THAT MEMORIAL.

IN another place will be found one more of those annual memorials to Congress, got up by a few interested, unscrupulous, and disloyal persons, for the purpose of inducing special and proscriptive legislation affecting this Territory.

In the memorial is the old string of hatched up, superficial, misrepresentative and lying charges against the citizens of Utah, with which charges, one would think, Congress must have been more than surfeited ere this.

Just as regularly as the sessions of Congress come round, these conspiratorial memorials are prepared and forwarded to Washington, the summer interim being more or less employed by their originators and supporters, in endeavors to manipulate circumstances so as to give color and apparent consistency to the false charges and vile misrepresentations in the memorials. As in past years, so for the coming winter there is no reason to doubt that the blackest miscoloring of facts and the most unmitigated and the most concentrated lies will be resorted to for the furtherance of the schemes of these unpatriotic plotters against the peace, good order, and welfare of the Territory.

Without going into details, we may say in brief that the real object of these enemies of their country is virtually to concentrate all the executive, legislative and judicial power in the Territory in the hands of the governor, the secretary, the judges, the marshal and the attorney—seven Federal officials, leaving the territorial legislature and the territorial and other local officers without any real authority of importance, or at least with only the shadow of such authority and the hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants of the Territory under the condition of serfs under the dictatorial heels of half a dozen Federal satraps.

If such is the object of the Federal Union, and if Congress and the country are prepared for the inauguration of such a despotic form of government, we shall know it soon enough, but without doubt that is the aim of the getters up of these memorials, and those disreputable characters appear to be so lost to all sense of liberty, decency and virtue as to stick at nothing that happens to be in the way of the accomplishment of their sinister and ruinous purposes.

FOUND GUILTY.—Captain Clarke, of the ship Sunrise, has been found guilty, at San Francisco, upon seven out of thirteen counts of the indictment against him, including beating and wounding and cruel and unusual punishment, and Dennis Maloney, the second mate, upon one out of ten counts—beating Miller with a belaying pin. Five years' imprisonment in the State prison for each offense is the full penalty of the law, thus making thirty-five years for the Captain, if the extreme penalty is inflicted upon him, which it is to be hoped will be, for says a local paper, "The verdict in this case affords general satisfaction to the entire community, and it is to be hoped the lesson it teaches will not be lost upon other brutal shipmasters. The right and the positive duty of a Captain to enforce prompt obedience from his subordinates is universally admitted; but there is no necessity and no excuse for savage and heartless brutality such as has been exhibited by Captain Clarke and the arch-fiend Harris, his first officer."

The captain was placed under $25,000 bail to appear on Monday, Nov. 3, for sentence. It is about time that the perpetrators of the cruel, disgusting, heartless brutality and barbarity of treatment frequently meted out to sailors received condign punishment.

OUR COUNTRY CONTEMPORARIES.

The Corinne Reporter Oct. 30—

Peaches and other fruit are for sale from wagons coming in every day.

The police officers inform us that there are two or three suspicious characters in town, who had better tabernacle in some other locality.

We are informed this morning that Messrs. Fyfer & Davis, well known here, and now doing business at Tecoma, had a difficulty yesterday, in which the latter shot the former, dangerously wounding him.

Last evening the Corinne brass band presented their leader, Mr. J. F. De Vol, a beautiful, richly mounted cornet. The instrument is a beauty, being of the latest design, and has that clear, musical tone which so plainly distinguishes the cornet of to-day from the cornet of ten years ago. It has a neatly engraved inscription on the chief mounting: "Presented to J. F. De Vol by the members of the Corinne brass band."

Mr. De Vol is an efficient leader, and the present is a fit tribute to the interest he has taken in training the band.

Over two hundred ounces of gold dust arrived from Carriboo yesterday. The greater portion of which —175 ounces—came from the hydraulic claims of James McLain, Esq., while the balance was brought down by Maj. Moore. The dust was exhibited in this office, and was of the finest quality—clean and heavy. A considerable quantity was also brought in from the same camp by Chinamen. Most all of the dust coming in is bought at the Bank of Corinne.

There may be those at home and abroad who think that the statements of the arrivals of dust from Carriboo are newspaper exaggerations; but they are actual occurrences, as can be seen by all who will take the trouble to inquire into the matter and see for themselves.

Ogden Junction, Oct. 31—

The sheet-iron covering of the roof on the Co-op store was removed this morning, and a new tin covering is being placed in its stead.

As Mr. C. Woodmansee was passing the store, when the men were throwing off pices of sheeting from the roof, he was struck on the head, but not much injured.

We were shown a pebble, presented to Mr. John J. Mahon, resembling an amethyst, which was drawn from the bed of Lake Tahoe, on the summit of the Sierra Nevada, 1,550 feet from the surface of the water. While sounding the depth of the lake, this pebble adhered to the lead which was used. As far as can be ascertained, the bottom from which it was taken is the deepest part of the lake.

[illegible] arriving as usual to make its monthly payments to the employees of the Union Pacific road, is the subject of comment. It is impossible to say when it will arrive. We are informed that the extreme stringency of the money market, and the heavy drain upon the resources of the Company from the East, are causes which occasion the delay. Much inconvenience is suffered by the employees and their creditors on account of the car not coming to time.

The Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, was well attended by ladies and gentlemen, who were present to listen to the discourses of Miss E. R. Snow, Mrs. Pickett, Mrs. Woodruff, Mrs. Kimball and Mrs. Smith, at the invitation of the Ladies' Relief Society. The lectures were marked with graceful allusions to the necessity of women turning their attention to the useful pursuits of life, and to the cultivation of the graces of mind and person which embellish a home. The study of physiology was particularly urged as an important auxiliary in advancing the welfare of the family, and as being a more important study for women than for men. In this connection we are authorized to state that Mr. Monch will open a class in physiology as a branch of study in his school.

A quilt and a carpet, the work of young ladies of this city, which took the prize at the late fair in Salt Lake, were exhibited. The proceedings were highly interesting.

Provo Times, Oct. 30.

We hear that the Beaver Enterprise is to be resuscitated with its former proprietors on Monday next.

We again call the attention of the city authorities to the fact that the railroad is nearly here, and some steps should be taken to celebrate its arrival. It will be a great day for Provo when the locomotive makes its first appearance in our streets, and let us show that we appreciate the fact by a general rejoicing and a holiday.

THE MORMON - EATEL'S MEMORIAL.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress Assembled:

Your memorialists, citizens of the United States, and residents of the Territory of Utah, respectfully represent that a political party in Utah, acting now, as always heretofore, as a unit, has by the abuse of all power, political, judicial, and ministerial, entrusted to the Territory, so antagonized what they choose to call religion with civil government, that the administration of justice has been, and continues to be, utterly paralyzed. This political party, having no sympathy or views in common with the American people, or with republican institutions, holds, and in all its proceedings acts upon the dogma that its organization is destined to subvert all secular governments, and usurp their functions, in the name of religion, under the form of theocracy. This treason, under the malign influence of a preposterous creed, has been accompanied by a chronic spirit of rebellion, as the natural consequence somethings flagrant at all times hostile, to republican institutions.

This political party (openly proclaimed and always acting as such) has opposed, and still opposes the cause of education; by its practices, it scandalizes the civilization of the age, and strikes at the foundation of society; it oppresses and plunders its ignorant dupes, and outlaws such as dare to claim the rights of free citizens. Possessed of the machinery of juries, it has ever given immunity to crime which feeds a system produces and encourages. It has, by its systematic policy, with its whole legislative power and ministerial violence, denied to the citizens of the United states the free enjoyment of the agricultural public lands, and, in short, it has usurped by every means and as far as possible, all the powers of civil government in the hand of a church. It has debased and relegated legislative power to the winds, refusing to pass wholesome and necessary laws, but enacting unjust and oppressive laws. Its partisans, holding all the local and judicial offices, not only prostitute their legitimate authority to these common ends, but usurp the jurisdiction of the superior courts established by Congress, and deny their authority.

Under these circumstances, the administration of the law in Utah is at a dead standstill, and crimes go unpunished. The large and material interests, now rapidly growing and expanding, are substantially without the protection of law. Life and property are held at the mercy of this inimical and secret organization, rather than under the protection of civil government and wholesome laws, as we have a right to demand.

Your memorialists, therefore, pray that your Honorable Body do pass such laws as may be necessary to correct these evils and abuses, and give us the protection of free civil government, and at the same time bring the Territory of Utah into harmony with the Federal government and Republican institutions.

And to this end we shall ever pray.

More Financial Trouble—T. Tilton Expelled—Sale of Church Property—Reception—Bricklayers' Meeting—Providing for the Homeless.

NEW YORK, 1.—The house of B. Claflin is freely spoken of this a. m. as in trouble. It is stated that an adjourned meeting of those interested in the house will be held at noon to-day. Stocks have fallen off, and the Bank of England has fixed its discount rate at 8 per cent. At this time nobody seems to see the end.

The name of Theodore Tilton, at the Plymouth Church, last evening was erased from the roll of members. Tilton, who was present, denied the authority of the Church in his case, owing to the fact that for four years previously he had not attended a meeting in Plymouth Church, and was not a member. He was prepared, however, to answer to anything whereof the ministry of the Church might accuse him. Beecher, in his address, said, "I do not believe Mr. Tilton has desired, in any way whatever, to shirk from his proper responsibility or to evade any proper charge likely to be made against him. I have none. Whatever difference, there have been between us have been adjusted, and so far as I am concerned they are buried. I have no charges to make. This whole matter has been against my judgment. I have said to the brethren who were interested in it, and who have acted sincerely and honestly, I believe if you take up this matter you will stop the proper business of the church and will reach a point at which you can do nothing, and you will end just where you began. The opinion I held from the beginning, I hold still."

A letter from Rome says, according to a report in the official journal, the ecclesiastical property sold under the hammer in September in the whole kingdom of Italy, brought 3,153,000 francs, consisting of 1,397 lots. The valuation which the government had fixed upon this property was 4,287,000 francs. During the current year 11,333 parcels have been sold, bringing 28,138,000 francs. From the end of September, 1867, until the end of September of the present year 88,330 lots have been sold, bringing 333,100,000 francs. The price at which the property was put up, as represented by the gross sum of 430,107,828 francs, showing a difference of about one quarter between the [illegible] estimated value and the price realized.

The colored citizens give a reception, at the Cooper Union, last evening, to Lord Churchill and others, in recognition of the services of the philanthropists of England and Europe in the cause of liberty and the spread of the Gospel.

The failure of James H. Jordan, stock broker, is announced.

The bricklayers and masons will meet to-night to determine whether or not they will accept the situation and agree to the reduction of wages decided upon by the employers. The bricklayers of Washington have commenced a strike.

The commissioners of charities are taking possession of the unoccupied buildings belonging to the city and putting them in order, that a shelter may be given to the homeless poor during the winter.

Polygamy in Utah.

To the Editor of the Bolton Week'y Guardian:

Sir,—I observed, a short time ago, in your valuable paper, a letter written in defence of polygamy, by a woman formerly of Westhoughton, now of Utah, which had been written in consequence of a letter published in your paper by a Mr. Chatburn, a relative in part to myself, to which I made no reply. Again I saw of late another letter, by some party signing himself "Equality," who seems to be not a little surprised that an English woman, who has been brought up so near Bolton, as Halliwell, or Westhoughton, should defend polygamy; and it is "really startling," (using "Equality's" own words). I would like to know what there is particularly wonderful about Halliwell or Westhoughton, that a woman should not defend the rights of woman, as taught in the Bible, or even dictated by good sense. The lady referred to has lived where both monogamy and polygamy are practised. "Equality" may not even be married. "Equality" says "we, as a Christian people, who believe in the teachings of the Bible, don't believe in polygamy." I would like to know what part of the Bible condemns polygamy, or even finds fault with it, as being a crime amongst good men. "Equality" refers to the sayings of St. Paul. I think if he will refer again to the passage he alludes to, he will conclude that a man was not fit to be a bishop or a deacon unless married, and I think it will puzzle "Equality" to find wherever Paul attempted to find the least fault with polygamy or name it as a crime. If "Equality" be a reader of history, he will know that the Jews always did practise polygamy in the eastern countries, and that Jesus was a descendant through a line of polygamists, his mother being of the house of David, and, through the loin of Solomon, of the blood of Abram, Isaac, and Jacob, the fathers of the Jews, through whose seed should all the nations of the earth be blessed. In no one instance did ever Jesus find fault with his ancestors for being polygamists, but always spoke of them as worthy men. When Jesus and his Apostles were upon the earth it seemed to be a special part of their mission to speak against whoredom, fornication, and adultery, but never against polygamy. Polygamy as practised by the Latter-day Saints in Utah, and as practised in Halliwell, Westhoughton, and Bolton, are very different. I consider the laws of Great Britain just in punishing men in this country for having more than one wife at one time from the fact that such men do not love them both, but forsake and neglect the one, by cohabiting with the other to her shame and her ruin. This is not the case in Utah, neither was it with good men of old. I shall not be alive to see it, but I believe that there are thousands of good women, who are wives in Lancashire as well as other places, who would be pounds to peanuts that the Christian man of this country, so-called, did not use women as mere machines for their pleasure, as "Equality" speaks of. Again, "Equality" says woman is highly endowed as well as man, and if she conducts herself properly will be an ornament in society. What a remark to make of woman—mothers and sisters. "If she conducts herself properly." Speaking of women in general, I may here say if men would conduct themselves half as well as the women do, society would be in a much better condition than it is at present, and but few women would be found who would not prefer to become honorable wives and mothers, than the mere machines of men, using "Equality's" words. Thousands of women can be found seduced, ruined, and forsaken by these Christian men of this land, who no doubt pretend to be believers in the Bible. I supposed the writer of the letter signed "Equality" to infer that woman should have equal rights with man. I long to see the day in Lancashire, as it is now in Utah, that a woman can claim her rights, and have them defended. In Utah a man is proud of his wife, or wives, and their children, and looks upon them as a gift from God. "Equality" wants to know if God intended man to have more than one wife at one time, why he did not make Adam more than one in the beginning? I am surprised at persons asking why God did this, that, and the other, as though "Equality" was able to give a reason for all God has made or done in the beginning. They might just as well ask themselves the question why God made woman at all; and why not have man so made as to produce his own offspring and nurse his own babies, although he might have to work in the mill to support them, like thousands of women have to do to support their own children at the present time in Lancashire. Next Sunday it is my intention to deliver an address in the Latter-day Saints' meeting room, Bury street, Bolton, meeting to commence at half-past six in the evening. I shall endeavor to show why polygamy is practiced in Utah, and that when entered into according to the laws of God it is a great check against so many poor, miserable drunken men who marry women and treat them as slaves to fools. If you will insert this letter in your valuable paper, you will greatly oblige.—Yours, &c.,

JOSEPH BIRCH,
A native of Lancashire, late of Utah.

WHY A PATENT SHOULD NOT BE ISSUED.

THIS more fully appears from the following allegations, which occurs in his "protest" in the "Flagstaff" case, and is urged as another reason why the patent should not issue to the applicants:

"And this affiant further deposes upon information and belief, that the said Salt Lake Mining Company, the within named applicants for patent of the said Flagstaff lode, to wit: S. H. Groesbeck, N. Groesbeck, William Groesbeck, Joseph Schneider, John A. Groesbeck, Stephen Groe beck, J. Albert Groesbeck and Joseph S. Wing, are each and every of them Mormons, members of the Mormon Church, Territory of Utah, and each and every of them, as this affiant is informed, and believes to be true, practising and living in polygamy; each and every of them having more than one living wife; and as this affiant says that said named persons comprising said corporation are not law-abiding citizens of the United States. * * * * *
