper woman of Denver, makes an interesting statement about Hope. She saw him here and recognized him easily as "Dr. Ar. Kingsley" of Denver, a man who proved to be a shark of the worst kind there, and who disappeared owing many bills, and deserting a bride of three months, at the Eleventh Avenue hotel. Mrs. Robinson was positive in her identification of Hope as "Dr. Ar. Kingsley" of Denver, a man who proved to be a shark of the worst kind there, and who disappeared owing many bills, and deserting a bride of three months, at the Eleventh Avenue hotel. TURKEY OBJECTS

To United States Raising Legation to Status of an Embassy.

Constantinople, July 10.—Fresh instructions have been sent to the Turkish minister at Washington, Cherik Bey, to renew his efforts to dissuade the authorities here from raising the legation to the status of an embassy.

It appears that when the Turkish government declines to receive Mr. Leishman in the capacity of ambassador under the credentials he now holds, he is acting perfectly within his rights.

THE DEWEY AT OLONGAPO.

Manila, July 10.—The dry dock Dewey arrived at Olongapo this morning. The trip from Singapore was uneventful.

GEN. RUCKER DEAD.

Los Angeles, July 10.—Brig.-Gen. Louis Henry Rucker, U. S. A. (retired) died at his home here today. He was in continuous military service of the United States for more than 40 years. He enlisted at Chicago when the call for troops was first made in 1861, rose from the ranks to high grade and retired, at his own request, as brigadier general, 1902.

HE AND WALSH MATED.

Los Angeles, July 10.—Manager McCarey of the Pacific Athletic club announces that Frankie Neil and Jimmy Walsh have been mated at the rounds in this city Aug. 3, for the bantamweight championship. The men will weigh in at 115 pounds. Walsh is now in London, but has wired that the terms arranged are acceptable to him. Neil is here and will sign the stipulations when the terms agreed upon are presented in writing.

MUST ANSWER FOR CONTEMPT.

Stockton, Cal., July 10.—Charles F. Murphy and W. H. Smith, who made affidavits yesterday charging Juror August Ritter with misconduct during the trial of the defendant's guilt and his determination to see her hanged, were held today for contempt of court and after being questioned by the court and admitting that they had talked with the juror knowing him to be such, they were fined $100 each for contempt of court.

ARRIVAL IN SALT LAKE.

"I came to Salt Lake last winter with my husband and daughter. We were living at a Fourth East street boarding house where this man was brought one evening as a dinner guest, and introduced as Mr. Hope. I knew him in Seattle. It so happened that I was seated next to him at the table. I talked to him and he told me that he believed I remember meeting you once in Denver."

"I was never in Denver," Hope replied. He looked uneasy when I mentioned Denver, so I said nothing more to him about it.

"Hope was expected to come to the board of health to live. He engaged suit of three rooms. I knew he would never come there after recognizing me, because he knew I was acquainted with his Denver record."

MYSTERIOUS FIRE IN CITY OF PROVO

That It Was Work of an Incendiary is Unquestioned.

OIL USED ON FURNITURE.

Family Had Narrow Escape—House Saved But Contents Were Destroyed—Department Did Good Work.

(Special to the "News.") Provo, July 10.—A mysterious fire which is puzzling everybody interested occurred at 12:35 this morning at the residence of L. Sigler, corner of Sixth North and Third East. That the fire was the work of an incendiary is unquestioned. Who the party was, however, is another matter.

The Sigler family was sleeping in the rear of the house and the fire broke out in the four front rooms. Investigation proved that the settee and upholstered furniture in the rooms had been liberally sprinkled with oil and then set on fire.

The alarm was turned in by Mr. Sigler, who, owing to the fierceness of the flames, could not use his own telephone and was forced to run to a neighbor's house to raise the alarm. The fire department turned out promptly and performed efficient work with the result that the house itself was saved.

The furniture was insured for $1,000, but is said to have been worth considerably more than that sum. Mr. Sigler is a traveling man employed by an eastern house.

CRIMINAL CASES.

In the Fourth district court this morning the jury in the Myers case brought in a verdict of guilty. The young man will be brought up for sentence on Thursday.

Myers was arrested in a rooming house with an incriminating bill held in his hand. He had been held in custody because he could get them to work with him the local directorate of the Western Coal & Iron company. His trip to Boston was in the interests of getting the real feathers for his nest, and he intended to use these western associates to give him the responsibility to his operations, and as references as to his standing and ability to deliver the goods he claimed to possess. It was the exposure of Hope in Salt Lake which prevented him from selling the wide of Utah, and larger part of Nevada to the Boston millionaire.

I think he will make himself mighty scarce from now on."

Among others who crossed the English lord's trail is B. F. Grant, who tried to sell him some mining property and other things who was let out of the Shoshone Power company, through the absorption of his work as sales agent, by Mr. Hope. He says he bet a suit of clothes Hope would never come through with a cent of money on the deal he claimed to be financing, and now has the suit worn, he thinks Heber M. Wells met him, and sized him up for a bad one right from the start. Gov. Wells is not doing any shouting now, but friends of his recall the fact that he was not backward in denouncing the man who was bent on his transactions, and advising his friends not to mix in the proposed deal. John A. Bagley of Idaho, has left Hope in Boston and gone to New York. He is still convinced the man is all right.

HOW THE BRITISH PRESERVE FRUITS

Inspectors' Reports Show the Factories Are Dirty and the Methods Disgusting.

WASHING OF THE JAM POTS

Done in a "Liquid-like Dark Soup, Which Smelled Abominably"—Changed Weekly.

London, July 10.—The British who have been so virtuous recently over the Chicago meat packing revelations were today confronted with the annual report of the inspector of factories and workshops which shows that the conditions here are quite as revolting as anything alleged of the western packing centers. Dirty factories and disgusting methods seem to be the rule, instead of the exception. Jam factories, bakeries and sausage makers are all censured as being equally filthy and the description of one fits most of the others. Here is the report of a typical jam factory:

The boiling room lay between the yard and the stable and the horses reached the latter through the boiling room. The sanitary accommodation was hardly separated from the rooms where the fresh fruit and uncovered jam were kept and the floors were dirty and unclean.

THAW'S MOTHER

Said Asked Embassy in London To Break up Son's Relation With Evelyn.

MANAGER LEDERER'S STORY.

Handled "The Wild Rose" Company When Mrs. Thaw Was a Member of It.

New York, July 10.—The presence of Mrs. William Holman, mother of Mrs. Harry K. Thaw, is said to be much desired at the district attorney's office. According to the report the attorney who are at work on the prosecution's case would like to question Mrs. Holman particularly with regard to one of the trips to Europe made by Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit. According to one story, while Thaw and the girl were in London an appeal was made to the American embassy to break up the relations between Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit and have the girl sent home. This appeal, it is said, was made by Stanford White, who acted on the request of Mrs. Holman. It was at this time, the story goes, that Mrs. Holman was much prejudiced against Thaw.

It was said today that if Mrs. Holman should come within the territory covered by a subpoena from the district attorney she should be at once summoned to his office.

James J. Philadelphia, who was manager of "The Wild Rose" company when Mrs. Thaw was a member of the chorus, was examined by Asst. Dist. Atty. Garvan today. Lederer is said to have told Mr. Garvan that he had long believed Thaw to be insane. This opinion, he said, was based upon his observations of Thaw during the time "The Wild Rose" company was playing in this city. In this connection he mentioned several incidents in which Thaw was the central figure. "It was common talk among all the people," he said, "that Lederer, 'that Thaw was a dope fiend.' I recall one night when Thaw was about to send two of his chorus girl acquaintances home in a hansom cab. He was there with a friend of his named Mackay.

Suddenly Thaw insisted in trying to jump over the roof of the hansom. Of course he could not actually jump over the roof of the cab, but he tried and succeeded in crawling up one side of the cab, over the roof and down the other side. Mackay remonstrated with him but it was no use. Then Mackay apparently disgusted, turned aside and said 'You can't do anything with a crazy man; he's a drug addict.'

Edna McClure, the show girl who appeared before Asst. Dist. Atty. Garvan yesterday for examination concerning the Thaw-White tragedy, said today that she did not tell Mr. Garvan of any threats made by Thaw against White. She never heard such threats. She said she told Mr. Garvan of many threats made by Thaw against White, but that of their truth or falsity she had no knowledge.

ROJESTVENSKY DULY ACQUITTED

Was Charged With Surrendering After the Battle of the Sea Of Japan Began.

FOUR OFFICERS FOUND GUILTY

All Condemned to Death—Emperor Will be Asked to Commute Sentences.

Admiral's Acquittal Was on Ground That He Was Not in His Full Senses at the Time.

Cronstadt, Russia, July 10.—Admiral Rojestvensky, whose trial on the charge of surrendering to the enemy after the battle of the Sea of Japan began before a court-martial here July 4, was acquitted today after the court had deliberated for nearly 10 hours. Four officers of the torpedo boat destroyed Redovi who were placed on trial with the admiral were found guilty of having premeditatedly surrendered the Redovi and all four were condemned to death by shooting. But on account of extenuating circumstances, the emperor will be requested to commute the sentence of the four officers to dismissal from the service and to be deprived of certain rights which they would otherwise enjoy.

Grounds of Acquittal.

St. Petersburg, July 10.—The full report of the Cronstadt court-martial shows that Admiral Rojestvensky was acquitted on the ground that he was not in his full senses and therefore was not accountable for what transpired at the time of the surrender.

Some of the officers who were tried with Rojestvensky were acquitted, their guilt not being proved. The recommendations for mercy in the case of Capt. De Colonge, chief of Rojestvensky's staff, Capt. Baranoff, of the torpedo boat destroyer Redovi, Filippovsky and Leontiev, who were found guilty and sentenced to be shot, were in accordance with the regulations and based on the physical and mental demoralization produced by the long voyage and shock of the disaster in battle. They were also credited with a desire to save the life of Rojestvensky.
