STANTON INSTEAD OF HORACE Man Who Wants His Name Changed by the Court.

A peculiar petition was filed in the district court yesterday afternoon in that William V. Horace asked for a decree of court changing his name to Wil-Ham V. Stanton. The petition sets up that the gentleman's true name is Stanton instead of Horace, His father's name was Henry Horace Stanton but in his youth the boys nicknamed William, Horace, and everybody gradually began to know him by that name, and patitioner not realizing what was being accomplished, allowed the matter to go on until be has become to be known as William V Horace. Mr. Stanton was born in Detroit, Mich., June 26, 1874. He finds this cognomen unhandy and awkward in a business way, and he expects to inherit some property from his father's estate, therefore he wishes his true name restored to him that all com-plications may be avoided. To Do Away With Drafting.

New York, Jan. 22.-The most import. ant concession given the New American association by National League was a modification of the national agreement in the matter of drafting players. Under the new arrangement the owner of each club in the American association has the right to reserve at the end of each year any five players on his team he may see fit to keep. This concession will practically do away with drafting, as the association can under it hold its star players, and it is only stars the league is after. All to by the big league, and the new as-sociation are to run for one year, with the privilege of renewal. This was done to conform with the ten-year agreement of the league clubs, which expires at the end of this year.

The association will hold its next meeting probably in Detroit, shortly after the league's schedule meeting in Femruary.

The price to be paid the National League for grounds, stands, leases, fences and players by the association was not made public. Nobody dreams for a moment that these privileges are granted the association for nothing. It is understood that ninety players are to be turned over to the association by the league, providing American club owners are not so rude as to sign some of them.
