

Thirty-six informations were made against strikers this afternoon by Secretary Lovejoy for aggravated riot and warrants were issued. Seven arrests were made this evening.

PITTSBURG, July 28.—On the hearing of Sylvester Critchlow, one of the Homestead strikers this morning for release on bail, several witnesses swore they saw Critchlow load and fire a gun at the barges. Judge Mages refused to admit him to bail on the grounds that his acts were too close to murder in the first degree. His attorneys claim that he was not there.

Finlay and Pirnock, the suspected Anarchists who were arrested yesterday, were released today, there being no evidence against them. The authorities say the Anarchists are thoroughly frightened. Deputy sheriffs are scouring Homestead to arrest men against whom warrants are out. Most of them have disappeared. Three Anarchists gained admission to the mills some days ago, but were discovered distributing Anarchist literature and driven out. The officers are hunting for them, but they have disappeared. Hugh O'Donnell has gone away, his wife says on private business.

PITTSBURG, July 28.—The Carnegie Company has prepared a scale for the Union mills and Beaver Falls plant which the new men or former men who return will be required to sign. The average will be the same as the Amalgamated, but no association will be recognized. At the Homestead plant the force is steadily increasing.

An Associated Press representative went through this morning and found fully seven hundred men at work. Three heavy plates were rolled before his eyes and seemingly with ease—the work being specially directed toward naval contracts. Superintendent Potter says they have all the laborers and yard men they want, and that it is astonishing how rapidly some new men are learning the work which the strikers asserted could not possibly be done by even skilled workmen, because they had no knowledge of the machinery.

Frick's condition is favorable. Counsel for the strikers stated this evening that the proposed suits against Frick, Potter and Lovejoy for conspiracy had not been abandoned, but nothing would be done until Frick recovered. The police do not expect any more arrests of anarchists at present. Inspector McKelvey said the matter had been taken up by the police authorities all over the United States, and anarchists were being watched. The matter aroused the country and the police of each city have decided to find out just how strong the anarchists are. No one here had any idea of the number there were here.

It is reported today that Jones & Laughlin of the American Iron Works have decided to take issue with the Amalgamated association. The works are among the largest in the country and the employ 8500 men. B. F. Jones, the principal owner, is ex-chairman of the National Republican Committee.

PITTSBURG, July 29.—The story of the riot on the train from Cincinnati yesterday, bringing men to Homestead, is the invention of a tramp printer, and wholly untrue. The men on the train are all at work in Homestead.

The great strike has been on a month; it is estimated that the loss of all kinds, so far, is over one million dollars. The strike is seriously affecting business in the town, as many merchants have not capital to grant long credit. One grocery man failed this morning. Non-union men are receiving many threatening letters.

HOMESTEAD, July 30.—Sixty workmen's families occupying company houses, who were served with eviction notices several days ago, moved out today. The Carnegie people claim that they wanted only to damage the houses since ordered out. The houses will at once be put in repair for the non-union men, and additional houses will be built. Meanwhile, arrangements are made to accommodate 2000 men in the works. Eight hundred and seventy-three men are now at work. The advisory committee of the strikers say they will be able to induce half of these to quit next week.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 30.—Gen. Snowden has returned from Homestead and says that few people understand the situation accurately, as there has been practical press censorship and the correspondents have been prevented from describing the situation as it actually exists. He says the trouble is by no means over, the men merely being overawed by the presence of the military. As long as this state of affairs exists a brigade of troops will remain on the ground. The strikers are full of threats, and declare they will have the lives of the non-union men as soon as the military leave. They believe the works belong to them as much as to the Carnegie company. General Snowden says he ordered Private Tams to be disgraced and drummed out of the camp, but declines to say what his opinion is as to the tying him up by the thumbs, though he intimates the punishment was deserved, as his act was treason in a time of actual revolution.

PITTSBURG, July 30.—Secretary Lovejoy says the company will have fifteen hundred men at the works in the Homestead mill on Monday, and they will be able to start up all the departments, and by the end of the week be running in full. Many skilled men are at work, including fifty old hands. As soon as Homestead is going in full force other mills will be started.

The refusal of Judge Magell to admit Critchlow to bail scared the other rioters for whom warrants are out, and they have nearly all left town.

Frick is now pronounced out of danger.

PITTSBURG, July 31.—Carnegie will make an effort in the morning to resume operation at the Upper Union mills in this city. The company has requested police guard. The strikers say a guard is not necessary, as they do not intend to commit any breach of the peace. It is probable that an attempt will be made to start the Duquesne plant soon.

HOMESTEAD, July 30.—The eviction today and the attendant suffering due to the storms had a depressing effect upon the community. Tonight a number of evicted men were loud in their denunciation of the firm. A large number of evicted families are tonight quartered in other houses by reason of their own bedding being ruined. The relief committee has taken the matter in hand. Company officials assert that over nine hundred men are now in the mill. A riot was narrowly avoided last night at Lawrenceville near Union mills. A crowd attacked a non union man from Homestead. The police saved his life with difficulty.

Considerable excitement was created in camp last night by a rumor that an attack would be made from the rear on the camp of Battery B. There is a regular settlement of foreigners in a narrow valley back of Battery B, the headquarters of fully fifty or sixty families. Nearly all of them are anarchistic and pronounced enemies of the guardmen. The military are exercising great vigilance. It seems to be a general feeling among the townspeople outside of the association that the strike will soon be declared off. The Carnegie company are continually putting in non-union men. Preparations are being made at Duquesne to resume with non-union men on Monday. The strikers, however, are confident that the firm will be unable to get men to start the plant.

The Wayne Iron Company signed the amalgamated scale today.

Knold and Bauer, the Allegheny anarchists, had a hearing at Pittsburgh today, at the conclusion of which they were held for trial in $2,000 bonds each. Testimony was given by the police and other witnesses as to the incendiary literature circulated by the men, their communication with Most, Bergsman, etc. A detective told of finding rifles, revolvers and a large supply of ammunition in Bauer's residence. A translation of one of the circulars was read. It told how to make bombs. More arrests are likely.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Aug. 1.—It is announced that those who participated in the brutal attack on the Pinkertons after the surrender July 6th, will be prosecuted for aggravated assault and battery, highway robbery, larceny, pocketpicking and other crimes and misdemeanors. It is stated that several women were particularly active during the time the men ran the gauntlet, and after it, were taking their property and hiding it. They also are to be prosecuted.

The Amalgamated association condemned this occurrence and is said to be aiding in gathering evidence against the offenders. The Pinkerton agency will take part in the prosecution by furnishing evidence of the men who were assaulted and robbed.

The hundred deputies on guard at the mills now will be increased to 300 shortly. Superintendent Potter says there are enough arms in the mill to arm all their workmen if necessary. The upper Union mills started up with non-union men this morning. No trouble occurred.

General Superintendent Potter claims there was a break in the ranks of the strikers in the mechanical department last night, and that twenty-five of the best skilled workmen returned to work this morning. The committee of strikers at the gate when the men went in assert that but eight of 1200 men in the mechanical department have broken away. It is said that there are now several strikers in the mill, influencing the non unionists to quit. This plan was adopted
