Utah Cattle to Colorado.

Salina Press: Swickard & Harris, of Sterling, Colo., have purchased the entire lot of cattle, about 3,000 head, owned by the Deseret Cattle company, and 1,200 of the animals are now being driven to Price for shipment. The average price paid for the cattle was $18 per head. It is a choice lot of cattle and should go out of Utah for the best kind of advertising in the State. The animals will be put on the range in northeastern Colorado, on the Platte river, and gotten in shape for the fall markets.

From the Whyte Field.

Elder Henry M. Peters of Ainsworth was among the returning Elders who called at the "Home" on Friday, May 13, 1898, he left this city in order to perform missionary labor in China. He never even mingled in that race and was just beginning to learn the language. He learned about six weeks in the Gethsemane sanitarium, and suffered over four feet of the flesh from the muscles of the ribs. He returned somewhat June 11th. Elder Peters feels quite thankful for the kind remembrance of missionary work. The Elders are as a rule well received and liberally aid by the people. Elder Peters crossed the Atlantic in the Parisian and he had, he says, a most enjoyable voyage.

Elder James P. Jensen of Salt Lake City, who left a number of months ago, during session on May 5, 1898, returned on June 17, 1898, having spent a profitable and enjoyable time in the mission field. He was ordered to labor in Denmark and traveled in various conferences. He reports that the saints are enduring the trials of the times in a manner worthy of the Elders, and he has had a hard time to keep his friends. He returned in good health and spirit.
