She said after they were discharged they came back to the states, arriving here last March. They traveled around the country for some time and finally came out west. She claims her sister is now in Ogden waiting for her. She said she married Sergeant Padgett of company C. Twenty-third infantry, but that he is now serving 18 months for deser-

Now on top of all these claims comes the statements of the police, who de-clare that it is "all rot of the worst kind." They say she has told a dozen different stories and contradicted herself tune and time again. She said she was arrested in Cheyenne and broke iail. "And," she added, "I licked a fel low, a policeman bigger than Sheets." The police do not take any stock in anything she savs. She told them she had triends at Fort Douglas, and that Captain Schley knew her. Desk Sergeant Smith stated this morning that when Captain Schley was spoken to about the case he became very indignant that his name was mentioned at ell and said: 'I don't know the hussy; I don't know anything about her.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

The ball given by the Utah Society of the Army of the Philippines last night was most successful, a large number being present and the event being in every way enjoyable. The hall was dec-orated in the society colors, red white and yellow, and "trappings of war" decorated the walls, the platform having a banner bearing the words, "Wel-come to the Array of the Philippines." The committees who had the affair in charge were as follows: Arrangement-Hinrich Klenke, chairman; L. B. Eddy, Thomas Sleater, E. G. Thomas, E. Leh-

Old Figure in Local Mining Circles R-moved From This Life.

Patrick Phelan, an old and familiar figure in local mining circles died at his room in the White House at 7:25 last evening. He had only been ill about three days but he had become debilitated through seventy years of active life, and his constitution was not equal to a longer severe struggle with the grim reaper. Mr. Phelan was a native of Ireland and emigrated to America when he was seventeen years of age. He was liv-ing in New York when gold was discovered in California, and in 1850 he turned his face to the west. On reaching California he engaged in mining for gold with indifferent success. He subsequently went to Koot-enal, B. C., Montana, and finally to Alta, Utah. In 1865 in Montana the deceased met Stephen Hays, a resident arable thereafter until death tore them asunder Mr. Phelan had amassed a fortune estimated at $75,000, consisting of a onequarter interest in the White House corner, stock in three local banks, in-luding the Deseret National and siderable resident property. The estate will be disposed of according to the terms of a will made some time ago, and inasmuch as he had no wife children, 'his wealth will go to Utah friends, Mr. Hays probably coming in for the greatest share. Mr. Phelan went into the mercantile business at Bingham in 1873 in partner-ship with Mr. Hays. The enterprise continued with marked success until 1891, when Mr. Phelan disposed of his mining and mercantile interests at Bingham and removed to Salt Lake to enjoy the rest of his life in rest and quiet. Before coming to the capital he had acquired considerable property here. It has been Mr. Phelan's cus-tom for many years to spend the greater part of each winter in California, and last summer he was at Soda prings and Castle Gate. Mr. Phelan was a very quiet and un-obtrusive man with a great aversion to notoriety in any way. If he ever sat for a photograph in his life no one knows anything about it. The remains are at the undertaking parlors of O'Donnell, where they are awaiting the completion of the arrangements for the funeral.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

The funeral of the late Mrs. J. S. Russell will be held from the First ward meeting house Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The remains may be viewed at the residence, 620 Sixth East street between 10 and 12 o'clock on day of funeral.
