RAWHIDE IS NOW A BIG ORE SHIPPER

Records Show That Camp Is Producing More Mineral Than Most People Have Believed Possible.

Rawhide, June 2.—A sensational statement was made yesterday by a representative of the Western Ore Purchasing company, and summed up it is no less than that Rawhide is furnishing their sampler more ore than the great camp of Goldfield, outside of the big consolidated. This will come as a surprise to those who have been wondering why Rawhide does not ship some of the ore they have been finding in the dozens of leases the past year.

It contradicts in the most emphatic fashion the statements of doubting Thomases that Rawhide is a camp of rich seams. When it comes to pitting itself against Goldfield it must have a production and a big one. This is not all of the ore that is being produced. The Hazen sampler gets only a small part. The three local mills on the flat below town are pounding night and day on Rawhide ores. The big King Heizer mill is being put together as fast as men and money can do it. All the concrete furnaces have been finished and tomorrow morning the big crews of concrete workers will be replaced by even a larger crew of carpenters, and the next week will present a different picture to meet the eye of the visitor. As soon as the frame work is all up, and every timber has been framed so that there will be no delay, work on the installation of the machinery will be rushed to completion. The mill will be ready for work the early part of July. With this mill and its sampler open for business Rawhide will be a principality within itself.

SHOWS PROFESSIONALISM.

Stocks Are Remarkably Slow With Conditions Pointing to Toboggan.

Stocks on the Salt Lake and Utah mining exchanges this morning reached the stagnant point and professionalism was plainly shown on both exchanges. The number of shares of stock sold this morning fell far below the average. It was a real spring fever market, although late in the day. Stocks throughout the session barely showed signs of life.

Beck Tunnel was pounding away at the same price today. There was scarcely a ripple of a change. Bullock was remarkably low, though not as low as it has gone. Carissa took a small drop, Colorado showed a decided inclination to get better in spite of the market. Columbus Consolidated was also on the upturn.

Most of the stocks showed an inclination to take the toboggan instead of climbing up.

The number of shares sold on the Salt Lake exchange this morning was $5,500, at $28.14.50. On the Utah exchange business was the most active and 10,700 shares were disposed of at $2.04.

The curb market of the Salt Lake exchange brought out a good array of stocks. Bingham, Colorado showed a decided inclination to get better in spite of the market. Columbus Consolidated was also on the upturn.

CHARGES SILVER KING WITH BEING UNFAIR

Reply of Conkling Company in Suit Asserts Company Took Out Million Then Offered $15,000 for Claims.

Further accusations against the Silver King Coalition Mines company are made in the amended reply to the answer of the defendant in the case of the Conkling Mining company against the Silver King Coalition Mines company, filed in the United States circuit court yesterday. The document charges the company with being a tenant in common with the plaintiff and that as such failed to notify it or the presence of ore in the Conkling claim and scooped out at least $10,000 worth of ore and then attempted to buy the claim for $15,000.

The amended reply which was prepared by Day & Hoppaugh declares that the contention of the Silver King that the description of the Conkling is not correct is not well taken and asserts that the defendant cannot question this as it owns a quarter interest in the claim. Although the claims have been patented for 17 years, it is contended that no dispute has ever arisen as to the boundaries.

The Silver King succeeded to a quarter interest in the property through the consolidation of the Kearns-Kelley Mining company and the Silver King Mining company in 1907. It is charged that the defendant company never disclosed the existence of the tunnel at the property through and underneath the Conkling claims, which are the Conkling and Arthur, and in 1907 from the tunnel it crossed and drove a shaft which property it is charged that something like $10,000 worth of ore was taken. It is declared that the defendant now wishes to have 15% feet excluded from the controversy and this distance is believed to contain at least $25,000 worth of ore.

DEMANDED ACCOUNTING.

The Conkling company which is controlled by Nicholas Treweek and J. Leonard Busch, declares that its suspicions were first aroused by a letter from the Silver King company in 1907. The officers of the company as they now are, but simply owners of a three-quarters interest in the property, demanded an admission to the Silver King workings and were refused. On Dec. 19, 1907, they demanded an accounting of the ore taken from the Conkling and Arthur claims.

The reply of the Silver King company it is contended that it owned an interest in the claims and that it would be entitled to sufficient ore if found to pay for the development expenses. The company is also said to have expressed surprise that the accounting should be demanded. The latter is asserted that the Silver King people approached John M. Daugherty, in whose name the property stood, endeavoring to secure title to the property. The claim was then week and Busch interest was held by in Daugherty's name to secure an indebtedness to John A. Creighton. At the same time the company is asserted for the Conkling claims, it is asserted that the Silver King paid $150,000 for two claims from the Belmont Mining company. This claim is asserted to be an error in the company which have a prior right.

The reply further asserts that on account of the length of time since the property was patented its inaccessibility, being covered with heavy underbrush and heavy snows most of the year, the land marks of the survey have been obliterated. The reason the description given in the patent is the only description that can be given accurately of the property.

The company is charged that it granted it the right to call upon the Silver King for an accounting of all the ore extracted from the claims.

TO WORK THROUGH STANDARD.

Although it was generally understood that in the buying of the Little Silver King the other day from John Bestmeyer and George Haverkamp, it was to go to the Tintic Standard. It is found, however, that the transaction is an error. The property will be operated by an
