

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

Salt Lake City—Last Sunday Prof. Byron Cummings returned from Berkeley, California, where he was as a member from Utah to the Rhodes Oxford Scholarship convention. This convention adopted the following conditions for entrance at Oxford University: All applicants must pass the requirements in Greek and Latin necessary to elect a classical course in an American college and in addition must have completed the sophomore year of a college course. The applicants must be under 25 years of age and legal residents of the state from which they are appointed, and must have studied two years in an educational institution of that state. All candidates are to be selected by the committee of three, consisting of the president of the state university, a member of the faculty of the state university and one other prominent citizen of the state. Each American student receives three hundred pounds a year for three years. These conditions will be submitted to the authorities at Oxford by Prof. Parkin.

Mrs. Dr. Miles addressed the young ladies of the University Wednesday morning.

On Friday evening, March 25, the freshmen engineers will give a dance in the school of mines building.

Instructor Holmes returned to school on Monday, after having been out two weeks with a bad case of lagrippe.

Ferry Fox, a normal graduate of '97, was a visitor Monday and Tuesday.

On Monday afternoon Dr. Talmage will deliver a lecture before the engineers. His subject is "Investigations as to Apex."

Arrangements have been made for Mr. Clarence T. Johnston, irrigation expert, with headquarters at Cheyenne, Wyoming, to deliver a lecture before the engineering society. Mr. Johnston has traveled extensively in Egypt and has made a study of Egyptian irrigation. He will speak on this subject, and will illustrate his lecture with views taken in Egypt. Mr. Johnston was graduated from the University of Michigan in the class of '95, with Prof. Richard L. Lyman.

Last week the Zeta Gamma elected the following officers: E. H. Burgess, president; George Larson, vice president; Earl Thompson, secretary; H. E. Smith, corresponding secretary; T. M. Reese and J. M. Carlson, members of the program committee. On Friday evening the program was: A talk on "The Pacific Cable Line," H. F. Syndergaard; "Wireless telegraphy," Harry Hanks; "Principal Bills Passed by the Last State Legislature," C. E. Manning.

There was no school on Thursday on account of the bursting of the steam pipe connecting the boiler house with the buildings.

Resolved, that "State Governments Should Own and Operate Distilleries" was debated at Delta Phi on Wednesday. The speakers were E. H. Burgess and J. R. Smith.

Instructor R. L. McChie is at home under quarantine. His chief clerk is sick with scarlet fever. Prof. Cummings and Miss Leona Miller are conducting his Latin classes.

On Thursday evening, Prof. Marshall delivered a lecture in the tabernacle at Ogden under the management of the Weber Stake academy.

On Saturday evening, April 18, the opera "Etravaganza" goes to Provo, under the management of the University band. On that day there will be a track meet between the L. D. S. U. and the B. Y. A. Excursion rates on the railroads have been secured.

The third year normals are quietly preparing their class day exercises. These exercises will be a take off on the graduating normals and will be held the first day of commencement week.

The glee club of the University of Colorado will reach the city tomorrow morning over the R. G. W. They will be met by a committee from the members of the University of Utah band under whose management they will give a concert in Barratt hall Monday evening.

On Friday evening, April 3, "The Last Coat," a laughable farce, will be presented by the Chronicle in the general assembly room. The following is the cast of characters:

Thomas Dana, a painter.....
Richard Wadener, musician.....
Stanley Johnson
Wolfgang Goeth, poet.....Harold Goff
Jones, landlord.....John Condie
Isaac, clothes dealer.....Jay E. Johnson
After the farce an informal hop will be given.

SALT LAKE CITY SCHOOLS

A fair sample of the excellent work being done in music in the city schools was heard at the Y. M. C. A. meeting at the Salt Lake Theater last Sunday afternoon when 100 boys under the direction of Supervisor Wetzel sang in a fine chorus entitled "Boyhood's Happy Days." They were most enthusiastically received and cheered with "Swinging Swinging."

The work in Webster seventh grade geography was pleasantly as well as profitably added on Wednesday by the presence of Mrs. Jennie Musser, who talked to the classes on the Hawaiian Islands. A very fine collection of photos was loaned for the occasion and Mrs. Musser had samples of products, work done in the industrial schools and clothing, as well as a valuable fund of information as to life, custom, education and industries of the natives. A vote of thanks is here extended to Mrs. Musser by the pupils and teachers who enjoyed her talk.

Mrs. Stevens is supplying in the Lowell.

Some very fine specimens of over hand patching and hemmed patching are to be seen at the city and county building which have been done by pupils of the west side school under the able direction of Mrs. Tomlinson.

Miss Estella Engelman of Lowell left for California Monday in answer to a telegram announcing the illness of her mother.

A very spirited competition took place in U. S. history eighth grade class on Monday last at the Webster. Elly Geary and Minnie Williams were captains and the contest closed with sides even. The period extended over the revolution.

Mr. Wetzel, supervisor of music, spent three days visiting the various departments of the Washington this week.

Pupils of Miss Katherine McKenzie's room in the Ogden school were very justly proud of their record of 21 pupils not absent or tardy for the year.

Mrs. Elliot has so far recovered as to be able to meet her sixth grade teachers on Friday in order to outline work for the coming month.

Miss Georgia McManus, supervisor of writing, visited the Ogden, Lincoln and Franklin this week.

INFLUENZA AGAIN

ANOTHER EPIDEMIC OF THE GRIP IS ANTICIPATED.

Many Cases Reported Already in this Part of the Country—A Common-Sense Remedy for the Disease and Its Effects.

Owing to the climatic conditions this year many physicians fear another epidemic of the grip, that form of influenza which so many have cause to remember. In some cases this disease has run its course with but little more severity than a hard cold, in others it has caused acute sickness. In nearly every case it has left a train of after-effects more troublesome than the disease itself. It is characteristic of the grip that ordinary medicines will not cure it permanently. The patient seems to have recovered and then suffers a relapse more severe than the first attack. The trouble in such cases is that the disease was not thoroughly eradicated from the system by the treatment employed.

Miss C. A. Peck of No. 633 East Fourteenth street, Minneapolis, Minn., had a very severe attack of grip in 1889, and it left her prostrated. "I could not get over that feeling of utter exhaustion," she says. "I had no ambition to do anything and my little exertion made me out of breath and tired out. I grew thin, nervous and irritable. Then I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and the first box made me feel better. Four boxes restored me to my natural good health."

The after-effects of the grip are often worse than the disease and many times they baffle all efforts of the best physicians to drive them out of the system. Health is shattered—the blood becomes poor, the flesh falls away, the sufferer grows nervous and irritable, and even slight exertion causes shortness of breath. These are dangerous symptoms and indicate that the system is in a state that invites pneumonia, bronchitis or even consumption. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People will quickly restore the health after an attack of grip, and expel the lingering germs, and, working through the blood, will render the system proof against the disease. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., fifty cents a box; six boxes for two dollars and fifty cents.

The series of interpretative lectures, to be given by Prof. S. H. Clark of the Chicago University, at Barratt hall have received the very best order of press notices from the eastern papers. It certainly is a good opportunity of which the teachers will gladly avail themselves.

L. D. S. UNIVERSITY.

Salt Lake City—Sunday Prof. Henry Peterson visited Richmond in the interest of the Deseret Sunday School Union board.

Edward H. Holt of the Brigham Young academy faculty visited the L. D. S. U. Wednesday.

The last number of Leslie's Weekly—the Utah number—has two excellent cuts of the L. D. S. U. buildings.

Prof. Kent has been training the students almost daily for the last week to sing the various school choruses. Another chorus has just been composed in honor of the Rho Beta Pi society.

Wednesday Dr. J. M. Tanner was a visitor in the school, spending most of the day with us. He attended devotional exercises, visited many classes, and took luncheon in the students' dining room in the Lion House.

Students in Latin C are at present reading Viri Romae. The class in Latin D is reading Cicero's orations.

The members of the class in physics complain that the study of heat does not seem to hasten the advent of summer, while field work in geology has been again postponed by the recent snow storm.

Monday evening in Barratt hall the University of Colorado Glee and Mandolin clubs will give a concert. The society is now making its seventh annual tour. The troupe consists of 25 people.

The faculty invited the officers of all the students' societies to be their guests at a visit to the Utah Art Institute Friday afternoon, and many of the officers availed themselves of the privilege of inspecting the interesting collection of paintings.

An evening class in physical culture for ladies has been organized by Miss Bitner and now meets every Wednesday evening in the gymnasium.

Another class of beginners in stenography is ready for promotion to dictation work. Within the last week three lady students in the short hand and typewriting courses have taken good positions.

John Williams, a student in the business college, has been ill for a considerable period of time and has recently returned to his home in Canada. He is missed here, and we hope for his early recovery.

The botany students are now studying the geographical distribution of plants and the relation of the vegetable kingdom to the animal world.

Lester Mangum, a former student of the B. Y. A., visited school Thursday afternoon. Elder Mangum returned from a two years' mission to Turkey a little over two weeks ago.

Tuesday Mrs. Deblin, instructor in dramatic arts, treated the patrons of the dining room to a better luncheon than usual in honor of St. Patrick's—turnips as emeralds, green peas, olives lettuce, and green pudding.

Several of our students escaped our disagreeable March weather by joining the Tabernacle choir excursion. Among the number are the Misses Maggie McChie, Elizabeth Nebeker, Rhoda Miller and Messrs. Noel Pratt and James Hurl.

As review work the students in Prof. Whitcomb's theology class have been giving lectures on various Old Testament historical topics. Third year students in theology have been delivering sermons on the more obscure texts in the New Testament.

Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock the students of the High school department held a meeting in Barratt hall. The following very entertaining program was rendered:

Recitation.....Miss Vida Fox
Piano solo.....Miss Alice Dunbar
Vocal solo.....Miss Edith Grant
Male chorus.....High School Boys

Miss Leona Taylor, one of the teachers in the kindergarten department, is in California with Utah's singers, and the following teachers and students accompanied the "champions" to Logan: President J. H. Paul, Prof. Jensen, Instructors Hicks and Larsen, the Misses Woolley and Erickson, and Messrs. Horace Black, Murdoch and Rawlins.

Arrangements have been made for a basketball contest between the teams of Colorado university and the L. D. S. U. Two games will be played in the Salt Lake Theater, one on March 27, the other on April 1. The Cheyenne business college basketball team is also very anxious to meet our "champions."

Thursday, the Ogden High school girls' basketball team challenged the L. D. S. U. girls' team. The challenge was accepted and the game will be played in the immediate future. Today our "fair team" will play the B. Y. A. girls.

A large attendance is expected at the intercollegiate debate in Barratt hall
