

SOCIETY

SOCIAL CHAT

The calendar holidays are marked by a social high tide, and Washington's birthday week is a conspicuous example of the rule. A score of delightful events distinguished the day itself, and during the entire week festivities have been tinged by the prevailing sentiment.

The most notable affair of today is perhaps the luncheon of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the Knutsford, the dining hall being brilliantly decorated with the national and colonial colors while a delightful program of toasts was given by the members.

The U. of U. girls will celebrate the date in a leap year ball tonight at the gymnasium, the patriotic and leap year ideas to mingle in the general details.

A "Red, White and Blue Domino Dancing" party will be given tonight by the B. F. Peixotto Lodge for the benefit of the charity fund at the Unity hall.

Miss Marion Rookledge entertained a few friends informally on Wednesday.

An interesting celebrative affair of the afternoon will be the meeting of the Daughters of the Revolution at the Exponent office, a program being given in honor of the day, and sentiments relating to Washington being among the features. A paper will be given by Mrs. Thelma Y. Beattie on British and Tory festivities in Philadelphia, and Mrs. Julia F. Lund speaks upon "Patriotic Suffering at Valley Forge."

The Junior class of the High school gave their annual dance last night in the Eaton gymnasium, and all details were on the leap year and patriotic order. The patrons were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Roberts, Miss Ella Dukes, Miss Elsie Ward, R. N. McNiece and Prof. G. A. Eaton.

Judge and Mrs. O. W. Powers entertained at an elaborate dinner on Tuesday night, for Mr. and Mrs. Igleheart and Mr. and Mrs. Scheid, the decorations being in La France roses with a vase of them for the centerpiece and house ones strewn over the table. Silver candelabra with pink shades were used at each end and covers were laid for 14.

Mrs. Frank Bird was hostess at an informal card party on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. F. Sinclair and Mrs. Clapp of Park City.

One of the delightful events of the week was the bridge tea given by Mrs. W. H. McIntyre and Mrs. Fred Dorn at the McIntyre home on Wednesday. The rooms being bright with daffodils and smilax and about 14 tables played. The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. W. D. Doncher, Mrs. George A. L. James, Mrs. James W. L. Nichol, Mrs. Walter Jennings, Mrs. Samuel Porter, Mrs. R. R. Bittenger, Mrs. F. J. Fabian, Mrs. Leslie Savage and Mrs. A. D. Cleveland.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Stauffer entertained delightfully at cards on Wednesday night the amusement being 500, and about 12 tables played. The decorations were in pink and white.

Mrs. George Y. Wallace entertained informally at luncheon on Wednesday, covers being laid for about a dozen.

Miss Jeanette Luman was hostess at a pleasant card party on Tuesday in honor of her guest, Miss Loughbridge of Denver, the rooms being prettily decorated in red carnations and smilax and about 20 guests present. The prizes were won by Mrs. William M. McCrea, Miss Marge Ellerbeck and a guest prize went to Miss Loughbridge.

Miss Mary Luman gives a dancing party tonight at her home in celebration of the day.

Mrs. Thomas Marioneaux entertained the Luncheon club on Tuesday, and a few outside guests besides, the decorations being in jonquills and the feature being a program of original stories by each guest.

The final game in the bridge tournament was played on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. A. D. Cleveland, the winners being Mrs. D. S. Murray and Mrs. C. W. Fildes. Another tournament has been formed and will hold its first meeting next week with Mrs. Louis McCormick.

Miss Jeanette Luman has issued invitations for a large dancing party to be given at her home Tuesday evening, Feb. 25, for her guest, Miss Florence Loughbridge.

Mrs. W. H. Kriebel entertained at a rolling roller skating party on Monday, and afterward at luncheon at Frank's, the table being decorated in pink and green, with carnations, pink ribbon and pink shaded candles. Mrs. Windsor V. Rice and Mrs. Ellsworth Duggett poured tea and coffee, while Miss Louise Sullivan, Mrs. David Taylor, Mrs. David S. Murray and Miss Minette Baer assisted in serving.

Mrs. Harry Chandler entertained a few friends informally at tea on Tuesday.

Mrs. George A. L. James entertained informally at bridge on Monday.

Mrs. J. D. Gatenby entertained informally on Monday for Miss Ericson and Miss Short of the Oquirrh school.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fife entertained a few friends informally on Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. J. T. White gave a children's party at Whitehall yesterday, the affair being a fancy dress one in honor of Washington's birthday.

Tonight the last in the series of Midwinter balls will take place at Christensen's under the direction of the Young Matrons' club, and the details will be on the patriotic order.

Mrs. Kline gave an Orpheum party yesterday in honor of Mrs. Frederick Sinclair.

Mrs. Edwin Butcher will entertain at bridge next Wednesday at Fort Douglas.

Another social event to take place next week at the post will be the reception on Monday night in honor of Lieut. and Mrs. Owen Seaman, who are just back from their wedding trip.

One of the notable affairs of next week will be the party to be given on Friday in honor of Mrs. E. B. Wells, by the Utah Women's Press club and the Reapers' club, celebrating her birthday anniversary. It will take place at the home of Dr. Ellis B. Ship at 7:30 o'clock.

The Elks' colonial party was one of the largest and most enjoyable of the week, nearly 200 being present, and almost everybody being in costume.

Mrs. A. L. Hoppaugh and Mrs. F. J. Gustin will entertain at bridge next week at the home of the former.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hampton entertained about 20 guests at bridge at their home on Thursday night. Mrs. Hamp-

WEDDING BELLS

A pretty affair celebrating Washington's birthday is the wedding which took place today at the home of Mr. G. D. Wallace when Miss Leola M. Panner and Charles Netzell were married, the ceremony being performed at 2 o'clock by Apostle O. F. Whitney, and a reception following for about 75 guests. The rooms were beautifully decorated in the national colors, flags and red and white carnations being used throughout. The bride wore a gown of white net over tulle with trimmings of real lace and carried white carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Bert Riley of Hailey, Idaho, wore a gown of hand-embroidered chiffon over yellow tulle and carried a bouquet of the new yellow carnations. Mr. Robert Wallace was best man, Mr. and Mrs. Netzell will be at home for a time at the Herron hotel.

Mrs. R. M. Mulhall announces the engagement of her daughter Stella to William A. Mitchell, the wedding to take place in the near future.

A pretty wedding of the week was that of Miss Emma Dyer and William T. Cox on Tuesday evening at the residence of the groom's uncle, William J. Yard, the ceremony being performed at 8:30 by President George E. Emery, in the presence of a number of their old time friends chiefly of Birmingham, England. The bride wore a costume of cream satin and carried lilacs of the valley. Afterward about 40 guests sat down to an elaborate supper. The rest of the evening was spent with music, singing and social chat. The bride and groom received a number of handsome presents. Mr. and Mrs. Cox will be at home to their friends at 453 north First West street.

OGDEN.

Among the social events of the week was the marriage on Monday in Los Angeles of Bernard J. Knott

PINK BROADCLOTH, WITH SABLE TRIMMINGS.

The novelty and attractiveness of this evening coat of broadcloth is the combination of pink broadcloth, with rich sable and the quaint platings of cloth which outline the sable-banded surplice fronts, the deep Capuchin hood and the high cuff on the very full sleeve. Triple shirtings over fine cords several inches above the natural waistline make this an empire model. White satin lining, with inside front facings of deep Irish crochet lace bounding.

of this city and Miss Clara D. Howard, one of Los Angeles' most charming and popular young ladies. After a tour of the coast, they will return to Ogden to make their home. Mrs. Knott is one of Ogden's popular druggists. A host of friends will join in wishing them every possible happiness.

Last Saturday evening Mrs. Hess delightfully entertained a few of her lady friends.

Among the enjoyable affairs of the week was the dancing party given last evening by the Knights of Columbus at the Congress hall, which was participated in by about 150 couples. Light refreshments were served.

The home of Mrs. A. S. Condon on Madison avenue, the scene this afternoon of a charming tea party in honor of Washington's birthday, attended by about 30 of her friends. The ladies were dressed in colonial costumes and the one maintaining the best character will be awarded a beautiful prize. The national colors are used in the house decorations. Mrs. Condon is always a charming hostess and is making the afternoon one long to be remembered.

The Royal Star, auxiliary to the R. of B. T. gave an enjoyable card party Tuesday evening of this week.

Monday evening Miss Irma Holland, one of Ogden's popular and charming young ladies, was married to Mr. W. S. Deighton, an employee in the clerical department of the Burton Implement company. The ceremony was performed at the home of Mrs. Jackson on Adams avenue, after which a reception was given and a wedding repast served. They will make their home in Ogden.

Mr. and Mrs. David O. McKay left Ogden Tuesday for Chicago and other eastern cities on a month's trip, combining business and pleasure.

John W. Reeves leaves Ogden today for New Zealand, where he will do missionary work.

Mrs. O. M. Runyon was hostess Monday at a pleasant bridge party given at her house on Twenty-fourth street, to a large number of her lady friends. The prize was awarded to Mrs. Hilbe and dainty refreshments were served. The home was tastefully decorated with red carnations and smilax.
