THEATRICAL.—"Cinderella" shone in all its pristine splendor yesterday evening and delighted a fair audience. Madame Scheller represented poor persecuted Cinderella to perfection. Mr. Lindsay's Baron Pompadour is immense. Mr. Hardie makes a very fine looking Prince. The duet "There's a sigh in my heart," sung by him and Madame Scheller was a pleasing feature in the performance. Mr. Margolis is irresistibly funny as Pedro and so is Mr. Graham as Dandini. The two sisters were well enacted by Mrs. Clawson and Mrs. Woodmansee. Mrs. Clawson's "Greenland Hand" was a hit. Miss Cervo executed several dances with infinite grace. The ballet choruses did exceedingly well yesterday evening. Mrs. Careless sang several songs in a neat manner. Miss Adams makes a pleasing little Fairy Queen, yet she should change her face somewhat when she comes in as the old "godmother" or wear a mask. This evening the grand spectacle will go off much smoother, without all the hitches in the working of the scenery and the transformation scene, and to-morrow evening it will be produced for the last time.

This gorgeous production will then fade from our view and those that have not seen "Cinderella" should not neglect these last opportunities. Those that have seen it will go again to have a last glance at these departing beauties and remember the old saying: "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." This production is worthy of the most liberal patronage, the cast is very good and the general scene on stage would do credit to any first-class theatre. The beautiful transformation scene at the end, is alone worth the price of admission.

SWINDLING.—The different ways which different persons have of making money, when manifested, display some phases of fallen human nature that can be found all through Christendom. Selling hay is in itself a very innocent, necessary and commendable action; but when the hay gets "weighed up" for the scales, whether by water poured on, rocks mixed through it, or men on the top of the load covered up, the dishonesty of the individual so doing is not a subject for argument.

Yesterday afternoon a load of hay was brought up to the hay scales; was weighed and a ticket of the weight issued. It was owned by Isaac Plunkett, of American Fork, who accompanied the load. Going down street, two men were seen coming from under blankets on the top of the load and getting down, which excited suspicion. Soon after another load, driven by Ben Greenwood, and also owned by Plunkett, passed up to the scales, with a bundle of blankets on the top of it as well. It was followed by a gentleman who took his stand on the porch of this office, and saw the blankets moving on the top of the load. This was satisfactory evidence that some person was underneath. The load was taken down to 1st South Street, two men—the same who had been on the other load—crawled from under the blankets and got down. Soon after Ben Greenwood, of the 14th Ward, was seen purchasing the hay, and asked the weight, when Mr. Plunkett said as near as he could recollect it was 3,340 lbs., gross. Before a bargain was concluded, the police arrested Plunkett, and the two men who had been under the blankets. John Crookston—Ben Greenwood got wind of the trouble and turned up missing.

The three men were brought before Justice Clinton this morning, and during the examination his Honor asked Plunkett for a ticket from the hay scales, which the accused denied having. Saying "I never had both." The Judge directed him to be searched for it, on which he produced the ticket, which gave the gross weight of the load at 3,350 lbs. Witnesses having been sworn and examined, Justice Clinton was satisfied the accused were guilty of the charge preferred, and fined Plunkett $50, and Carter and Crookston $15 each. The fines were paid.

We hardly know how to express our dejection of such a swindling operation. Such men should be made to feel the full rigors of the law, on every occasion when they manifest their dishonesty so as to bring them within its purview.

DEAD.—By telegram to President Brigham Young, from Bishop Wm. Maughan, of Wellsville, we learn that Brother Ira Ames died this morning at 23 minutes past 8. The sickness from which he died is not stated. Bro. Ames was one of the oldest members of the Church, was faithful to the truth, and respected by the many who knew his integrity and worth.

PERSONAL.—We had a call to-day from Major John Stratman, the enterprising San Francisco news dealer. The Major has been a sufferer by the manner in which the Overland Mail has been carried, to the extent of about $11,000, and he is on his way East to try and obtain justice for his loss, and to witness the inauguration of General Grant. He is an old "forty-niner," is full of energy and enterprise, believes in printer's ink, and makes money by judiciously and freely using it. He admires our city and the country in which it is situated, and expressed himself with his characteristic freedom on the subject. He is accompanied East by a party from the Golden State.

THE WEATHER.—By Deseret Telegraph Line we learn the state of the weather at the points named: It has been snowing slightly all forenoon in this city; St. Georges clear and pleasant, not a flake of snow has fallen here this winter. Thermometer 33. Cedar City: very mild and pleasant, but cloudy; it has been snowing this morning. Beaver: very cloudy and cold, snowing. Cove Creek: very mild and cloudy, snow about four inches deep. Scipio: clear and very cold, snow four inches deep. It has been snowing since daylight. Gunnison: cold and snowing this morning, about one inch of snow. Mountain Green: snowing—snow about six inches. Payson—cloudy—rather cold, snowing, snow about four inches deep. Provo: cloudy and cold; it has been snowing all morning, snow about four inches. Kayville: cloudy and mild, about two inches of snow.

HOMER-MADE WAGON.—Mr. George Naylor, of the firm of Naylor Bros., wheelwrights of this city, called this morning to show us a wagon which had been built by the firm. The wood was imported, but all the work was done here. It is a fine specimen of home manufacture. It is a shingle-skin wagon, built on the middle track with the narrow-track bed, which admits of easy turning. The arm is three and a quarter inch, the tire is very thick and heavy, that on the hind wheel being the heavier, to stand the wear of the brake. It is beautifully painted, and altogether is a fine specimen of workmanship and a credit to the builders. The price of the wagon, including double-trees, neck-yoke and brake, is $225. It has been built for Bishop C. S. Peterson, of Weber City.

We are glad to learn that this very important branch of manufacture has at length been inaugurated here; we hope to see it become a permanent and profitable industry. We have the skill and ability right here to manufacture articles of this kind equal to any made in any part of the world; and when it is remembered that home-made articles, being constructed of wood seasoned here, will stand the climate much better than those imported, our farmers and freighters cannot help seeing that it will be to their interest to encourage our own manufacturers. The price too, $225, is little if anything beyond the cost of the imported article. And we trust this effort of the Messrs. Naylor will meet the encouragement it deserves, and speedily lead to large trade in this line of business.

POLICE.—John Eagan and Patrick Donovan were fined $5 and costs each for drunkenness. James Dwyer and Peter McDonald, for fast riding, were fined $10 each.

ASHLEY'S BILL.—The last kick of a dying animal.
