DESERET EVENING NEWS: SATURDAY, AUGUST 18, 1906.

paring head line of "Wives for Mor- also she would attract attention. non Elders," etc., much has appeared in the press of late regarding a mater which was caused by a girl named susan Henry being held at Boston and seported. Inasmuch as these articles have been very abusive to the elder in the case, I, Emuel Bachman, of Shelley, teel it my duty in vindication of myself and in defense of the Mormon church to make reply, giving a full and clear account of the case in order that all fair-minded people may learn that all fair-initide people may reach the true condition. In company with Elder James King of Lost River, Idaho, with whom I have been intimately acquainted for many I visited Mr. and Mrs. Frederick w, Henry at their home in Scotland, June 22, 1906, for the first time. Elder King, who had been laboring in Edinburgh for a year, was acquainted with them. During our conversation, which was directed at times to Idaho, my home, Mrs. Henry proposed that I take her little girl home with me, saying that inasmuch as they were in adverse cumstances she was sure her girl susan would find a much better home than they could ever provide for her. I at first thought little of it, thinking the woman was joking, but, finding her to be in earnest, I consented to take the hild upon the express condition that they relinguish all right to the girl and freely give her to me so that I could adopt her as my own. This the other willingly and gladly did. The father was not present and for that reason nothing further was done.

I returned to Kilmarnock, Scotland, y field of labor, after instructing ider King to consult Mr. Henry regarding the adoption of the child, and it was agreed that he advise me as soon as he had seen Mr. Henry, which he did. On July 4 I returned to Edin-burgh and was met at the depot by the parents and the girl. They thought I parents and the girl. They thought I was all ready to start homeward and had the girl ready. Elder James King was also present. After a brief conversation, Mr. Henry, Elder King and myself visited a law firm and sought advice regarding the law of adoption in Scotland and was advised adoption in Scotland and was advised that there was no special law regard-ing that matter, but that children were adopted by the common law which re-quired an agreement from the parents setting forth that they freely con-sented to give the child, the same to be witnessed by two disinterested par-tiles. We were also informed that it was not necessary to have the papers acknowledged by a notary public. I told the attorney that 1 understood the adoption laws of the United States the adoption laws of the United States required a regular process of law and felt that there must be some mistake the matter, but I was informed that hey had given me the law of Scotland

Not being satisfied we visited another very prominent law firm and placed our case before them and resived the very same reply as before. These attorneys cited a case where several children had been adopted from one family. Even with the advice and counsel of two law firms, I did not feel satisfied but decided to lay the matter before the American consul at Glasgow. Accordingly on July 5, I visited the consul in company with President James Brown of the Scottish ission and presented my case before m, I was informed for the third time there was no special laws in Scotland regarding adoption, and that the hand regarding adoption, and that the attorneys had advised me correctly. I bet the matter rest and returned to Klimarnock where I had the papers drawn up and sent them to Elder I aree. King at Ediphurgh for execu-who was born April 8, 1895, at No. 5

Idaho, Aug. 17 .- Under the | would be too severe on the eye, and As I commission at Boston would be strict I took every precaution in the matter and did keep the girl below deck, but I did not at any time, in any way mistreat the girl. I do not believe the girl said those things that were reported and if she did say anything it has been greatly enlarged upon. I desire to state that the immigration inspectors who came on board o examine the passengers treated me with much sarcasm, and to say the least were anything but gentlemen. After walting two days in Boston I the attendance for 1904-1905, being a normal year, because last year the regmet the commission and was questioned at length as to my intentions of adopting the girl which I declared I would do as soon as I returned to my home. I was informed that they had decided to the college (see note page 96, college catalogue 1905-1906), your statement to deport her. I knew very well that any objection on my part would be folly; the mere fact that I was a Morthe contrary, notwithstanding; and secondly, by a disastrous fire at the mon was enough. I asked that the girl be given the best of care on the return ly destroyed the mechanic arts build-ing and equipment. Now, why should trip, as she had been very seasick most of the time. They assured me of her safe arrival home. Having done all I you, and your commission so promi-nently quote the statistics of this uncould in the matter, I hade the girl goodbye and continued my journey

nome, In conclusion I wish to state that normal year? Can you be fair? the reports in the papers have laid all this at the door of the Mormon Church, setting forth that the Chur was defying the government by bringing girls from foreign lands to Utah for polygamous purposes. Now the writers of such reports are either ignorant or they are wilful, malicious per-verters of the truth, and 1 do not think they have any excuse.

I desire to state emphatically that neither the Mormon Church nor any member of the Church had anything to do with this malter. What I did was not done as a member of the Mormon Church, but as a free American citizen, as a property owner, and tax pay-er of the United States. I am not a lawbreaker of my country, and why I should be deprived of adopting a child which the common law of Scotland sanctions and is acknowledged by this government, I cannot comprehend, only that I am a Mormon, and that is an awful crime. To be a Christian in the days of the Savior was considered treason. A copy of the contracts in the case results. But as Mr. Roberts said, de-ducting the 10 years last past, that may be achieved in 90, or in 40 years hence. My idea is not to establish "secondary schools throughout the state," for we have a secondary university, which ought to be admitted as such, and the money "wanted" for the attempt to make it a competitor of world renowned and wealthy universities, should be de-nied, and applied to district high schools throughout the state, for at least 50

Editor Deservet News:

In your issue of the 11th, Prof. Evans as defender of "A Greater University" at Salt Lake City, proves beyond all doubt his "bias and unfairness" toward "Utah's Great Industrial School," the Agricultural college, and fully substantiates my position-that "a greater university and more money" is wanted for Salt Lake City, irrespective | of the loss to the balance of the people of the state, of the college, its grounds and buildings, worth a half million dollars, and its popularity equal to any in the United States, and which cannot be estimated in dollars and cents; also the future financial crip-pling of all other educational and pubic institutions of the state for the object of establishing "A Greater Uni-versity," Such an attempt might prove to be "a monument of folly," although it may answer the advertising purposes of Salt Lake City, for which it is intended by some, and also pacify a few fastidious and ambitious theor-

REGARDING THE ATTENDANCE.

As I state in my former letter, I was governed by the "latest issue" of sta-listics upon the subject (collalogues of listics upon the subject (of alogues of 1905-1906), which show the attendance at the university as 904 students, and at the college as 718. Prof. Evans de-blores the fact that I did not have later statistics and says: "He could casily have verified them (the profes-sor's latest statistics) had he gone of the college of the same statistics. either to the catalogues of the respect-ive institutions for 1906-1907, or to the report of the commission." I must rereport of the commission." I must re-mind the professor that I am only a common citizen and taxpayer of this state and my information is therefore limited to that given out to the "com-mon herd," and at the time I answered you, the catalogues of 1905-1907 were not given out to the public, if issued at all, and "the report of the commisis yet unpublished and I presume inaccessible to the public, which sume inaccessible to the public, which you very well knew, as you refer to it as "manuscript, page 25." I inferred that there was no great change, be-cause I inquired of the registrar of the A.
