

BREVITIES.

Kansas has 3,000,000 acres of timber land.

A lady, who was a strict observer of etiquette, being unable to attend church one Sunday, sent her card.

The curious discovery has been made by an English surgeon that monkeys cannot be poisoned with strychnine. They seem to eat all kinds of poison with impunity.

Four years ago there was a solitary woman studying medicine at the University of Zurich; now there are six women who are earnestly pushing their studies there unmolested.

San Francisco is a harvest field for medical and other quacks. Among the real estate sales of last month were two of the value of $30,000, to Li-po-tai, the Chinese quack doctor.

The Flood Journal, published in London, states that a sample of tea sold in that city as fine green gunpowder tea, on examination proved to be nothing but "caper" leaves, ingeniously faced and manipulated. The manufacture of this spurious tea, it is stated, is carried on in England.

A lyceum for women has been opened in Breslau. Lectures will be delivered on the history of art, literature, pedagogy, natural science, history and household chemistry. Later, lectures on music, health, popular economy and botany will be introduced.

An English inventor, named Jackson, has devised a breakwater, consisting of a number of cast-iron tubes fastened together so as to form a sort of honeycomb, which is so placed that the area of the pipes are parallel with the direction of the most dangerous winds or currents, the waves flowing through the pipes.

The original model of a telegraphic battery filed by Professor Morse, when he got his patent, has been unearthed from a lot of old rubbish in the cellar of the Patent Office, where it has been lying for years. The signal key, as compared with the one of the present day, is an oddity. It is nearly two feet long, and has a large lump of lead at the end farthest from the hand, to throw the key up and break the circuit.

A physician was very much annoyed by an old lady who was always sure to ask him in the street for the purpose of telling over her ailments. Once she met him when he was in a great hurry. "Ah! I see you are quite feeble," said the doctor. "Shut your eyes and show me your tongue." "She obeyed, and the doctor, moving off, left her standing there for some time in this ridiculous position, to the infinite amusement of all who witnessed the funny scene.

A lady living at Marseilles was returning from church on a recent Sunday, when she heard steps behind her, and felt some one take her hand and draw it under her arm. Turning round she saw a gentleman, elegantly dressed, who was quite a stranger to her. She tried to draw away her arm, but the unknown held it firmly, and said, with an air of the greatest politeness, "Madam, I am a thief, and am closely pursued by the police. They know that I am a stranger in the town, and will never suspect me if they see me in the company of a lady so respectfully connected as you must be."

The too free use of technical terms in writing upon art matters is a standing fault with some of our newspaper critics. With amateur critics this is not usually the case; but one could but censure the nomenclature employed by one of the crowd who attended the violin concert of Old Bull the other evening. He was heard to remark to a companion: "He's old lightning, you bet! It takes a rooster that sings a pretty nasty how to get up and climb over him." This panegyric upon the famous fiddler is so terribly technical in its language that we shall not attempt to translate it into the plain vernacular. — Western Monthly.

Not far from Dalton, Georgia, there used to live a family of the name of Beaver, consisting of father, mother and four sons. The boys had succeeded in achieving the reputation of being the worst fellows in town, and were a terror to the pious people of the community. It so happened on one occasion that Bill, the eldest, was bitten by a rattlesnake, and the symptoms became so alarming that death was deemed imminent. Accordingly the minister was sent for to pray with Bill. He proceeded thus:

"O Lord! Thou knowest the Beaver family, how stupid they are! We thank Thee that a rattlesnake has bitten Bill, and we pray Thee to send a snake to bite the old man and the other boys; for nothing but rattlesnakes will ever bring the Beaver family to repentance."

The conversion of the entire family has since been reported.

The English journals give an account of a singular tumor, discovered in the stomach of a woman about thirty years of age, who had been under treatment for two years in a London hospital for a disease, the nature of which baffled all the skill of the physicians to determine. On a post-mortem examination, a solid tumor, composed of human hair, resembling in appearance a black duck with a very long neck, and weighing nearly two pounds, was found to occupy and nearly completely fill the stomach and gullet, forming a tolerably accurate mould of these organs, and extending from the stomach almost into the mouth. This remarkable concretion had caused great thickening and ulceration of the stomach, and was the remote cause of death. On inquiry, a sister stated that during the last twelve years she had known the deceased to be in the habit of eating her own hair.

Train thrown from the track. Fireman killed.—Arrested for Embezzlement.—More particulars about the "Schmidt".—Report of Jordan's Resignation not true.—Spaniards still continue to execute Cubans.—Defuncting Clerk nabbed.

NEW YORK, 12.—An accident happened to the mail train on the Erie Railroad at six o'clock last evening, beyond Port Jervis. The engine and two baggage cars were thrown from the track by a broken rail. Isaac Eaton, the fireman, was instantly killed. The engineer saved his life by jumping from the train.

Joseph Cunningham, formerly book-keeper for Homer, Calladay & Co., of Philadelphia, has been arrested at Jersey city, on a charge of embezzling seven thousand dollars from the firm.

The Schmidt reports that she left Bremen on Jan. 22nd, and proceeded along satisfactorily until the 27th, when a perfect hurricane commenced. The wind veered and shifted to all the points of the compass; the sea swelling into gigantic rollers, such as are seldom met with anywhere but in the North Atlantic. Against these gales the vessel made but little headway. The situation was rendered still more dangerous by the breaking of the piston rod and a general loosening of the machinery. The disaster occurred on Feb. 9th, but the gale continuing, rendered the task of repairing difficult, and the labor lasted twelve days while the steamer was lying to, unable to make the least headway. All went well with the passengers as far as food, general comfort and health were concerned. One death, an infant, and two births occurred during the voyage.

The World's Havana correspondent says the report of the resignation of Gen. Jordan is untrue. He is doing all he can to increase the efficiency of the army and is devoting special attention to the quartermaster and the commissary departments. The summary execution of Cubans by the Spanish authorities continues wherever the Spaniards have a foothold.

Provisions of the Funding Bill. Dispatches from Admiral Fox.

WASHINGTON, 12.—The funding bill, as passed by the Senate, provides for an issue of 400 millions of coupons, or registered ten forty-year bonds, at 5 per cent. coin interest for disposal in the United States or elsewhere, at not less than a par value, for coin or in exchange for 5.20 bonds, equal in the aggregate to par value; also for four hundred millions of 5.40-year bonds, at four and a half per cent. coin interest, for similar disposal at not less than a par value, for coin or redemption, bonds, bearing a higher rate of interest. It also provides for the issue, for four hundred millions of 20-40-year bonds, at four per cent coin interest, for similar disposal, at not less than a par value, for coin or the redemption of outstanding bonds. A further issue of the last named bonds is authorized at the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, provided the aggregate debt of the United States be not thereby increased. All these bonds are to be entirely exempt from taxation. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to appoint agents in the United States or Europe, for negotiating in bonds, in sums not exceeding half of the expense of preparing, issuing and disposing of the sum of a hundred and fifty million dollars annually. Duties on imported goods may be applied in payment of interest and on the reduction of the principal of the public debt. The bonds now held as the sinking fund, also those hereafter purchased, will be canceled and destroyed after the first of October next. Despatches received at the Navy Yard from Rear-Admiral Poor, commander of the North Atlantic fleet, dated Cape Haytien, Feb. 18, state that Admiral Poor had called upon the Provisional President, and after the usual interchange of civilities, acquainted him with the object of his visit. The President summoned his Cabinet and the Admiral explained the instructions he had received from his government, viz: that negotiations were pending between the United States and San Domingo, and while they were pending his government had determined, with the whole of its power, to prevent any interference on the part of Hayti or any other government with that of the Dominicans; and if any attempts were made on the Dominicans during the negotiations, under the Hayti or any other flag, it would be regarded as an act of hostility to the U. S. flag, and would provoke hostility in return. The President and Secretary of State intimated that the open and friendly relations now existing between Hayti and the United States would not be interrupted, but they were aware of their weakness; they knew their rights and would maintain them to the best of their ability, and they must be allowed to be judges of their own policy. Admiral Poor was afterwards notified, unofficially, that the Haytian authorities were displeased with what they considered a menace on the part of the United States government. The U. S. steamers Severn and Dictator arrived at Port au Prince on the 9th of February. The day before the arrival of the Severn a rumor was in circulation that a collision had occurred at Cape Haytien between the Nantucket and a Haytian man-of-war, the Terror, in consequence of the protection given by the former to the American consul. It was also reported by two pilots, who brought in the Severn and Dictator, that a discrepancy as to the result. An examination by Admiral Poor proved that the rumor was without foundation.

Insurgents Reduced.—Rebel Generals Forming Clubs.—Correspondence Intercepted.—Cuban News.

HAVANA.—The insurgents in the neighborhood of Cuaules have been reduced to seventy-five, thirty-six of the original band having been killed; they are completely surrounded and cannot escape.

Important correspondence has been intercepted disclosing the fact that the rebel generals, Hurtado, Delvalle, Salome Hernandez and others are forming clubs hostile to annexation to the United States. Delvalle declares that annexation at present would be an act of cowardice, and denies that a change from the Spanish Government to that of the United States would prove beneficial to Cuba. He says that Americans have no claim to Cuban gratitude, and bitterly denounces the action of the American Government towards Cuba. The correspondence throws no light on the question as to who holds the command of the rebel forces.

Gen. Geolicorria and followers escaped from Camagney, and have gone towards Los Tunas. The government troops in the vicinity of Trinidad recently killed 100 insurgents.
