DESERET EVENING NEWS.

Thursday, March 27, 1900.

HERE AND THERE.

A lady who is an ardent admirer of Beethoven had adorned the hallway of her home with a bust of the great composer. A gentleman whom she had invited to visit her advised himself by ducking the bust in a hot pond. Thereupon the lady hastened to a justice for a warrant for the arrest of the impudent guest. All the constables who were called to execute the warrant, however, were so satisfied with the bust that they all returned to the justice and advised him that they had not been able to find the man.

There is a strong opposition to free education in England, and one of the most prominent leaders of the opposition is Dr. Rigg. The Dr. is in the habit of holding up the United States as a "terrible example of the ill effects of free schools. According to this vicious critic the results in this country have been most lamentable, sparse and irregular attendance, a low standard of achievement and a high percentage of illiterates among the population.
In fact, if we are to believe Dr.
Rigg, the most culpable and wasteful policy has been followed in the national free-paying schools.

One of the latest discovered tricks of the French winemakers is the use of a very small quantity of potassium bichromate for imparting a rich color to their vintage.
The maqui is the fruit of a small evergreen shrub that grows in Chile. In the three years ending 1897, 1898 and 1899, 118,000 and 215,774. The consul general has no statistics for 1898 and 1899, but states that the increase went on in the same proportion. The berries are sold in the grape as they are to give the wine a good color.

There has just arrived from Alexandria, by the steamer Pharo, a consignment of nearly twenty tons of cotton, numbering 150,000, taken out of an ancient subterranean cave's cemetery discovered about 100 miles from Cairo by an Egyptian laborer, who accidentally fell into this cave's cemetery, which he found completely filled with cotton. Every one of which was perfectly fresh and in the best condition. The cotton was found in the cave's cemetery, and all laid out in rows. The cotton was sold at auction, per cent specimen bringing from three to six shillings apiece. The bulk, however, was sold at a low price, and will be used as fertilizers.
