

FRAGMENTS.

A sewing machine had been found on the State Road this morning. The owner can get it at this office.

The closing exercises at the Deseret University will take place tomorrow, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

The matinee at the Theatre tomorrow afternoon is absorbing the attention of the little folks.

There is as much, if not more, natural gas here as is found at Salt Lake City.—Ogden Standard.

James Kemp, who has served six months in the penitentiary for having more than one wife, was released today.

A concert will be given in the Twelfth Ward this evening for the benefit of the Eleventh Ward Sunday school.

Sports on the street are offering to bet 4 to 1 that Blaine will be the nominee of the Republican convention at Chicago next week.

John McDonough, Wm. Hansen, John F. Johnson and Thomas Dunn were each fined $5 in the Police Court today, for drunkenness.

The Salt Lake Valley & Eastern Railway, which has its route surveyed through Ogden Canyon, will make its western terminus at Salt Lake City.

An invitation is extended to the public to attend the commencement exercises at the University, tomorrow, the programme of which appeared in last evening's News.

The Pacific Coast republican delegates to the Chicago Convention held a picnic at the depot last night. The band furnished plenty of good music, and there was a liberal display of fireworks.

The Eighteenth Ward Sabbath school has made arrangements for an "out" tomorrow. They will spend the day at Spring Lake, where, more familiarly known as Calder's Farm, one of the most pleasant resorts in the county.

The Burbank recital of last evening, given in Independence Hall, while open to adverse criticism in certain respects, gave, in general, the fullest satisfaction and merit. The programme was sufficiently varied to demonstrate that the reader specially excelled in numerous dialect impersonation.

Died from his injuries. Yesterday afternoon the tramp who was knocked from a train on the D. & R. G. W. on Monday, died at the hospital without regaining consciousness. His identity is unknown, as there was nothing on his body that gave any clue to his name, address or relatives.

Conference Notice. The members of the Relief Society of Salt Lake State are respectfully reminded that their quarterly conference will be held in the Fourteenth Ward Assembly Rooms, Salt Lake City, on Thursday, June 21, 1935, commencing at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. It is hoped there will be a large attendance.

E. Howard, Stake Secy.

Barry & Fay's Company. On Monday evening of next week this company appear in "McKenna's Flirtation," a very funny Irish comedy, and on the following evening they will present "Irish Aristocracy," which has been given in before.

This is the best company Barry & Fay have ever had and includes some of the "Tin Soldier" and "Rag Baby" people.

Probate Court. Proceedings in the Salt Lake County Probate Court yesterday:

Estate and guardianship of G. F. Winter, a minor; order made of sale of real estate.

Estate of W. C. Scott, deceased; decree made that due and legal notice to creditors has been given.

Estate of Permelia M. Bassett, deceased; order made appointing time and place to hear petition for letters of administration.

Estate of Edward Davis, deceased; order made of sale of real estate.

Estate of A. L. Livingston, deceased; order made appointing Thomas Miller, Charles Livingston and Alexander Gammal appraisers.

In the matter of the guardianship of the estate of Sarah E. Canavanagh, a minor; order made appointing time and place for the settlement of the accounts of W. S. McCormick, guardian.

Nephi Notes. Deputies McClelland and Norrell have been making themselves conspicuous about Nephi. They caught in their meshes Richard Jenkins and L. A. Bailey, charged with unlawful cohabitation.

L. A. Bailey's case, which was brought before Commissioner Morrison on Wednesday, was continued until the 23rd of July because of the failure of the deputies to get witnesses.

John C. Ostler met with a very severe accident last Monday morning. He was leading a horse from one portion of the field to another. The horse made a lunge for no reason, and Mr. Ostler to the ground. Just as he was falling the horse kicked, striking both feet in a very bad condition, but he is progressing favorably.—Nephi Ensign.

Good Axle Grease. C. J. Gustavson, of this city, is manufacturing an excellent article of axle grease, which he said to be superior to any imported. The manufacturer claims numerous and varied merits for it, and he has some strong testimonials in its favor from parties who have used it in this climate. It is cheap and durable, never gums, and neither the degrees of heat or cold ever experienced in this region make it either softer or harder. In this respect it is a peculiar moving fast, and he was thrown out to the line and both legs bruised pretty badly. He got up a short time after the accident, however, and staggered off. Later he appeared at a house in the neighborhood, where the people kindly gave him some food and loaned him a blanket and pillow on which to lie down. He did not get much sleep, owing to the injuries, and today was unable to move about. This afternoon an officer was sent out for him in order that he might receive such attention as his condition required, but some one had moved him.

A ROWDY ELEMENT

That Needs Attention from the Peace Officers.

A case of retaining an officer, which came up before Commissioner Norrell today, developed a state of things in Sugarhouse Ward which shows that a portion of that precinct really needs the special attention of an efficient officer. In the vicinity of the old paper mill are three saloons, each one of which is the rendezvous for large crowds. Many children are among the number that congregate, to the lasting disgrace of their parents. Night after night the participants in drunken orgies at one place or another "make Rome howl." This sort of thing has been going on some time, and apparently without any effort to stop it.

On Saturday night a man appeared at the penitentiary and requested Warden Pratt to give him some assistance to get his belongings. He said that he had stopped at one of the saloons referred to, where his bedding had been taken from him, and he had been soundly thrashed by drunken men; his appearance indicated that the latter part of his story at least was true. On Monday morning the man appeared in the penitentiary, it is said a free fight was also indulged in.

Last evening Nephi Bowthorpe, who has a lot of men getting ties for the railroad, in company with a number of his employees, determined to have a "jolly time" at the saloon opposite the old paper mill. Beer was plentifully provided, and the crowd, numbering nearly thirty, started in. At last a fight was started in the house, but W. C. A. Smoot, who owns the building, ordered the combatants out, and they went. On the outside they formed a ring and the fight was resumed, Bowthorpe and the others encouraging it.

Just as the combatants clinched and fell to the ground, where they were endeavoring to imitate the example of the Kilkenny cats, Warden Pratt and his wife drove up, and the former, hearing the row, got out of his buggy. He passed through the ring and arrested the men who were fighting, when Bowthorpe pushed him back, telling him to let the men fight. Mr. Pratt said he was an officer and called out several men to assist him in making the arrest.

Bowthorpe drew up to strike Mr. Pratt, and others gathering around threateningly, it looked as though the Warden was doomed to be roughly handled. He turned to Bowthorpe and said, "I arrest you," at the same time putting his hand on the offender's shoulder. Bowthorpe replied, "If you are an officer, you can't arrest me."

"If I arrest you or kill you," said the officer, who realized that he must act promptly. "That's what you'll have to do," was Bowthorpe's rejoinder, but just then he was quieted by one of his companions interfering. He then told the officer that he did not mean to resist him.

In the meantime the parties to the fight and escaped, and Mr. Pratt, seeing that he could make no arrest against such odds, went on to the penitentiary. He returned shortly, and lodged him in the prison over night.

These facts were brought out at the trial today. Of all the witnesses who were in the crowd when Mr. Pratt drove up, there was not one who would admit that he knew the names of the two who had the fight. For his action in the premises, Commissioner Norrell imposed a fine of $15 and costs, nearly $50 in all, on Bowthorpe.

CITY COUNCIL.

Proceedings at Last Evening's Session of the Municipal Fathers.

The City Council met in regular session at the City Hall last evening at 7 o'clock, Mayor Armstrong presiding.

J. H. Miller and other residents of the Twenty-first Ward, asked for an extension of the water mains. Referred to the committee on water works.

Alma Pratt asked for an appropriation to assist in keeping West Temple and Fifth East streets in condition. Referred to the Mayor.

Mary W. Roberts asked that she be not taxed for the proposed extension of the water mains on E Street. Filed for consideration.

W. Cardwell and others asked for an extension of the water mains on I Street. Referred to the committee on water works.

Wm. Fuller and others asked for an extension of the mains south from Third South Street. Referred to the committee on water works.

H. Rody, J. W. Jenkins and many other persons residing in the vicinity of the Utah Central, protested against the Salt Lake & Fort Douglas Railway being granted a right of way along that street, as the said road already has connection with the Utah Central, and the existence of another road of the same name would increase the risk of fire, and decrease the value of property in the vicinity. Referred to the committee on streets.

John Wittberg sent in a petition asking for lot 4, block 116, laid on the table.

P. T. Nystrom was granted permission to place building material in front of his premises at the corner of First South and Commercial streets.

Wm. Bayless represented that the water mains now run along the west side of his premises on South Temple Street, and he would receive no benefit from an extension of the mains. He proposed that the city should pay for the extension of the water mains from his property to the main line.

William Pitt, the former proprietor of the Overland House, represented that he had retired from business, and asked that the unused portion of his liquor and other licenses be applied on his city taxes. Not granted.

J. L. Kling was granted an auctioneer's license.

Eleven retail liquor licenses were granted.

J. W. Fox, the city surveyor, submitted a profile showing the grades of the Capitol Hill grounds, which was referred to the committee on public grounds.

The police justice presented his report for the month ending May 31st, which is as follows:

Number of cases tried, 135.

Fines assessed, $2,700.00

Number of cases tried, 135.

Total, $2,700.00

The report was received and adopted.

The committee on public grounds, to which was referred the petition of W. H. Shearman and others, asking the city to sell them certain land adjacent to the Capitol Hill grounds, and is being used as heavy machinery, and is being used as such at the Deseret Paper Mills, where it gives excellent soil factation. Teamsters would like to give it a trial. The axle grease being cleaned out of other kinds of grease before applying.

Another Tramp Hurt. Last evening, as the Utah Central train was coming through the Ninth ward, a tramp, who had beaten his way from Kaysville, and was riding between the box cars, jumped out. The train was moving pretty fast, and he was thrown out to the line and both legs bruised pretty badly. He got up a short time after the accident, however, and staggered off. Later he appeared at a house in the neighborhood, where the people kindly gave him some food and loaned him a blanket and pillow on which to lie down. He did not get much sleep, owing to the injuries, and today was unable to move about. This afternoon an officer was sent out for him in order that he might receive such attention as his condition required, but some one had moved him.

FIFTEENTH DISTRICT SCHOOL

Closing Exercises—Presentation to the Teachers.

Thomas F. Howells, Esq., principal of the Fifteenth District School, was surprised on entering the school room this morning, to find it nicely decorated and the work having been planned and executed by the students without his knowledge, and preparatory to the closing exercises of the term and school year. Mr. Howells' assistants are Misses Ruth A. Reese and Marian Larkin, and a further surprise awaited them, in the shape of some nice presents from the pupils. The principal received a gold pen, which was accompanied by some verses, and each lady teacher was remembered with a suitable gift.

A programme of exercises was gone through with during the day, of which dancing and games formed a part.

This school is in excellent condition. It is patronized generously by all classes of citizens residing in the district, and the progress of the pupils is highly satisfactory. The county superintendent has spoken in high terms of this school and of its teachers. It has an active, energetic and intelligent board of trustees, comprised of Joseph R. Morgan, Thomas C. Hull and E. G. Golding. Connected with the school is an extensive cabinet, collected by the pupils, and a good library, also the results of their efforts. During the winter as high as 200 pupils were enrolled at one time, and the attendance throughout the school year has been very large.

GARFIELD COUNTY NOTES.

Fine Scenery and Abundant Resources.

The Stake conference that was held at Escalante on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd of this month gave great satisfaction. There were present from the other settlements about two hundred visitors. Twenty-four conveyances, containing one hundred and fifty people, camped near the top of the divide on their return. Great bonfires were built, and

A MEETING was called. After singing, some neat and timely addresses were made, and the evening was spent in a most agreeable and pleasant manner. Many beside the young entered into youthful sports and pastimes with a zest that is rare in days gone by.

The sight that greets the traveler's eye as he makes the ascent from Potato Valley is sublime. From near the top of the pass can be seen, away to the north east, the Henry Mountains, while looking east one can see the break in the gorge where the San Juan joins the Colorado river. From the south east is seen the "Spanish Shanks" on the other side of the Colorado, in Arizona, while all combined make a STUNNING PICTURE no vast that one is almost lost in its contemplation.

Close, nestling in a narrow gorge, is Escalante, an oasis in the desert, its only green and inviting spot to be seen. Up the mountain side the vast pine forests tell us of lumber for the million when the people have facilities for producing it, while the grassy hills furnish feed for thousands of sheep and cattle, making this a place rich in its natural resources, and showing untold millions of mineral wealth, lying unexplored, awaiting brain and muscle to develop it.

From the summit above Escalante to Panguitch is one of the most extensive STOCK RANGES.

In the mountains, with plenty of grass for summer pasturage. This is a big country with its resources as yet undeveloped; but in time it will team with wealth. Thus far it is settling up with a solid and industrious community, who welcome more of that class to join them.

ESCALANTE NOTES.

The conference for Panguitch Stake convened here on Friday, the first of June, and was kept up with spirit until Sunday evening, the third, the last meeting being for the young people.

President J. W. Crosby, Jan., presided and gave the people good, wholesome advice.

This town is the most south-easterly in the county, and was first settled in 1875. The land was divided into small holdings, each head of a family receiving twenty acres of land and a town developed. The greatest drawback has been the roads, which are very steep and difficult. The climate is good, though they have extremes of heat and cold, it being hot in summer and cold in the winter.

The town presents a thriving appearance, and indicates to the stranger that the citizens practice thrift and economy, and with the practice of the two principles the desert can be made to blossom as the rose.

The new meeting house is a credit to the ward, and an ornament to the town, and will be quite comfortable when complete, which it is expected it will be this summer.

During the conference the boys of Panguitch and Escalante played a match game of baseball, the former winning.

The Panguitch Dramatic Association gave a very creditable performance on Saturday night.

This town is in Potato Valley. Wild potatoes of several varieties are still to be found. They are quite small, but keep for a long time and are not subject to rot. The writer has been in his possession that have been left out all winter and are yet solid and firm and quite fresh.

The Exposition Car.

Yesterday morning the Utah exposition car arrived at the Union Pacific passenger depot, and during the day it was visited by hundreds of curious people. As an advertisement of Zion's resources and industries it is unique and effective.

The car's exterior is covered with cleverly executed oil paintings of Utah scenery and fruit and vegetable products. The landscape work is exceptionally well done. The scenes include "Pillars of the Wasatch" and "Lake Minnie" by Culmer, "Sunset on Salt Lake" and "Castle Gate" by LAM-borne, and "Sunset in America Park Canyon" by John Tallidge. The still life paintings extend over much of the space, and are from the brush of Dan Westland.

The interior of the car is filled with tastefully arranged exhibits. The exhibits are divided into two main sections, one devoted to the exposition in 1935, and a 2x3 space in the rear of the car is devoted to the living apartment, occupied by H. L. A. Culmer, who has charge of the car, and is demonstrator.

Doublets, White, transportation and press agent, and Julius Bratus Young, the porter. In the exhibit part, glass and tickle cases line the walls for square feet, and there are forty-eight large photographs in silvered frames. In the car center stands a 2x1/2 glass case filled with specimens, and there are numerous pockets, shelves, cubby holes wherever to store the numerous bottles of water. Hot sulphur springs, water, lake sand, Utah cereals, in bags, etc., that are carried away. The floor is covered with Brussels carpet, and every inch is taken to make the car comfortable and convenient. The 2x3 apartment is a gem. The water is hidden in its iron pipes, and further decorated with oil paintings by Harry Culmer. Then there is a big velvet Pullman suitcase for double bed, folding tables and chairs, desk, wardrobe, toilet stand, ice chest, etc., all of the best and most convenient makes. The car windows are hand-painted in colored lace and curtains are set between the windows. The car is two 2x3x10 foot cellars to hold printed matter, tools, extra, etc. The thoroughness of the work done by the car dressers, was shown by the fact that not a speck of dust was to be seen on the car, nor on an exhibit and board fastenings.

The car will start this evening for St. Paul over the Milwaukee road. Thence it will proceed to Minneapolis, Chicago and through to New York.

Everybody is invited to inspect the car and its contents this evening, in the school building, where the car will be on display. Invitations will be sent to the school building, where the car will be on display. Invitations will be sent to the school building, where the car will be on display.

Lake Park Opening.

The following has been handed in for publication:

The formal opening of Lake Park bathing resort will be made tomorrow (Thursday) under the auspices of the Daughters of Rebekah. Major Kent's Military Band have been engaged for the season, and has prepared a suitable programme for the opening day. There will be boating on the lake, the management having purchased a number of new boats; also ball playing and other games will be the order of the day, on the grounds within the loop, which have been leveled and made attractive for the comfort of all who attend this favorite place of resort.

Ogden Occurrences.

Early yesterday morning Sheriff Ben-nap found a young man named Wood-mann on the street near Z. C. M. His tactics suggested something. The sheriff at once hailed him and asked where he was going. "I don't stop me, for I am on my way to heaven," he replied. The sheriff informed him that he need go no further, but stop and refresh himself at his country's end. This he objected to, but was finally persuaded to put up with the accommodations at the county courthouse. The sheriff soon learned that he was from Salt Lake, and had walked all that distance, under the impression that he was on his way to heaven, took him down to the capitol accompanied by Officer Elmer. Here he was given in charge of his relatives. The young man had been very studious, and it is supposed that the falling of his mind was due to over reading.

Harmans Terbruggen, an old man, was examined some time ago as to his sanity. Last Thursday evening at 8 o'clock he fell asleep—a sleep that ended in death. He had at one time been bitten by a dog in Holland and by other causes on two separate occasions since his arrival in this country. It was supposed that he was suffering from some extent from hydrophobia, as he was frothing at the mouth. He was removed to the county court house for safe keeping and placed in a warm comfortable cell, where he could be taken care of without danger to the attendant. He died at 9:05 p.m. yesterday. His remains were taken to the undertaking establishment of Messrs. Larkin & Linquist, where they were prepared for burial.—Ogden Standard, June 13.
