

SHEEPMAN DISCUSS NEGRO-BACILLOSIS

Disease of Lip and Leg May Be Cured on Young Sheep.

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES ACT

Dr. F. E. Murray Addresses Association—Letter from State Veterinarian—Circular On Remedies.

There was a meeting yesterday afternoon of the Utah State Woolgrowers' association, with special reference to the presence of negro-bacillosis. Among those present were Dr. F. E. Murray, chief of the bureau of animal industry; State Veterinarian A. C. Young; Secy. C. B. Stewart of the Woolgrowers' association; E. H. Callister; Elmer Hendon of Vernal, and other prominent men interested in the sheep industry. The following communication was read from the bureau chief:

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 20, 1909. The Utah State Woolgrowers, City: Gentlemen—I desire to inform you that instructions have been received at the local office of the bureau of animal industry not to issue certificates for interstate shipments of sheep if same show symptoms of lip and leg disease. Reports have been received from the market centers stating that this disease has been found in a few shipments of Utah sheep; so far, these reports indicate only two centers of infection. In view of these facts, I would respectfully recommend that means be provided by this association for a thorough investigation of the extent of the disease and the radiating of same. Very respectfully,

F. E. MURRAY,
Inspector in Charge.

The two centers referred to are reported as Heber and Wasatch, both of which points are being closely watched. A communication was also received from the state veterinarian on the same subject.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 20, 1909. The Utah State Woolgrowers, City: Gentlemen—It is an established fact that negro-bacillosis (lip and leg disease) exists in this state. If handled immediately and in a proper manner, it can be eradicated. Quarantines will have to be established and treatment applied as indicated. Necessary funds and the active, immediate co-operation of all sheepmen must be had, to control the situation and insure future interstate shipments.

A. C. YOUNG,
State Veterinarian.

CURING THE DISEASE.

The state board of sheep commissioners will send a circular letter to inspectors, urging them to use every endeavor to discover and locate all future trouble, notifying the board of the same. Following is a copy of a circular sent by the secretary of agriculture for treatment of sheep exposed to the lip and leg disease:

When it is desired to dip exposed sheep for interstate shipment, this may be done in one of the cresol or them in the world. CASCARETS the biggest seller—why? Because it's the best medicine for the liver and bowels. It's what they will do for you—not what we say they will do—that makes CASCARETS famous. Millions use CASCARETS and it is all the medicine that they ever need to take.

coal tar cresol dip permitted by the department of agriculture in the official dipping of sheep for scabies, provided the dip is used at a strength one-fourth greater than that specified for use in the dipping of sheep for scabies. The dipping shall be done carefully and the sheep handled as humanely as possible. The department disclaims responsibility for any loss or damage resulting from the dipping, and those who wish to avoid any risks that may be incident to dipping in transit, as well as to avoid liability to prosecution for shipping diseased animals, should see that their sheep are free from disease before shipping them to market.

When, as heretofore provided, exposed sheep are shipped interstate without dipping for immediate slaughter, the proper officers of the transportation company shall affix to both sides of each car a durable placard not less than 4 1/2 by 10 inches in size, on which shall be printed with permanent black ink in bold-face letters not less than 14 inches in height the words "sheep for slaughter exposed to lip and leg disease." These placards shall also show the name of the place from which the shipment was made the rate of the shipment (which must correspond with the date of the waybills and other papers), the name of the transportation company, and the name of the place of destination. Each of the waybills, conductors' manifests, memoranda, and bills of lading pertaining to such shipments by cars or boats shall have the words "exposed to lip and leg disease" written or stamped on its face.

Whenever such shipments are transferred to another transportation company or into other cars or into other boats, or are rebilled or reconsigned to a point other than the original destination, the cars into which said sheep are transferred and the new waybills, conductors' manifests, memoranda, and bills of lading covering such shipments by the cars or boats shall be marked as herein specified for cars first carrying said sheep and for the billing, etc., covering the same. If for any reason the placards herein required are removed from the car or are destroyed or rendered illegible they shall be immediately replaced by the transportation company of its agents, the intention being that legible placards shall be maintained on the cars from the time of shipment until they arrive at destination and the disposition of the cars is indicated by an inspector of the bureau of animal industry.

It seems that old sheep thus afflicted must be killed, as recovery is claimed to be impossible; but the younger sheep may be saved by the means indicated. In Wyoming hundreds of sheep have died. Veterinarians say the disease can be stamped out by systematic effort.

OPINION PLACED WITH COMMITTEE

Preliminary Burial Rites Over a Dinniny Masterpiece Held At Council.

SLOT MACHINES STILL RUN.

Although the Heavy Legal Language
Of the City Attorney Advises Armstrong Decision Will Stand.

City Attorney Harper J. Dinniny addressed his opinion on the status of the slot machine case, which he submitted to the council last night, in such language that Councilman L. E. Hall took exception to it. If the attorney meant that some of the councilmen were making political capital out of the affair, as the opinion read, Councilman Hall declared that the opinion was discourteous and disrespectful. When he called on Mr. Dinniny for an explanation, he made no reply.

In his opinion, Dinniny said that he did not think that the decision rendered by Justice of the Peace Stanley A. Tanks nullified the decision given by Judge Armstrong of the Third district court on the same subject. He hastened to say in the next paragraph that he did not think that the cases involved the same point, however. Judge Armstrong held that the slot machines were gambling devices and could be confiscated. In the decision rendered by Justice Tanks, he held that the trade machines, where the player was given his money's worth of cigars or liquor whether he won or not, could not be confiscated because it was not a gambling device; the player taking no chance. This was the defense set up by Hemenway & Moser, a cigar company, which arranged for the instituting of the suit. He did not say, however, that the defense made by the company was attacked by the city or the judgment allowed to go by default.

ASKS LAW ENFORCEMENT

This was all his opinion amounted to and then he went into the history of the case. He took occasion to comment on the "trap-trap" that had been raised about the operation of the slot machines and said that an effort was being made to make political capital out of it.

After the "opinion" was read, Councilman Fernstrom moved that the chief of police be requested to close the slot machines under the decision rendered by Judge Armstrong. He said that he did not think that the slot machines were being operated under a system where the player took no chance. If a man put 50 cents in a machine and won nothing, he said, he did not believe that the dealer would give him 50 cents worth of cigars.

"I am glad to get some information about the case anyway," Councilman Fernstrom said. "We have been trying for several weeks to get an opinion and we have one now which says that the dealers can be arrested under the decision rendered by Judge Armstrong and I think that it ought to be enforced. The attorney tells us that he has never been asked for an opinion before. Chief Barlow asked him for one, the chief told me so. Mayor Bransford also asked him for an opinion but he never got one, I understand. There are some things that look mysterious about this affair. I believe that there is a conspiracy on foot to allow the machines to run. That is the way it looks to me. I am certain of one thing and that is that the saloonmen and cigar men had $5,000 in a certain bank in the city for the 'American' campaign fund and that it has been drawn out of the bank and applied."

LANGUAGE INTOLERABLE

Councilman Hall was in favor of instructing the police to close the machines. He said that he thought from reading the opinion that the attorney inferred that some of the councilmen had asked for the opinion for the purpose of making political capital out of it. His indignation, he said, if he had interpreted the language correctly ought not to be tolerated.

Councilman Black amended Mr. Fernstrom's motion to have the opinion referred to the police and prison committee. He was seconded by one of his colleagues and the president placed it in the hands of the committee for consideration. A report will be made next Monday night.

When a bill of $275 for detective services rendered by the Third district agency came up, Councilman Hall said that he thought that the city was doing its own detective work. Upon investigation it was learned that two detectives were employed during the week there were plenty of pickpockets in the city. Mr. Hall asked to have the bill laid over a week for investigation and no objection was made.

PROPERTY OWNERS PROTEST.

In sewer extension No. 220, a petition was presented which bore the protest of 71 property owners. The extension of 71 feet of frontage on the proposed extension. It was sent to the engineer to check up. It is probable that the extension has been defeated. In a communication to the council, Mayor Bransford recommended that a concrete conduit be constructed from State street to a point in City creek canyon opposite Sixth avenue. The distance is 180 feet and the cost will be about $30,000, the money to be taken out of the bond fund. The engineer was instructed to draw up plans and specifications, and submit them to the council.

William Jones and 20 property owners asked the council in a letter last night to investigate the damage done by the floods between Ninth North and Fourth North streets and Twelfth West and the Jordan river. All of the petitioners have presented claims against the city.

The council ordered the board of public works to advertise for bids for the paving of the intersections on State street at First South, Second South and Third South streets. This work will be done this year. The city recorder was requested to publish a notice of intention for the paving of Fifth South street from Second East to Fourth East street. The work will probably be done next year because the city has no money now to pay its share.

The garbage contract with the Salt Lake & Los Angeles railroad was referred back to the sanitary committee. The size of the cars was not large enough, the councilmen said. McMillan & Sons petitioned the council for a city inspector at their slaughter house. The company submitted plans which showed that the company had come up to the requirements of the ordinance. The petition was granted.

TESTED & PROVEN

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months Deseret News readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit. J. W. Brownling, 581 23rd St. Ogden, Utah, says: "I believe the exposure I underwent at different times during my life caused my kidney complaint. About ten years ago I first noticed the trouble, there being a pain in my back, especially severe when I overexerted myself. About five years ago the doctors told me I had diabetes and I believed this to be true, as my kidneys were in a terrible condition. The kidney secretions were unnatural and filled with sediment and the passages were entirely too frequent. I was obliged to get up from ten to twelve times in the night on account of this weakness and my health steadily ran down. I lost forty pounds in weight and felt tired and listless. My back pained me a great deal and I had rheumatism in my limbs. A few months ago when I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills I began their use and before long was in good health. I have induced several of my friends to take Doan's Kidney Pills and I know of one case where the contents of two boxes effected a complete cure." From statement given Mar. 7, 1907.

ADDED PROOF.

Mr. Brownling was interviewed on July 25, 1909 and he said: "Although I am now seventy-seven years of age, my health is excellent. I have never had an attack of kidney trouble since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. Whenever I have the opportunity, I give this remedy my endorsement, as I consider it to be a specific for kidney and bladder disorders."
