LOST ORE VEIN IS RECOVERED.

Turbane Hill Mine, Fish Creek, Idaho, is Again Among the Bonanza Possibilities.

WORKED BY PARK CITY CROWD.

Ore of High Grade and There is no Doubt But Development Will Be Pushed.

Col. Wilson, who is a heavy stockholder in the Turbane Hill mine of Fish Creek, Idaho, reports that the ledge which was lost by a fault has been recovered and that a fine body of ore has been uncovered. The mine was bonded by a crowd of Park City people about a year ago, who have been doing a great amount of work upon it within the past 18 months. The original holders were composed of Salt Lake and Idaho people, and Judge Le Grande Young is the president of the company. The Park City people bonded the property for $50,000 some time ago and at once put a force of men at work under the management of W. B. Smith of Park City. For some time it responded to development in a wonderful manner and it was thought it would quickly be placed in the bonanza column. At once the ore petered out and he found himself up against a fault. Some thought of giving up the bond was induced in by the Park City people, but Judge Young at the head of the vendors refused to give an extension of time unless double the money was forthcoming for the mine. As the bond only had six months to run it was deemed best to go on with the work with the result stated above.

ON THE EXCHANGE.

Volume of Business Greater and Prices Steady.

There was an improvement in the volume of business today over yesterday on the mining exchange. Carlsbad took the lead in the selling and passed out 12,000 shares at figures all the way from 11 to 12 cents per share. Daily fell away from yesterday's figures and was sold down to $2.20 per share, with $2.20 bid at the close. Daily-Judge stands at about yesterday's price, closing with $3.75 bid and $3.85 asked; but a small number of shares changing hands. Daily-West was also slightly lower and passed out two lots at $34 bid. May Day, Lower Mammoth and Century were in the trading list at the old figures, while Sacramento was a little off, selling at 20 1/2. Butler-Liberal was a non-trader but is weak and in small demand at 7 1/2 bid and 8 1/2 asked. State Consolidated still stands at figures around 20 cents, while Ingot is creeping up and is held at 2 1/2. Little change is noted in the other stocks, the market closing on the following quotations:

AT THUNDER MOUNTAIN.

Opinion Expressed that the Ore Body is a Blanket Formation.

R. W. Purdum makes some very interesting and highly important statements concerning the developments on the property of the Belle of Thunder Mountain company at Thunder Mountain, Idaho. He says the ore body is of such a character as to raise a question as to whether it is a fissure upon which the work is being done or a great blanket deposit. If it is a fissure it is of enormous width. The ore is capped over by some 40 feet of barren material and wherever they go underneath the mineral is found. As sinking has not been undertaken below the level of the Sunnyside tunnel, it has not been determined whether the ore goes down. What is designated as the Burr Oak tunnel may settle the question. ## GREAT SHOWING IN THE LUCY L.

New Strike Turns Out to be the Biggest Thing of the Kind In Utah.

MONSTER VEIN OF HIGH GRADE.

Superintendent Wilson Leaves for the Mine in the Morning and Will Make a Shipment.

A letter received by Arthur Macy of this city from Foreman Cobbickel gives the fullest description of the recent strike in the Lucy L. Moore of the Clifton mining district, Deep Creek, just received. From the letter it is shown that the mine is now in the nature of a bonanza, and the strike one of the most important in the history of the state, as it means the uplifting of an entire district. The following copied from the letter makes good reading:

"We have run the lower tunnel in from west over 200 feet, and are now 12 feet in the main ledge and taking out copper ore that is beautiful to look at. I have some specimens on the table before me that would make a mineralogist's eyes stick out. It is literally 'lousy' with red and black oxides, green and yellow carbonates, pyrites, peacock sulphides, azurite and a beautiful blue colored form of copper. What is more, these are not picked samples, but just samples of ore of which I am taking out tons every day. Unless I am very much mistaken the mill contains the most wonderful ledge of copper in the state. The ore in the upper tunnel contained over 100 lbs. of copper, in addition to the copper, and there is no doubt but the ore from the lower tunnel will assay as great in gold and silver, with some of the copper."

Superintendent Wilson leaves for the mine in the morning and will ship in several tons of the ore by the first of the year.

STOCKS DISPLAYED SLEGGISHNESS.

U. S. Steel Preferred Was Steadily Bought, Giving Firmness to The General Market.

NO GAINS OF CONSEQUENCE.

Unexplained Selling of St. Louis & San Francisco Depressed Over Three Points.

New York, Dec. 18.—The opening trading in stocks was listless and indifferent, and the movement of prices very sluggish. The majority of the early buying orders were executed in United States Steel preferred and Brooklyn Transit. An improvement of a point in these stocks contributed to the general firmness, but there were no gains of consequence outside of the specialties. Pacific Coast securities in Brooklyn Transit and later selling of Amalgamated Copper, which lowered them a point from the peak, caused moderate pressure against the railroad 185, and prices declined from such offerings. Brooklyn Transit and Amalgamated Copper steadied and United States Steel preferred advanced. The market then settled into an inert state and near last night's price level.

Unexplained selling of St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred depressed it 3 1/2, and impaired activities to Rock Island, which controls the road which ran off 1 1/2. Later was a slight recovery, but there was no real recovery of the 100-point selling of the specialties.

Speculation was carried on rather aimlessly and the tendency was more delicately downward during the afternoon. The current price of steel billets would be maintained as long as the market for steel is strong, and it reached a high of 1 1/2.
