EVENING NEWS.

Wednesday ... April 19

SHORT AND SHARP.

What is the difference between a hungry man and a glutton? One longs to eat, and the other eats too long.

Gregory, of the Buffalo Express, modestly replies to the Pittsburg Telegraph's inquiry, "Can two constitute a riot?" by saying: "Not unless they happen to be married."

Dentist, to old lady—Your gums require considerable time for mastification. If so much mastification, my dear madam, they can only be surpassed by nature herself." Old lady—"O laws, doctor! I don't care nothing about the mastification if I can only chaw with 'em."

Two little girls were lately prattling together, and one of them said, "We keep four servants, have got six horses and a lot of carriages; now what have you got?" With quiet and much pride, the other answered: "We've got a skunk under our barn."

A Kentucky paper says that the other evening a number of persons gathered in front of the residence of a newly married couple and made the night hideous with incongruous sounds. "Where they," asks the paper, "fools or apes?" Neither; they were the guests.

A chipper little miss of three summers was standing before a mirror, inspecting and admiring a new dress the other day, when she turned to her mother and exclaimed, "Mamma, I want a dragger!" There's no doubt but what that young lady will keep up with the fashions.

One of our ministers rose in the pulpit the other Sabbath and began to apologize for his want of preparation, saying that the congregation must bear with him as he was unwell and did not feel as if he really ought to be there, etc., when his little girl, sitting near the pulpit, cried out, "Quit then, and let's go home."

A young lady in Dover, N. H., saw an advertisement in a New York paper which read thus: "Any one sending us twenty-five cents will receive in return something which will be of immense value to him." He sent, and received in reply this: "Don't be such a fool as to send your money to us again, but keep it in your pocket."

A St. Louis girl invited her rejected suitor to meet her at a certain church at a certain time. He went, and found that the occasion was her marriage to his rival. He fainted at the sight, and the affair caused a great deal of comment. That was a year ago. Now she has been deserted by her husband, and is watching at the deathbed of her father—a punishment for her heartlessness, some people say.—N. Y. Sun.

The Boy's Thirst for Knowledge.

"What makes that noise?" asked a little boy on the train the other day.

"The cars," answered his mother.

"What for?"

"Because they are moving."

"What are they moving for?"

"The engine makes them."

"What engine?"

"The engine in front."

"What's it in front for?"

"To pull the train."

"What train?"

"This one."

"Mamma," repeated the young questioner, pointing to the engine which was

"What does it pull it for?"

"The engineer makes it."

"What engineer?"

"The man on the engine."

"The one in front."

"What is that in front for?"

"I told you that before."

"Told who what?"

"Told you."

"What for?"

"Oh, be still; you are a nuisance."

"What's a nuisance?"

"A boy who asks too many questions."

"Mamma's boy?"

"My boy."

"What question?"

The conductor came through just then and took up the tickets, and the train pulled up to the station before we could get all of the conversation. The last we heard, as the lady jerked the youngster off the platform, was:

"What conductor?"

BRITISH GENEALOGY.

LATTER-DAY Saints from Great Britain who require the genealogies of their forefathers (original copies of England, Scotland, Wales, Channel Islands, or Isle of Man) are hereby respectfully informed that, with the sanction of the proper authorities, I have undertaken the important task of collecting the same for religious purposes, from those countries.

Having traversed Great Britain extensively for local and family genealogies, I rely on the earnestness and integrity of the British race of both sexes, for support, and offer my services to them as an humble instrument in the hands of God.

All persons desiring to employ me should apply immediately as this is a rare opportunity in connection with the great events of the Latter-day Work.
