ENGLAND'S TINY BICYCLIST.

Doubtless the smallest wheelman in the world—though he is growing at a remarkable rate—He is two years and two months old, and is the proud possessor of a bicycle made especially for him which has twelve inch wheels. Though he is still too young to ride, he goes wheeling daily on his father's and takes long distances on his little bicycle.

PLAYED GOOD GAME.

The first game was intended as a sort of preliminary to the big contest but it proved very interesting as both teams put up a splendid game. The players played like their lives depended upon the result and there was considerable rough work. One can see for this was the defeating team ended by the losers. The game ended by a score of 13 to 12 for the Salt Lakers. Of the 13 points scored by the L. D. S. U. 12 were made 12. The other point was made by Steffensen on a free throw. Fischer and Testel were the stars for the B. Y. U. team.

At the sound of the referee's whistle the teams began a determined fight and in the first half, one end of the half the score was even, 6 to 6, but in the second the L. D. S. U. players landed the winning point after a hard struggle.

GIrls GIVE DRILL.

Between the first and second games, the B. Y. U. girls gave a pennant drill that was decidedly entertaining. The girls were warmly congratulated for the execution of the drill.

When the big game began the rooting was something wonderful to hear. The cheerers and college yellers were almost loud enough to raise the roof. From the moment the ball was put into play until the whistle called time for the end, the contests raged furiously, everyone playing doing his very best to win. Within a minute after the beginning of the struggle Taylor for the L. D. S. U. made a long field throw and scored. Then came a foul and a free throw which scored and Miller followed it up with another difficult basket from thirty-five and thirty-minute halves.

SET FAST PACE.

About the fastest pace ever set in a basketball game started when the whistle blew for the beginning of the second half. Both teams started out with a rush. The B. Y. U. team played with fury that could not be checked and soon had the score even, 12 to 12. Freshmen and field goal experts made the visitors a couple of points and the home team landed a hard field basket. With the slight lead over the B. Y. U. team the visiting players were content with preventing their rivals from scoring again.

The line-up was as follows:

W. Y. U.	L. D. S. U.
Chamberlain, L. F.	L. D. S. Taylor
... R. F.	Muller
Christensen, C.	Hornswall
R. G.	Beck

I have been troubled with a terrible headache for the last ten years; the doctors have told me that I saw Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill, so I thought I would try a sample. I did so, and took it, and it would not help me so badly. I would hardly dare to work, so I went to the drug store, and got it. In a couple of hours I was well again. It was the first medicine to do me any good.
