LOCAL NEWS.

Artistic.—We saw another day specimen of artistic work to-day from the brush of Brother Lorus Pratt—a portrait of William Noah, of the 19th Ward. It is especially excellent in point of coloring.

Employment for a Miller.—We learn from G. F. Culmer & Bro., of this city, that a competent miller can get employment by applying early. Here is a chance for some one in this line to obtain work.

Amendment.—The Ogden City Electric Light Company, to-day, filed with Secretary Thomas an amendment to Article V of their articles of incorporation, making the capital stock of the company $50,000, which is divided into 25 shares.

West's Map of Utah.—Brother Jos. A. West has only 30 copies of the school edition of his map of Utah, which he is offering at a low price. He is offering special inducements to purchase. Many schools have notified him of their intention to obtain them in time for the fall term, but as he is anxious to dispose of them right away, if they do not apply soon he will seek other purchasers for them.

Another Nuisance.—Parties living on the State Road are growing ever more in their determination of a nuisance which has existed for some time in the water seat on the west side of First Street, between Second and Third South. Along the block are located Chinese wash-houses, a harness shop, and some other grocery stores, and it is alleged that soap-suds, rubbish, decayed vegetables and fruit, etc., are thrown into the ditch, creating a sickening stench, to the great annoyance of people in the neighborhood.

Home Goods Popularized.—Home manufactured goods in some special lines are gradually gaining the ascendancy, by popular preference, over those imported. This is notably the case with woolen fabrics, those produced by the Provo Mills being especially sought after, on account of their excellence having been established. John C. Cutler and Brother, agents for all the classes of goods made at the factory, have an advertisement in all the issues of the News, which we commend to the personal attention of the public. What they represent through our columns are solid facts, which any person can demonstrate by purchasing the goods enumerated and using them.

Cygnel's Cygnel.—By advertisement in another column it will be noticed that the gathering of the Welsh people at Fuller's Gardens next Thursday commences at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and the former part of the day will be spent in recounting old times and scenes and renewing old friendships. The Sixteenth Ward Brass Band is engaged for the whole day, and the majority of them being of Welsh descent will play tunes familiar to old residents of Cambria.

It is believed that several members of the Logan and Spanish Fork chorals will be present and the prospects are that a large number of Welsh people will congregate together on that day. The committee having the matter in hand is composed of brothers Thomas E. Jeremy, G. O. Bywater, Elias Morris, Wm. Ajax, Wm. White, D. L. Davis, John S. Lewis, Sisters J. S. Davis, Mary E. Morris, Hopkins Jones and Esther Davis.

A Romantic Adventure.—A couple of residents of Ogden, who have been in the habit of making romantic and adventurous and a taste for studying nature in its wild grandeur, some time since conceived the idea of spending their summer vacation in floating down Bear River from its source to the Salt Lake and gathering fossils and other curiosities and hunting and fishing on the way. They accordingly had a skiff constructed to their order in Ogden and shipped it by rail and team to the head waters of Bear river. They left Ogden on the 10th of July and probably about the next day were prepared to start on their voyage down the river from the region of Mt. Agassiz, in the Utah Mountains. They floated with the current during the day and camped on the bank wherever slight overcast or having a delightful time, and obtained during the trip a large collection of curiosities. On arriving at Soda Springs, about one month from the time they started, they estimated that they had floated, in following the serpentine course of the current, about 300 miles, although the distance in a straight line from the starting point would probably not exceed 100 miles.

From Soda Springs the voyagers were advised by some one who was somewhat acquainted with the river below to make the rest of their journey to the Lake by team, but, influenced by their success in the past or captivated by the assurances of others who knew little about the stream, they continued on in their little craft. On reaching a point about eight miles below Soda Springs they found the stream became narrow and swift and the banks, composed of volcanic rock, towering about 125 feet high on either side. One of the voyagers who happened to be a poor swimmer had his course fall into here, and he concluded to let his daring companion about the rapid alone, while he took the mountain trail.

The man in the boat had not proceeded much farther when he found retreat impossible and bailing equally futile. He shot like an arrow down the stream, and his occupant was soon horrified at seeing rocks jutting up in the bed of the river in front of him, which he could not hope for the boat to pass. On reaching the first of these rocks he dashed to the shore and was thrown into the angry current, down which he drifted and swam, passing over a fall on the way, and finally made his way to shore more dead than alive. His companion from the hill above had witnessed the adventure with feelings of the keenest anxiety, which were somewhat relieved when he found that his friend was alive, although their boat, guns, fishing tackle, clothing, camp outfit and valuable specimens were all lost. They made their way back to Soda Springs sadder and wiser men, and there obtained money to take them home by train.

A Good Well.—A few weeks since we saw an account of a good well, which had been obtained by Mr. Arnold Glaugue, on his premises in the Sixth Ward. At that time the pipe was down to a depth of 70 feet, and the water was strongly impregnated with tartaric acid, and sugar, a delicious drink could be made. Mr. Glaugue, however, preferred pure drinking water, and drove the pipe farther down. At 120 feet he struck another stream, which proved to be beautiful, clear water, but the flow was not large enough, and driving was continued. On Saturday night a depth of 143 feet was reached, the deepest yet reported in the city, and the pipe had passed through a stratum of clay several feet in thickness into a bed of sand. The water arose to the top of the pipe, five feet above the ground, and work was stopped for the day. Next morning, Mr. Glaugue was surprised to see a stream of water spouting to a considerable height above the pipe, and by the time he had a ditch made to carry it off, his lot was pretty well flooded. Since that time a constant flow of clear water has been maintained, and the owner feels satisfied to let it remain as at present.

While the well was being sunk at one point muddy-looking water oozed from the ground around the outside of the pipe and ran off along the ditch, and on a lighted match being applied the stream would ignite all along, and burn until the greasy substance on the surface of the water has disappeared. This shows without doubt that oil, as well as gas, exists about that district, though to what extent there is at present no definite idea.

From Soda Springs.—We were pleased to meet Brother Joseph A. West to-day, looking hale and weather bronzed. He returned on Friday last to his home in Ogden from a three weeks' trip to Soda Springs, the Salt Lake, and the Territory, and bubbling over with enthusiasm when describing the health-restoring properties of that region. He says the place was thronged with visitors from various parts of the States as well as from the Territories, and he never heard of one being there but was benefited in health by the visit. A little girl of his gained 15 pounds in weight in two weeks there. The hotel accommodations of the place though, he claims are entirely insufficient for the number of people who go there, and he thinks the patronage it is now receiving would require the proprietors in building an extensive hotel.

Electro-Painting.—James S. McLaren, who is engaged in the type foundry connected with this office, is an expert hand at electro-plating, and is prepared to do gold, silver or nickel plating for any who choose to favor him with their patronage as well and cheaply as it can be done in any other place east or west. Plated ware, such as spoons, forks, etc., have had the plating work of can be recovered to any desired thickness and made in every respect as good as they were when new for a fraction of the cost of what new ware. Similar quality would cost. He insures too that the plating which he puts on will not peel off. There is no further need of sending to the east to have such work done, or throwing away as useless such articles as we have mentioned because they have become worn and shabby in appearance, when they can be renewed in the manner indicated right here at home.

The "Exponent."—The August 15th number of the Woman's Exponent came to hand yesterday, filled as usual, with interesting original matter. The editorial relates to the Grant memorial services in this city; a correspondence from J. E. Taylor, on the subject, "Why plural marriage is forbidden in the Book of Mormon;" "Reflections," by H. M. Whitney, "What of Science?" by M. E. K., "A Song of Zion," by the Logan and Spanish Fork Relief Society and Young Ladies' and Primary Association reports, Woman's Voice. An Essay, Notes and News, etc., complete the contents. The Exponent is an excellent journal, and deserves liberal support.

"When Thieves Fall Out."—Yesterday afternoon the Hon. Richard Oliver, who assaulted Miles Mix with a pitchfork, and was charged with threatening the life of Mrs. Mix, was brought before Commissioner McKay for examination. The facts elicited were the same as published in Saturday's News. Oliver gave his version of the affair, claiming that Mix and Parker made the assault, but it was not accepted as the proper one by the Commissioner, and he was bound over in 500 bonds to await the action of the grand jury.

Miles Mix, the party with whom the row took place, formerly lived in Ogden, where he gained an unenviable notoriety for his anti-"Mormon" propensities, which he now holds, that of guard at the Penitentiary.

Portrait of the Prophet.—W. Carter, photographer of this city, has in his possession a daguerotype portrait of the Prophet Joseph, which was taken in Nauvoo in the year 1840—probably within a year of his death. The old acquaintance of the illustrious man to whom it has been shown, pronounce it an excellent likeness. We have always been of the opinion that the busts and most of the pictures of him in existence made him appear too effeminate looking, and this portrait tends to confirm that opinion. The face as shown in it appears to be stronger and more mature looking, and the head broader than generally pictured.

Mr. Carter has taken photographic copies of the daguerotype, which he proposes to touch up with India ink and have copied again, until pictures as true to nature as possible and in various sizes can be produced.

Stung to Death.—This morning, Mr. W. C. Dunbar, in passing through an orchard in the 10th Ward, turned over a little heap of rubbish, not knowing what it was, which resulted quite seriously, as it proved to be a hornet's nest. The stung occupants rushed out seeking relief, and immediately a considerable number attacked his cow, which was quietly browsing among the trees. Our informant states that on being attacked so unceremoniously she sprang about five feet into the air, and was rendered almost mad. She swelled considerably and in a short time died. The probabilities are that had not the cow received the fatal attack, W. C. Dunbar himself would have been the unfortunate object upon which they would have spent their fury, and thus made the consequences more serious. The orchards throughout the city are inhabited by these pests, and the people should be cautious how they handle them.

A Chinese baby was born in Park City on Saturday. Its mother's name is Mrs. Sam Nio.

Charles F. Fraker, the ranchman who captured the desperado Sir Patrick, has just been discharged.

On Saturday morning a fire in a summer kitchen at Ogden did about $200 worth of damage to the house of the property of Bernard McCabe.

Last Friday morning the office of the Battle Town Zerk was partially destroyed by fire, which is believed to have been the work of an incendiary.

On Wednesday afternoon last, a woman-chopper named John, who was at work over in the White Pine district, near Park City, Summit County, had the misfortune to cut his left foot almost off with an axe. His companions carried him some two miles where he lay for some time, and then reached town about 2 o'clock the next morning. Dr. Gregory dressed the wound at once, and the patient was very weak from the loss of blood. He was not at Ogden until yesterday, and is doing as well as can be expected.
