BINGHAM.

SHOCKING DEATH ON THE RAIL.

David P. Brown, Agent Pioneer Resident, Struck by Engine.

Bingham Junction, Salt Lake Co., Oct. 22.—While picking up coal on the side of the B. O. W. tracks last evening, David P. Brown, aged 70 years, an early settler of this place, was struck by the engine of the passenger train from Bingham and instantly killed. His body lying mangled beyond recognition.

Deputy Sheriff Beekstead was notified and took charge of the body until Undertaker Joseph E. Taylor arrived. It was decided that no inquest was necessary. The engineer was not aware that anything had happened, hence did not stop his train. After arriving in Salt Lake City he was made aware of the fact.

David P. Brown was born in the state of New York, Dec. 9, 1837. In 1849, when 12 years of age, he, his father, stamator and half-sister emigrated to Utah, remaining in Salt Lake City for two years. In 1851, during the winter, he returned to California, where he remained until 1857, when he returned and located in Provo. In 1858 he moved to West Jordan (now Bingham Junction), where he has since resided. He married Sarah O. Newell of Castville in 1860. They had a family of 16 children, six girls and four boys. One of the boys, their daughter Eva and son Melvin are now in California, and daughter Ruby is in Nevada.

Threshing is still in progress. The large wheat crop and the present price of wheat give the farmers that prosperous feeling so common now-a-days.

CARDSTON, CANADA

LIGHTNING WEATHER CHANGES

Good Prices for Banner Crops—Wedding Bells—Off for Mission Fields.

Special Correspondence.

Cardston, Alberta, Canada, Oct. 17.—Those who have followed the correspondence from this northern locality for a few years past, will wonder at the lightning-like changes which occur in the climatic conditions. One day only the very best is in evidence and then again almost without warning, too, such a change will happen as to make it almost almost impossible to make it. Just a short four weeks ago the letter from here told of such a showerstorm as would make the hardest portmanteau quail over the here have all changed and for the better. For the last two weeks the rush of work on the farms and ranches everywhere evident of success in gathering the grain which was so completely "snowed under" are such as to make everyone feel encouraged. In fact, unless a person had gone through one of the "winters in summer" which happen occasionally, it would be difficult to understand.

Harvesting is generally over now and threshing is well under way. The yield is so far in excess of the most sanguine expectations and prices soaring so high that farmers will not be able to dispose of the extra labor in gathering and the loss of grade on account of the frost. The price offered today is 30 cents a bushel on cash.

The fair held the latter part of September was a complete success in every department. Grasses and grains were a revelation to the stranger while the display of vegetables and dairy products can not be excelled by any country and only equaled by

WEDDING BELLS.

The building touches on the new courthouse make the building roomy to advantage and is an entire credit to all who have been concerned in the erection of it.

Building in general has become more active and more artistic taste is adding to the appearance of the houses and surroundings of many good citizens.

A trial load of beef was consigned this week from Cardston to Liverpool President E. J. Wood and James S. Parker were in charge of the shipment.

RIGBY, IDAHO.

M. I. A. CONVENTION.

Religious Competition for Grain Harvest—Beet Harvest.

Special Correspondence.

Rigby, Ida., Nov. 18.—On Sunday last, the officers of the Y. M. and Y. W. M. I. A. associations of the Bingham stake held their annual convention at Rigby. Most of the settlements were represented and the meetings were spirited and interesting.

Three steam engines are keeping the threshing machines humming, and grain bringing a good price. It being rushed to market quite lively.

F. P. Roberts of the Rigby Roller mill, the Rigby Hardware Manufacturing & Lumber company, and the Western Milling & Elevator company, are competing to see who can secure the most of the golden grain. Wheat brings $1.10 and oats $1.15 per hundred bushels.

Not infrequently a dozen teams are lined up near the sugar beet dump waiting their turn to be unloaded.

A curious disease is doing around among the children; a fever first affects the victim, and then a sore mouth and throat follows. No cases have resulted fatally, however.
