

REVOLT AT MOSCOW PROVES A FAILURE

Gov.-Gen. Doubassoff so Reports
And Says Military Have Situation in Hand.

CURE ARMY DISAFFECTION.

Attacks on it With Bombs the Medicine
—People Panic-Stricken—Streets
Present Weird Appearance.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 26, 11:55 p. m.—Emperor Nicholas and Count Witte received tonight a report from Gen. Doubassoff, governor-general of Moscow, saying that the revolt there had failed; that the military had the situation in hand and that whatever disaffection may have existed among the troops had been overcome by attacks on them with bombs and revolvers, to which they had been subjected from the windows and roofs of houses, and which had so enraged them that they could hardly be restrained.

Although the rebellion may have been immediately elsewhere and although there is an indication of an upheaval at Odessa, if the attempt at armed rebellion in Moscow should be crushed the leaders of the "reds" will receive a blow from which they cannot quickly recover.

Count Witte is not so blind as to believe that the revolution can be stamped out, but with the present demonstration of the lengths to which the revolutionists will attempt to go he hopes that the moderates of all classes will come to their senses and aid in the suppression of the rebellion. The convocation of the duma for governing the elections to which was published today.

Among the developments here today the most important was the capture of the leaders of the "fighting legions," which, it is believed, ends the danger of an attempt at an armed uprising in St. Petersburg. This capture, it is understood, places in the hands of the government complete information regarding revolutionary plans and places where arms are concealed, as well as disclosing the weak spots in the army.

Shortly before 9 o'clock tonight the correspondent of the Associated Press at Moscow telegraphed that there seemed to be no longer doubt that the insurrection was collapsing. The insurgents still held the quadrangle in which the Workmen's council was sitting as a revolutionary committee, but only because Gov.-Gen. Doubassoff was not yet ready to give the coup de grace.

Firing continued intermittently throughout the day. At 5 o'clock automatic guns were being used in Stranetsky square, but the insurgents were becoming exhausted after their four days' efforts and the fighting was rapidly degenerating into guerrilla warfare.

The insurgents were defending themselves with revolvers and bombs as they were being hunted down from house to house.

The correspondent says that the entire population of the city is terror-stricken, and that after dark the back streets present a weird and uncanny appearance. As he drove to the telegraph station he saw only a few civilians, who were then sinking along to the side of the walls so as to avoid the police and cavalry patrols, who fire without challenge.

The windows of the houses are stuffed with mattresses and blankets, and no light is showing. The police carry rifles with bayonets fixed.

Gen. Doubassoff is enforcing the most rigid martial law and no person is allowed on the streets after 9 o'clock at night. About one-third of the workmen have left the city and are traveling on foot to the villages, some of which are hundreds of miles distant.

Among the lower classes, which do not sympathize with the desire to overthrow the emperor, the feeling is becoming intense, and in many cases strikers have been and are being shot.

The correspondent predicts that the crushing of the rebellion is likely to be followed by the most horrible atrocities if the "Black Hundreds" are let loose.

DANGER SIGNALS.

No engineer would be mad enough to run by the flag which signaled danger. It is different with the average man or woman. They attempt constantly to run by the danger signals of Nature and that attempt costs thousands of lives every year. When the appetite becomes irregular or entirely gives out when sleep is troubled and broken when there is a constant feeling of dizziness and languor, Nature is hoisting the danger signal. The stomach and its organs are failing in their work and the body is losing the nutrition on which its strength depends.

Such a condition calls for a prompt use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies and enriches the blood and builds up the body with sound, solid flesh.

"I have had so much benefit from your medicines am glad to say a few words for their use for publication," writes Mrs. J. L. Brown, Crystal Lake, Conn. "I had been troubled with a complication of diseases for two years, but kidneys and liver bothered me most. Some of my worst ailments were headache, frequent pains around heart and under right shoulder-blade. My hands and feet were cold nearly all the time, and I had such chilliness between shoulders. Some days I could not eat for food; I lost flesh; felt so tired and miserable I seemed I couldn't do any housework. I received no benefit. Bought a bottle of Golden Medical Discovery, and after taking it I felt so much better I determined to give it a fair trial. Appetite soon improved and gradually the disorders disappeared until I was well."

French girl of wealth and position. When she finds that she too is in love she is confronted by the risk of losing John through a confession of her station in life.

Complications ensue and every effort is made to break up the match. These come near being successful, but a banquet when John drags Julie from the convivial board, but everything comes out in the conventional way.

NINE MEN POISONED AT A MEXICAN BANQUET.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 26.—Further news from Torreon, Mexico, where leading citizens were poisoned at a banquet Saturday night, says that nine are dead and many others ill and that the poisoning was part of a political plot. Strichinsky was put into a box of punch. All the dead are said to have been of one political faction. The members of the opposing faction who attended the banquet were not affected by the punch they drank.

A CHRISTMAS BATTLE.

Rival Fishermen Fight and Half a Dozen Get Gun Shot Wounds.

Eureka, Cal., Dec. 26.—A battle was waged Christmas night between rival fishermen on Eel river, and as a result five or six men are suffering from gunshot wounds sustained in the encounter. American and Italian fishermen had a falling out at the opening of the season. Nets were out and other damage followed. The fishing finally became a little calmer late Monday night a party of Italians embarked in a boat and descended on a river saloon in which the Americans were celebrating Christmas. The Italians, who were drinking heavily, shouted their intention of cleaning out their opponents. Before they could approach nearer a charge of buckshot was fired into their midst and several were wounded. The lights in the saloon were put out and the Americans launched their boat and pulled from the shore. The Italians noticed the maneuver and followed, but when near the bank the Americans fired upon them, wounding several more. Had it not been for the fact that the Italians had stopped at the saloon and captured an American named Casey, who had been left behind, a fatal fight would have ensued. Casey, who was wounded, called to his companions to cease firing. To insure better protection, Casey was held up and used as a shield. The Italians after bidding and gassing Casey, left him in a field badly wounded. He worked himself loose and was arrested tonight at Laleta on the complaint of one of the Italians. Another American known as French was wounded in the stomach. Both are in a serious condition. Two others were arrested near the scene of a trouble. Four Italians have been treated for gunshot wounds.

The hotel was a large frame building owned by the Wisconsin Trust company and the total loss is placed at $8,000.

ARRESTS AT TOULON.

Toulon, France, Dec. 26.—Several arrests of non-commissioned officers of the navy are impending, owing to the discovery at their domiciles of detailed plans of the battleships and submarine boats. NO ABATEMENT OF BOYCOTT.

Will be None Until Desired Change
Has Been Made—Chinese Women
Strong Advocates of It.

New York, Dec. 27.—Dr. F. F. Tong, the representative of the Chinese government who is here to create a public sentiment against the exclusion law as administered, declared yesterday that there would be no abatement of the boycott in China against American goods until the desired change was made.

He said that his most recent advice indicated that the movement of retaliation had spread to every province of the empire. Everywhere merchants and their customers are working together to shut out goods made in the United States. Tien Tsun Dr. Tong asserted, mills for the production of cotton and woolen goods have been started, and a flour mill is in operation. Women are heart and soul with the men in their fight against American goods. In purchasing powder for their faces, the first question they ask is "Was it made in America?" If the answer is in the affirmative they refuse to buy. "What we are seeking to accomplish," said Dr. Tong, "is an adjustment of the law and its administration that will put a stop to the injustice to which Chinamen in this country are constantly subjected."

HAMILTON'S REPORT RECEIVED AND CONSIDERED.

New York, Dec. 26.—The investigating committee of the New York Life trustees had a meeting today at which were present Thomas P. Fowler, Clarence H. Mackay, Augustus G. Faine, Norman B. Ream and Hiram B. Steel. At the close of the meeting, their counsel, John G. Milburn and W. A. Keenan, and John A. McCall, president of the New York Life. The report sent from Paris by Andrew C. Hamilton was considered and referred to the counsel. At the close of the meeting Mr. Fowler said nothing could be given out. Mr. McCall stated that the report was favorable to himself.

The World tomorrow will say that the main features of Hamilton's report are that Hamilton admits that he may owe the New York Life money, and that his account with the company is "opened" because of his failure to render a statement of the money he has received. He offers to place in escrow $100,000 cash from his own private funds pending a final adjustment of his account. Any sum which it may be decided he owes the company is to be paid the New York Life out of the $100,000. Hamilton does not give the names or reveal the identity of the persons to whom he made payments.

Y., Dec. 26.—Mrs. Alfred Witte of 815 Central avenue, this city, is the mother of a three days' old daughter which, she insists, was born in 110 days, or less than four months, after she had given birth to a son. Her story is practically vouched for by Dr. George T. Mosler, a reputable physician, who attended her. Both parents are a few months over 20 years of age. Dr. Mosler said to the Associated Press tonight that he believed the woman's story.

BEAT HIM TO DEATH.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 26.—Imagining his room a ship and himself second mate, Peter Hansen, a longshoreman, beat A. Gray, another longshoreman, about the head and body, Christmas night, causing the latter's death shortly before noon today. Hansen has been arrested and Gray's body is at the morgue.

The men were rooming at a lodging house, conducted by R. H. Cross, at 61 West Battery street, and spent the greater part of Christmas day drinking. On several occasions, in the presence of Cross, Hansen struck Gray about the face and head, giving him orders common aboard ship, and otherwise acting as if he were a superior officer. When the men retired last Monday night, Gray was then in bad shape. The next morning Gray was found nearly dead and was taken to the emergency hospital and died shortly after noon.

VATICAN WHITE BOOK ON CHURCH IN FRANCE.

Paris, Dec. 26.—A French translation of a vatican white book regarding the separation of church and state reached Paris tonight. The volume consists of 300 pages, divided into a preface, two sections and an appendix. The latter containing many unpublished documents. The book disclaims any intention of replying to those whom it calls the detractors of the church, and expresses the desire not to offend any one, saying that its chief objects are to enlighten public opinion regarding the facts and to prevent the handing down of misstatements connected with the history of such an important event. In the leading chapters an effort is made to demonstrate that the entire onus for the rupture between the vatican and the French government and the resultant separation of church and state rests with the various French cabinets, the members of which pursued an anti-religious policy, including the suppression of the congregations and of religious instruction in the schools. The book proceeds with the refutation of the accusation that separation was rendered inevitable by the attitude of the church. It declares that this charge was made because the French statesmen, knowing that the people of France had no desire for a separation, wished to disclaim responsibility for the consequences which, it is pointed out, would be equally serious for France and for the church.

Then follows arguments showing the alleged baseness of the charges brought against the church of acting contrary to the interests of the republic. The question of the nomination of bishops is discussed at length. The appendix deals in detail with the French protectorate over Catholics in the far east and the arguments are advanced that although this protectorate is founded on international treaties, it must depend on the will of the vatican.

SOIL SURVEY REPORT.

During Last Fiscal Year 15,572,320 Acres Were Mapped.

Washington, Dec. 26.—The soil survey of the department of agriculture has mapped 15,572,320 acres of land during the past fiscal year, according to the annual report of the soil bureau. Surveys were made in 28 states. Rhode Island is the first state in the union of which a complete survey has been made. The maps show the different kinds of soil which occur in different areas. The report says that the work during the past eight years shows the three great agricultural problems now are: First, the western farmer is chiefly concerned with the preservation of alkali and its removal or control; second, the eastern farmer is chiefly concerned with the study of the adaptation of the proper crop to the proper soil, and third, with the maintenance of restoration of soil fertility.

The tobacco investigations of the bureau have been extended.

BAD FAILURE OF A SAN FRANCISCO BROKER.

San Francisco, Dec. 26.—R. B. Mitchell, the stock broker, who died at 28 New Montgomery street, under the Palace hotel has closed his doors. A short time after the concern opened up for business this morning it was seen that its obligations could not be met, and within an hour the exact figures of the Mitchell estate had been established had failed.

"It is believed," says the Evening Post, "that the failure will be for a sum ranging between $75,000 and $100,000. It is impossible to ascertain the exact figures until Mitchell's books are examined and it is shown how much he is short on the stock exchange."

When the failure was reported great surprise was expressed by all except a few brokers, who said they had expected for some time that Mitchell would be embarrassed if he did not stick to a strict commission business.

Mitchell's bookkeeper, Charles Clark is endeavoring to ascertain whether or not the bankrupt broker has any available assets. Mitchell is reported to be ill at his home.

Soon after the failure was made known Bookkeeper Clark is alleged to have admitted to a gathering of creditors that for some time past Mitchell had conducted a "bucket shop" business. The bookkeeper volunteered the statement that he was satisfied that Mitchell did not have a dollar left.

After Bookkeeper Clark had made it plain to the assembled creditors that the failure could not have been worse than it is, they held a formal meeting in the assembly room of Mitchell's office. James Whitely, a capitalist and broker, called the meeting to order and acted as chairman. He made a brief statement on the present state of affairs, and suggested that the creditors agree to sell their stocks on the basis of the official closing quotations of the day in New York, and then to settle on a plan when the bookkeeper will have submitted a statement of the condition of the books tomorrow.

The creditors decided that the stocks which Mitchell is supposed to have, since he was commissioned to buy them for these creditors, shall be sold at today's closing prices, and that Mitchell shall give power of attorney to his counsel or some other person to sign the transfers of stock.
