Saved His life.

Saved His life,

J. W. Davenport, Winge, Ky., writes, June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you i believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump in my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer, I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first aplication gave me great relief; two fifty cent hottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." 25c. 50c. $1.00. Sold by Z. C. M.

"KID" BRAY CASE.

Restaurant Man Goes Free on One Charge, but Has Others to Face.

In the case of the city vs Kid Bray, Second South restaurant man, charged with violating the ordinance relating to weights and measures, by refusing to permit City Sealer Richards to examine scales in the restaurant, came to trial before Judge Diehl yesterday afternoon.

Atty. Soren X. Christensen, for the defense, held that Mr. Richards had no right to examine the scales, as they were not used in weighing anything sold to the public, but were for Bray's private use. Mr. Christensen held that the scaler of weights and measures might just as well go into a private home and demand to inspect the scales used by the cook. Judge Diehl held that the point was well taken, and discharged Bray.

A Judicious Inquiry.

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommend Cham-berlain's Cough Remedy., The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger n giving it, and for coughs, colds and roup it is unsurpassed. For sale by all

Some Seasonable Advice.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamber-lain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory re-sults are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so wide y known and so altogether good that to one should hesitate about buying in preference to any other. It is for sale by all druggists.

GRIM TRAGEDY OF THE DESERT.

Sad Story of Death by Thirst of A Salt Laker in Arizona.

FATE OF CHARLES LLEWELLYN.

Charles H. Keysor Tells How He Found The Demented Man Wandering In a Circle.

A sad story was that told to the police yesterday afternoon, by Charles H. Keysor, a prospector from Arizona, about Charles Llewellyn, a young man aged 28, formerly of this city, whom he found perishing from thirst on the Yuma desert, two miles from Cullen Springs. Keysor came to Salt Lake in the interest of mining claims he had located on the desert, and brought with him the particulars of Liewellyn's trag-ic fate. He stated that one day last June as he was walking along a ridge he noticed a man walking in a circle at a distance, and his actions indicated that he was demented. Keysor hurried to the sufferer's relief, and found him in a dying condition from thirst. His tengue protruded from his mouth and was so swollen that when Keysor tried to give him water from his own caneen, he was unable to do so; and dewellyn was unable to speak a word His hair and beard were long, and clothes worn and torn, indicating that he had been away from civilization for

Mr. Keysor carried the unfortunate man to his camp, and by inserting a quill into his mouth managed to get glycerine, water and brandy down his throat; but it was too late. Liewellyn lingered in a semi-conscious state for three days, and died without being able to speak. Mr. Keysor buried the poor fellow in a rude coffin made from tim-ber he cut himself, and wrapped the body in a quilt. An undecipherable letter was found on Liewellyn's person, algned J. Cronin, and with a recognizable word here and there showing pre vious Salt Lake connections. The police are aiding Mr. Keysor in trying to unravel the mystery attending his identity, and it is believed that Charles W. Liewellyn, who removed from this city o California some months ago, was the young man's father. There is only one J. Cronin in the city directory, and he resides at Twelfth East and Twelfth South streets. There is also a J. Croning at Eureka, a shoemaker.

Change.

No matter which candidate is elected, Fotey's Honey and Tar will remain the people's favorite remedy for coughs, colds and inciplent consumption. It cures colds quickly and prevents pneumonia. A. J. Nushaum, Batesville, Ind., writes: "I suffered for three months with a sovere cold. A druggists prepared me some medicine, and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried Foley's Honey and Tar and eight doses cured me," Sold by F. J. Hill Drug Co.

TO THE LIVE STOCKMEN.

President Hagenbarth of Salt Lake Writes on Reorganizing Association.

President Hagenbarth of Salt Lake has had the following letter issued from the Denver office and sent broad. cast to the membes of the National Live Stock association: Mr. Charles F. Martin, secretary of this association, almost since its or-ganization, died suddenly at Greeley, Colo., on Sept. 21, 1904, as a result of hemorrhage of the lungs.

At the time of his death, Mr. Martin was en route from Denver to Casper, Wyo., on association business.

At a meeting of the board of control held in Denver to consider the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Martin, it was decided that no appointment would be made until the convening of the next annual convention which is to be held in Denver the week of Jan. 9, 1905. affairs of the association were placed under the active direction of a committee, consisting of Fred P. Johnson, George W. Ballantine and George L. Goulding of Denver, with H. E. Kenne. dy as clerk in charge of the secretary's office. Communications may be addressed to H. E. Kennedy, Clerk, National Live Stock Association, Denver,

The board of control is of the opinion that at the coming annual conven-tion, steps should be taken looking to a partial reorganization of the association upon lines that will permit of more extensive and practical work than has heretofore been accomplished. demand for an organization represent-ing all of the various branches of the live stock industry has become so strong, that at the coming convention an effort will be made to so amend the constitution and bylaws, as to make of this organization the strongest industrial association in the country.

The officers of the association have received assurances from prominent stockmen and others, of both moraand financial support, providing such action is taken at our coming convention as will put the association upon s broader and more conservative basis than has heretofore obtained. cure this result, it will be necessary to thoroughly revise our constitution and by-laws so as to better equalize the representation and provide a ctive co-operation between the many illied interests that are connected with

The local committee in charge headquarters will address you later and more in detail upon these plans.
