THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL.

It Will Offer Every Convenience to Students for Years to Come.

EQUIPPED WITH MODERN APPOINTMENTS.

The Building is Rapidly Nearing Completion and Will be a Pleasant Surprise to the General Public.

There is a pleasant surprise in store for our portion of Salt Lake's school going public and in fact all who will be visitors to the city next month. On September 12 next, on that date all students from the public grade, who desire to pursue their studies further will enter the privileges of doing so in quarters equal in appointments to those to which the high school has been limited for the past few years.

The new high school building is at present, as is pretty well known, on Fourteenth street, between Second and Third South and West Temple and First West streets. The structure is rapidly nearing completion and will, from an architectural standpoint, be probably not as imposing as the building our then will some day be erected on the block to the north, but it will be a handsome and substantial edifice which will adorn the city. For it presents a very comfortable appearance and, equipped as it is, with all modern conveniences and with ample room for some years to come, it will be a high credit to the people of the city for years to come. It is now nearly half a million cubic feet of space, nearly twice as much as contained in the High school building, and when completed, which will probably be two years hence, it will contain about a million cubic feet of space, nearly twice as much as contained in the High school building. Originally the contract for the building provided for two stories besides the basement, but the contract has been changed and a third story added, making it three stories high.

The building is constructed of pressed brick with stone trimmings, and is built in the colonial style of architecture. The basement will be divided into a number of rooms, including janitor's room, and a manual training room. There are two general entrances and exits on the north side of the building, constructed with due regard for easy and rapid passage.

The class rooms are light, airy and large, and are all finished in native wood. The general assembly room is in the form of a semi-circle, and is handsomely finished in oak. It is sixty-four feet in size, with a 21 foot ceiling. It is directly connected by electric wire and call bells with every class room in the building, and speaking tubes are also provided for the same purpose. For fire protection, the building is to be thoroughly equipped with chemical apparatus.

The class rooms are all provided with desks and chairs of the very best and most approved pattern, and every necessary attention has been given to the comfort of pupils. The recitation rooms are on the first floor, and a basement of 120 feet in length will be provided that will furnish room for girls.

A "dress" rose paid a visit to and inspected the building yesterday afternoon and found the work being pushed rapidly. Mr. Dooly's contract with the board of education calls for the completion of the building by September 15th, and it is safe to say that the obligation will be promptly discharged by that time. The building will accommodate 1,000 students.

Y. L. and Y. M. M. I. A.

The officers of the Y. L. A. Y. M. M. I. A. are requested to forward their programs for Sunday evening, Sept. 4th, to the Deseret News office by noon of this Tuesday next, Aug. 23rd.

Warning to Excursionists.

To the Editor:

There is a class of people from Salt Lake who travel the roads to Big Cottonwood canyon and rock, who seem to imagine as soon as they are out of the city limits, and are beyond all bounds of moral restriction, as is shown by their conduct, which is disgusting to any decent person that may be on the same picnic. The Sabbath day and sermons and prayer songs which are rendered in the valley of the Lord are disregarded. There are others, of more conscientious ideas, who have to endure the insults of the former and taking them as a matter of course. Among the crowd of last Sunday were a number of ladies and children who were compelled to listen to the vulgar and profane language of the men, and to see the disgusting sights of drunkenness. Some of these people have been warned on account of
