DELIVERED BY
PASTOR JOHN TAYLOR,
At the General Conference held in the Tabernacle, Salt Lake City, Oct. 6th, 1879.

REPORTED BY JOHN IRVINE

I HAVE been interested in listening to the remarks of the brethren this afternoon, and I am thankful to find to-day that good old-fashioned Mormonism, or Latter-day Saintism is not altogether dead—that there is a little of it living in the bosoms of the Saints in our speakers, and in those who hear.
The Methodist, you know, used to have a prayer to the effect that "His Spirit might pass from heart to heart, as from branch to branch." And I have thought that that kind of a spirit has been exhibited more or less here to-day, whether we have any Methodists among us or not.

We have come here, as has been stated, to worship Almighty God in accordance with his commands.
Most of this congregation were good citizens before they came here.
Some are from the various parts of Europe, and from other parts of the earth, and a great many from different parts of the United States.
They were good citizens and observed the laws of the land to which they belonged. They have observed every law of the United States, except one that was made on purpose to make them disobey God, and therefore, so far as political affairs are concerned, they are citizens pertaining to citizens of the United States, they have been maintained in their integrity up to the present time. I remember being asked in court how long I had been in Utah, and I said, "I do not remember the time precisely, but the court seemed to be very fond of interfering with religious matters, and I was not allowed to go; but I suppose civilization has extended—I was asked, 'Do you believe in obeying the laws of the United States?' 'Yes, I do, in all except one'—in fact, I had not broken that. 'What law is that?' 'The law in relation to polygamy.' 'Because'—the court said, 'it is at variance with the spirit and spirit of our institution; because it is at variance with the Commandments of the United States; and because it is in violation of the law of God to me.' The United States Supreme Court, however, decided that this law made it a law of the land, that is, it has sanctioned it; it was not sanctioned at that time, that question was not then decided. We are now gathered together according to the word and law of God and the commandments of God to us. 'Whether my Saints obey me or not,' says one of the old prophets, 'those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice.' 'I will take you,' says another, 'one of a city and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion, and I will give you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding.' 'Now, the servants of God in these last days have been sent out as they were in former days to gather the people and the Lord polygamy among other things, and I know it before God, and can bear testimony of it, if anybody else knows it. I know that it came from God, and that God is its author. But there are hundreds and thousands of others who have a knowledge of the same thing; but it is in this wise that I testify before God, angels, and men, before this nation and all other nations, that it came from God. 'The reason that I speak of it, that I may bear my testimony to you and to the nations of the earth.
Now, then, about the results of it; that is with God and with the people. It is for us to do the will of God; it is for the Lord to bring about the results in his own way.
But one thing I can assure all men, in the name of Israel's God, that this nation, nor any other nation, can do anything against the truth, but for the truth, and the very help themselves as they may, will say unto them, for the Lord will say of the mighty ocean, 'Hitherto shall come but no further; and here shall thy proud waves be stayed.' Now, that is the thing I—The prophet in another place says, 'Surely the wrath of man shall praise thee; the remainder of wrath shall be consumed by thee. He will manage the other. He will put a hook in the jaws of men and of nations, and lead them just as he pleases. They shall be in his hands, as we are in his hand.'

Need we be surprised that people should feel inimical to the gospel of Jesus Christ? No. Need we be surprised that men as the scriptures say, 'should wax worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived'?
No. We have preached it for forty years in this nation and in other nations.
Need we be surprised that they should trample under foot the Constitution of the United States? No.
Joseph Smith told us that they would do it. Many around me have known long ago that they would do this thing, and furthermore that the last people that should be found to rally around that sacred instrument and save it from the grasp of unrighteous men were the Latter-day Saints. When, therefore, we see these things progressing, need we be astonished? I do not think we need be. Some of you people, you know, who are a little shaky and get how? Why a little afraid of the fence, and say good Lord and good devil, and knowing into whose hands they will fall; when they see some of these things transpiring they are filled with amazement; but men who understand themselves, and who are in possession of the gift of the Holy Ghost and the Spirit of the Living God, are looking for such things, and they are not surprised. Were we surprised when the last terrible war took place here in the United States?
No; good Latter-day Saints would not, for they had been told about it. Joseph Smith had told them where it would start, that it should be a terrible time of bloodshed, and that it should start in South Carolina. But I tell you to-day, the things that you see, you will see things that you will see, and you will see things that you will see, and you will see things that you will see, and you will see things that you will see, and you will
