We were surprised the other day to learn that certain individuals in this city, who had for many years yielded to what was apparently an inevitable inte, were startled from their torpid condition of semi-stupidity, into as-senting their right to 'life, fiberty and the pursuit of happiness,' These par-ties had been bound by an influence as powerful as it was incomprehensible. They knew not the cause, yet they were viotims to the result. They were enchained, but they could not discern by what means they had been manacl-ed. They had long sought deliverance in vain.
