

SOCIETY

THE WEEK REVIEWED

The week has been a quiet one as compared with the past months, but the few social events that have taken place have been of a notably pleasant nature. Next week promises so far still less in a social way, though there will doubtless be a generous quota of home affairs of a quiet kind that will relieve the comparative dearth.

SOCIAL CHAT

The most elaborate affair of the week was the reception given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Sharp on Thursday night by the members of the Bureau of Information in the Temple grounds. The beautiful home was decorated with a profusion of cut-flowers, vines and palms, American Beauty roses and deep red carnations being used with artistic effect, and silver candelabra with red shades adding in the effective picture. During the evening President Joseph P. Smith and Hon. James Sharp made brief addresses, and an exceptionally enjoyable program was given, the following artists taking part: Miss Cecelia Sharp, piano solo; Miss Chloe Sharp, violin; Miss Lottie Owen, vocal solo; Mrs. Maggie Hull, vocal solo; Mr. Berry, saxophone solo; Mr. Willard Squires, vocal solo. Recitations were given by R. S. Young, President Paul of the L. D. S. university, and Mr. Thomas Hull, the entire program being thoroughly enjoyed by those present. Delicious refreshments were served, and the evening spent in a delightful social way. About 200 were present to enjoy the notable affair.

Mrs. G. P. Holman entertained at an informal afternoon function on Thursday, in honor of Mrs. Menz of Portland.

Miss Ora Harkness entertained delightfully at a ping pong party on Thursday night.

At the home of Mrs. E. Fowler, 85 Grape street, on Saturday evening a very pleasant surprise party was given, the occasion being her sixty-sixth birthday. Those present besides the members of the family were: Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Gemmell, Mr. and Mrs. William McKean, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Price, Mr. and Mrs. C. McPhie, Mr. and Mrs. William Burridge, Miss Margaret Ellen Burridge, William Burridge, Jr., Andrew Kennedy, Robert McPhie, Peter Morris, Junius Lewis, John H. Marshall, John Haddox, E. R. Sanders, Miss E. V. Carr, Sadie Price, Rosa Jensen, Mrs. T. B. Hardy, Henry McKean, William McKean, Thomas McKean, Miss Nevada McPhie.

Mrs. George Putnam was hostess at an informal luncheon on Thursday, covers being laid for six guests. The table decorations were in pink and white, and were most effectively carried out. The guests were Mrs. Hezron, Mrs. J. S. Bransford, Mrs. L. A. Evans, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. S. E. Bransford and Mrs. William Dale.

Mrs. Elwood Bailey entertained the members of the McKean corps, ladies' auxiliary, at her home on Thursday afternoon, and a most enjoyable time was spent. A guessing game was the feature of the afternoon, the prizes being won by Mrs. Ellen Gates and Mrs. South-gates.

Mrs. Elmer Harris was hostess at a

Mrs. George Coray entertained at an elaborate dinner on Wednesday, the rooms and table being beautifully decorated for the occasion. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Woolley, Mrs. Burt, Miss May Burt, Mr. and Mrs. David Atteck, Miss Della Burt, Eugene B. Lewis, Howard Coray, Prof. and Mrs. Coray.

A delightful event of the week was the card party given by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd V. Draper at their home, about 40 guests being present. The rooms were attractively decorated with carnations, ferns and palms, and refreshments were served at the close of the contest. The invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Will Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kerrick, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Lombour, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Armstrong, Mr. and ed candelabra. These with the cutglass jars and vases, and cutglass candelabra were most effective and pink and white carnations were at each place. The place cards were Gibson girls. Those present were: Mesdames Carpenter, Pearsall, Young, Glendenning, Rookledge, Roberts, Sadler, Ferguson, Evans, Jennings, Ferris, Wood, Ellerbeck, Ewing, Franken, Oberdorfer, McLaughlin, Harris, Henbury, Miles, Holmes, Miller, McCormick, Pardee, Seigel, Holman, Misses Burk, Dooley, Barch, Judge, Salsbury, Sadler, Dern and Noble.

delightful musicale at her home on Thursday night about 22 guests being present. An enjoyable musical program was rendered by Miss Olive Gray, Mrs. Edmunds, Mrs. Harris and Messrs, Curtis, Berkhoe and Critchlow.

Mrs. Dora E. White entertained at a pleasant evening party on Monday in honor of Miss Rose Brennan of Oklahoma.

Mrs. Harrison D. Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Heywood, the Misses Bessie Ames, Helen Halm, Nellie Mason, Evelyn Mason, Eva Dix and Alma Andrews; Messrs. William Sheetz, Clarence Holman, Ted Moore, Charles Moore, Graham Lawrence, Sherwin Davis, Will Druchi and Gavin Andrew.

Mrs. A. W. Copp entertained at a delightful party on Wednesday afternoon, the features of the affair being a guessing contest, and fortune-telling. The rooms were prettily decorated, and refreshments were served. The prizes in the guessing game were won by Miss Kinney, and Miss Mary Kinney. The other guests were Mrs. Ed McGurkin, Mrs. Frank McGurkin, Mrs. Warwick, Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Read, Miss Lawson, Miss Donellan and Mr. Newhouse.

Mrs. George K. Fischer was hostess at an informal luncheon on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ischert entertained at an informal dinner on Wednesday.

The party given by the Sarasate club last night at the Ladies' Literary clubhouse was a delightful affair, all details combining to make it successful. A large number were present, and the entire affair delightful throughout.

Mrs. Wetzel chaperoned a party of young girls at a matinee party on Wednesday afternoon, those comprising it being Alice Fouts, Zeta Morris, Lucy Gaby, Mattie Green, Helen Tibbits, Miss Hellsbury, Lillian Turner, O. Nelson and G. T. Riser.

Capt. and Mrs. Sturgis entertained a few friends informally at dinner at the post on Wednesday.

The Council of Women gave a card party in the B. B. hall on Tuesday, a large number being present to enjoy the affair. The prizes in the card contest were won by Mrs. Ganz, Mrs. Joseph and Mrs. Mooney, and Mrs. Moss was the winner at lotto.

Mrs. Lloyd V. Draper was hostess at a second enjoyable card party this afternoon.

Mrs. G. B. Ploutz entertained on Wednesday at a delightful card party a large number being present. The rooms were prettily decorated, and prizes were awarded, the winners being Mrs. Charles Post, Mrs. L. C. Miller and Mrs. L. M. Bailey.

One of the largest and most delightful affairs of the week was the luncheon given on Tuesday by Mrs. A. C. Allen, in honor of Mrs. H. S. Miller. The refreshments were served, and the prizes were awarded, the winners being Mrs. Charles Post, Mrs. L. C. Miller and Mrs. L. M. Bailey.

the week. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. For-man were the hostesses, and Capt. Har-beson and Lieut. Heidt had the man-agement. Besides the post people, a number of guests were present from the city, and a delightful time was spent by all.

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Whitley entertained at dinner in honor of their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Kellar of Colorado. The table was in pink, a vase of pink carnations standing in a centerpiece of lace, and the silver candelabra being shaded in pink. Ten guests were entertained.

Mrs. F. A. Vincent entertained the members of the Sewing club in a delightfully informal way at her home on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. George F. Fischer was hostess at another luncheon this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stowe entertained at a delightful dinner on Tuesday.

Tonight Mrs. Agnes Olsen will give a pupils' recital at her studio in the Dooly block.

CARDS AND KENSINGTONS

Miss June McIntyre entertained at a delightful card party at her home on Thursday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Nicol, 10 tables being played. The rooms were prettily decorated in pink and green, red carnations and roses being used with sunlax and palms, and the scores being Indian heads on red cards. The ladies prizes were won by Mrs. Albert Whitehead and Mrs. Will Ellerbeck, and the gentlemen's by Judge Smith and Mr. George Lawrence.

Thursday was the seventy-first birth-day anniversary of Mrs. Charles Wilkes, and the members of the "65" Club, which she originated, made the date the occasion of a surprise, the club gathering at the home of Mrs. Geo. Downey and during the afternoon presenting Mrs. Wilkes with a handsome piece of silver by the members of the club. A delightful time was spent by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Erickson gave an enjoyable card party at their home on Wednesday evening in commemoration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, a large number of their friends being present. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers and vines, and the score cards were in keeping with the general pretty scheme. Prizes were won by the Mrs. William Bradford and Mr. Jesse Hawkes.

Mr. and Mrs. Witz entertained the Card club at their home on Monday night, the prizes being won by Mrs. Louise Simon and Mr. Witz.

One of the most elaborate events of the week was the card party given on Thursday night by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Silberstein in honor of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Silberstein of Duluth. The decorative scheme was entirely in Indian design and was most artistically carried out, the rooms being hung with Indian blankets, baskets, arrowheads, water bottles, etc., and the scores, tables and prizes also carrying out the design. In the refreshments the Indian colors, red, green and yellow, prevailed, and all details were most perfectly carried out. The first ladies' prize was won by Mrs. Louis Simon; the second by Mrs. Louis Simon; the first gentlemen's prize was won by Mr. Milton D. Jacobs, and the second by Mr. Simon Bamberger. Consolation awards were made to Mrs. Henry Cohn and Dr. L. G. Reynolds.

RECEPTIONS AND HOMES

Mrs. William H. King was at home on Tuesday, and was assisted in receiving her mother, Mrs. F. M. Lyman, Mrs. Dunyon, Mrs. George Reed, and Miss Cunningham. During the afternoon Mrs. Dunyon rendered a number of delightful vocal selections.

Mrs. Sol Siegel received informally on Wednesday in honor of her guest, Mrs. W. Atwood of Portland, Ore. The rooms were prettily decorated, and a large number were present during the afternoon.

Mrs. George T. Odell gave a pleasant afternoon function on Thursday in honor of Mrs. Harry Pitts.

WEDDING BELLS

A pretty affair of the week was the reception given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Hyde, Jr., in honor of Mr. Arthur Campbell of Chicago and his bride, Miss Minnie Thompson of Salt Lake. Miss Teenie Peterson acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Hyde was best man, while Messrs. William Conrad and E. T. Kimball were ushers. The rooms were decorated with American beauty roses and delicious refreshments were served. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left for California.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Jackson gave a reception in honor of the wedding of their niece Alice Marks, and Arthur Williams, which was solemnized in the temple earlier in the day. About sixty five guests sat down to an elegant supper, and a very enjoyable evening was spent during which music, singing and various other amusements were indulged in. The young couple received many handsome and useful presents.

At the meeting of the Ladies' Literary club yesterday, Mrs. Thomas Weir gave a paper on Bret Harte and Frank R. Stockton, and Miss Burkella Plank gave a talk on "The Body Beautiful," her lecture being illustrated by a class in expression which is under her tutelage.

The next meeting of the Reviewers will be Anniversary and President's day.

FEMININE FLOTSAM

I refuse to believe that this is a vale of tears. When I get to thinking it is, I think of something else right quick and count backward; then I decide it's a valley of sunlight.

You can't make me think that the great power that formed this beautiful old world made it for us to weep on. For what is the sunshine, anyway, if it is not to make everything warm and glowing, even sorrowing hearts? The crisp, fine, strong winds were meant for the purpose of blowing blue spirits into rapid nothingness. Don't you think so? There is a simple way of being happy. It is to stop being miserable. It is like the two-times-three song of the kindergarten, and you can't get away from it. There are two kinds of people who can't be happy until they reform. They are the lazy folks and the individuals who have dyspepsia. But even for them there is a quick cure—work for the former; pepsin tablets and a good laugh for the latter.

Anyone who has energy and good health should be reasonably contented. If you are busy you won't have time to spread your tears around all over the house, to milder the rugs and the hopes of your family. Your thoughts will be guided into pleasant places by the tremendous interest of something you are going to do and do well. And it is surprising how easily things will come to those who want to work. It's the laggard who throws bricks at fate, and talks behind the lack of circumstances and environments. He has to blame somebody. Why not fate?

Some people have an idea that the lucky ones of the world go and catch fortunes like you net minnows or collect raindrops in a dipper. These people sit down in an uncoveted corner and twirl their thumbs and tell themselves that they are as clever as the next one. And after they wait and twirl and tell for about 40 years they decide that something is quite wrong and the world has it in for them. The world! Why, the world's all right; it's the inhabitants thereof that are wrong. Some people love to make excuses for their own shortcomings. If it hadn't rained yesterday they would have done great things. Or they just planned the
