AMERICA'S MOST BEAUTIFUL BOY.

"Prince" Benny," asserted to be the most beautiful child to be found in all America, has just posed for this photograph. He is Bickford Benjamin Benny, now of Norfolk, Neb.

Walter Russell, a famous painter of children, searched high and low for an ideal model. He said he found in the United States only twelve who could be called truly beautiful, and of these the Benny boy, whom he found in the home of his parents at Pasadena, Cal., was the only one who answered completely to the exacting standards which Russell's artistic imagination had conceived.

Another artist, Paul de Lampre, of Hollywood, Cal., celebrated as a painter of flowers, could compare this child only to some of the blossoms which he has studied. "As perfect as a flower," was De Lampre's verdict on this infant Adonis.

Little Bickford Benjamin's parents have now taken up their residence in Nebraska, and the boy will be sent to school at Wisner in that state.

CHARTRAN'S MODEL JAILED FOR DEBT.

The case of Mrs. Helen Chase, the subject of one of Chartran's famous paintings entitled "A Portrait of a Lady," who is now in jail in New York charged with debt by a prominent manufacturer, whose love she declares she spurned, has caused a big sensation in the metropolis.

George H. Woodman, a weathy manufacturer, has sued Mrs. Chase for $2,900 he says he lent her. She was arrested last week, and held in default of $2,000 bail. According to Woodman, he agreed to lend Mrs. Chase money on her jewelry, and when he gave her the money she swept the jewels into her trunk and sat upon it.

Mrs. Chase declares Woodman has made her arrest the medium of revenge because of her refusal to marry him. The outcome of the case is awaited with interest.

GROUND CHOCOLATE

Most people who drink Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate began because they liked the taste.

They keep on drinking it for the same reason and also because it is a food as well as drink.

Cocoa beans are filled with nutriment-and just the kind of nutriment you need to keep going every day without getting tired or worn out. People who drink Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate feel good-at least they are not nervous or weak. Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate is just ripened cocoa beans and pure sugar ground fine together. Add hot milk and before you is a steaming cup-delicious and tempting.
