RECORD STILL STANDS.

RECORD STILL STANDS. The recent record-breaking non-stop mo-tor run of Thomas Flyer, during which the motor ran continuously for 21 days, 3 hours and 2^s minutes, or until a supply of dirty gasoline clegged the carburctor mo-mentarily, appears to have been the signal for the start of almost innumerable at-tempts to raise the figures. Since the end of the Chicago automobile show no less than 19 of these have been begun by var-lous firms and individuals, a conding to reports made to E. R. Thomas Mo'or com-pany, by its representatives and friends throughout the country. None of them, however, have resulted in the running of the motor for more than half the time at which the record new stands.
