

RUHLIN GIVES UP IN FIFTH ROUND.

Jeffries Retains Title of the World's Champion Pugilist.

UNSATISFACTORY CONTEST.

Champion Delivered Only One Telling Blow, Which Was in the Second Round.

San Francisco, Nov. 15.—In one of the most unsatisfactory prize-fights ever witnessed in this country, James J. Jeffries proved the victor tonight over Gus Ruhlman, the Akron giant, and thus emphasized his right to the heavy-weight championship title. In the fifth round of what was to have been a twenty-round struggle, Ruhlman wilted and then surrendered to his peer to the utter amazement and disgust of the assembled thousands.

No one was more surprised at the outcome than Jeffries himself, who asserted that while he had delivered one telling blow in the second round, he did not expect to win the victory so easily.

Ruhlman's sole explanation of the outcome of the fight is that he received a heavy blow which utterly disabled him and that Jeffries persisted in fighting him low.

RUHLIN'S CASE WAS HOPELESS.

While Ruhlman was making no absolute charge of Jeffries having committed a foul, he intimates that he was unfairly handled and injured as a result. Ruhlman receives the support of his seconds, who state that his case was hopeless after the case after the second round.

Early in the afternoon a long line of anxious men assembled on the Larkin street side of the pavilion and held their breath in a grizzling rain until nightfall, when the sale of gallery seats was opened. Never in the history of San Francisco has there been such a crush of humanity at a pugilistic event. Hardly had the doors been dragged under the hills toward the ocean before the great pavilion began to fill with the enthused crowd gathered to watch the championship contest.

STATE OFFICIALS ON HAND.

Thousands poured into the gallery when the doors were finally opened and long before the first preliminary was called the upper portion of the pavilion was black with spectators. People who came from points between Vancouver and Mexico and embracing well known state officials, members of the judiciary and prominent sportsmen, people early took possession of the high-priced seats.

At 8:15 o'clock a stir at the east end of the pavilion indicated that one of the principals had arrived and was proceeding to his dressing room. The word was soon passed that Gus Ruhlman, the Akron giant, had reached the scene of conflict from Blanken's Six-Mile house, and an uproar ensued. Ruhlman went at once to his dressing room, accompanied by Billy Madden, "Denver Ed" Martin, Charley Goff and "Young Gibbs," who later appeared in his corner after the fight was called.

PRELIMINARIES ARE ANNOUNCED.

A rumor emanating from Oakland set the crowd early in the evening to the effect that Jeffries had suffered an injury to one of his hands before starting for San Francisco, but popular sentiment condemned the story as a canard and the betting at the ring-side was not affected by the incident. M. H. de Young, the millionaire editor; Mayor James D. Phelan, Mayor-elect Schmitz and almost the entire bench of the county of San Francisco were early at the ring-side. John Jordan, the veteran announcer, was early on the scene.

When the preliminaries were announced and the first fight brought on, the assembled thousands betrayed in some part the extent of their excitement and wrought up feelings and cheered vociferously, although the curtain raisers were unimportant.

CHAMPION RECEIVES AN OVATION.

Jeffries, accompanied by Billy Delaney, Bob Armstrong, Kid Egan, his brother Jack Jeffries and Dr. Wilt Van Court, left the Oakland side of the bay on the 7:30 train, reaching San Francisco shortly after 8 o'clock. The champion entered the building while the first preliminary was in progress, and as Capt. Whitman, in charge of the police detailed, cleared the way, proceeded to his dressing room, while the throng that entered the building made a demonstration.

BETTING WAS COMMONPLACE.

The betting at the ringside steadied down just before the big struggle to odds of two to one, although there were bursts of enthusiasm from either side in which longer odds were offered. Ed Kelly, the Chicago bookmaker, had $3,000 which he sought to place at 10 to 45. Of this sum $1,000 was covered by the Ruhlmanites. A miner named Bell just arrived from the coast, had wagered $500 at the same odds. Aside from this betting was commonplace.

EVERYTHING IN READINESS.

When the second preliminary had been concluded resulting in the victory of Spider Joe Welsh over Joe Fields in four rounds, a corps of workmen poured into the ring, scaling ladders and taking other positions about the myriad of electric lights ranged along the border of a canopy above. The operator at the kinetoscope machine adjusted his instrument and a flash of light through the array of lamps proclaimed that all was in readiness as far as the company was concerned. A moment later a burst of time-light 255-800 candle-power illuminated the vast reaches of the pavilion and came to further enthrall the great host of spectators as an immediate forerunner of the championship struggle. George Harting, official timekeeper for the Twentieth Century club, took his position to the south side of the ring with Phil Wand, timekeeper for Ruhlman, closely following.

FIGHTERS ENTER THE RING.

At 9:23 o'clock Jeffries entered the ring, shading his eyes. After him came his trainer, Billy Delaney; Kid Egan, Bob Armstrong and brother Jack. Harry Corbett, referee, then stepped into the ring. Two minutes later Gus Ruhlman entered the ring, followed by his seconds.

They tossed for corners and Ruhlman won, taking southwest corner of the ring. The extreme heat from the powerful light over the ring made itself felt from the very beginning but was not as intense as that which hampered the Sharkey-Jeffries fight. Two

A Beautiful Home for $975.00.

This house is located on First South street, Lake Breeze Addition, 10 blocks from Main street. It is built of the best red pressed brick, and contains four large rooms, hall, and pantry and also a large summer kitchen. There is also two rooms up stairs, but are not yet finished. The house has a south front. The land is 4x10, and there is 30 fruit and shade trees, a large, well built barn (new), sheds, etc. Flowing well water at back door and plenty of irrigating water. The house alone could be built for less than $1,000.00. If sold within the next few days it can be had for $975.00, part down and the remainder in monthly payments to Zion's Benefit Building Society. The house was built by the Building Society; its construction was supervised by their architect, and is perfect in every respect. Prospective purchasers will be driven out in a buggy by leaving word at the Oyster Bay Restaurant, 113 Main St., when it will be convenient for them to go out. Parties wishing to go out themselves can inquire for R. F. A. Lake Breeze Addition.

It is seven blocks from the street car.

POLICE CAPTAIN HISSED.

Defeating cheers greeted the big fight, but an instant later, when Police Captain Whitman entered the ring to examine the gloves, groans and hisses filled the vast auditorium. Jeffries in a flaring red sweater and wearing a pair of white boxing gloves, stood in his corner, while Ruhlman, dressed in a blue suit, stood in his corner, facing him.

RUHLIN APPEARED SCARED.

Almost from the beginning of the fight Ruhlman appeared frightened. The fight was principally finished in the second round when Jeffries landed a left hook on the jaw that took all the fight out of him. Ruhlman claimed that a chance blow in the pit of the stomach rendered him unfit for fighting. The crowd in the dressing room while the spectators rose as one man and cheered the champion while they denounced Ruhlman as a quitter and fakir.

SPORTING MEN DISGUSTED.

The police captain, seeing Ruhlman's condition, ordered him to stop. Ruhlman, however, refused to stop and the fight continued. The referee, and officers of the club were involved. The utmost excitement prevailed, during which Ruhlman made his way out of the ring.

THE MOST DISAPPOINTING FIGHT EVER Put Up by Heavyweights.

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—Sporting men who witnessed last night's contest for the championship of the world between Billy Madden and Gus Ruhlman agree that it was one of the most disappointing fights ever put up by heavyweights of reputation. No one expected such a tame termination and when Billy Madden, acting for Ruhlman, threw up the sponge in the fifth round a howl of anger shook the rafters of the pavilion. Referee Corbett plainly showed his surprise and thought at first that the sponge had been thrown into the ring by some practical joker. In an interview after the fight, Corbett said: "I think Madden made a mistake. He should have thought of the crowd that had paid a big admission fee to see the fight. The crowd that attends such exhibitions wants to see the defeated man knocked out. The fight might have gone another round or two when a decisive blow would have been given."

DIDN'T WANT A KNOCK-OUT.

Billy Madden said that he decided to "stop at the end of the fifth to save his man from worse punishment. 'I didn't want a knock-out,' he said. Ruhlman got over his grogginess quickly. He was not badly punished and bore no serious marks of the fray, made a demonstration."

POOR CHRISTIANS.

Some people thought he was a funny old man when he spoke at camp meeting on the subject of "Lord Give Us Sense." One of the first requisites for living a peaceful, upright, honest and happy life is food of the kind that can be easily digested and that furnishes the rebuilding material for good healthy brain and nerve centers.

It is absolutely out of the question for a person to be peaceful, capable and right minded when the brain is underfed, and the nerves wrecked from lack of rebuilding elements they have a right to expect from good food.

A person fed on meat, bacon, ham, fried cakes, hot biscuits, sticky and poorly cooked starchy oat meal and wheat, may possibly have strong digestion enough to handle these things and be a happy, healthy individual; but 90 people in 100 have not, and the result is irritable, poorly nourished, nervous bodies, foul breath, and a general condition that prevents one from being happy and contented. It is practically impossible for such persons to be good Christians.

The religion of common sense and good food is the first religion that a man or woman should cultivate, for that condition makes possible thoughts of a higher nature and a better grade. There is a world of wisdom in the saying of Ruhlman: "We may be sure we are not serving the Lord if we are not happy ourselves." All should try to build up a steady set of nerves and get rid of dyspepsia, constipation, flutters, and a train of terrors that come from bad digestion and poor food. They should drink coffee absolutely. Take for breakfast a little cooked or raw fruit, a saucer of Grape-Nuts Food and a cup of Postum Coffee. No meat or grease. You will have a clean, healthy stomach for dinner and at that meal have some meat and vegetables that you can digest. Let your supper be the same as your breakfast.

You probably don't need medicine but you need the kind of food that contains elements that rebuild the soft gray matter in the brain and nerve centers throughout the body. It is "Up to you" reader to put your self right and make of yourself a happy, cheerful individual, capable, and showing forth the charm of life rather than its terrors and distresses.

FOUGHT TWENTY ROUNDS TO A DRAW

Jimmy Burns Was Unable to Make
Dummy Rowan Drowsy.

MUTE'S CLEVER BLOCKING.

Big Crowd of Sports Witnessed the Contest and Appeared to Be Satisfied.

Jimmy Burns was unable to land a knockout blow on "Dummy" Rowan last night at the Salt Lake Athletic club because the mute wisely objected to please the crowd by thrusting his head in the course of the big man's jabs and swings and, therefore, the contest went twenty rounds to a draw. From the showing made by both men it was evident to those present that the Spokane man, although a jolly good fellow, could not induce the Dummy to slumber in twelve twenty rounds barring the use of chloroform or a sledge hammer. One thing which evoked the admiration of the crowd was the gameness of the mute in going up against a man who had nearly every possible advantage over him. In weight Burns had about ten pounds the better of the bargain, in height at least five inches, and in reach ten inches.

At the end of the twentieth round, "Dummy" was the more groggy of the two, but neither of them were harmed in the least.

The mute was exceptionally clean and free from anything bordering on fake. Each man struck a foul blow inadvertently in the fifteenth round, but the blows, if combined into one, would hardly have knocked a man's hat off, and Burns paid no attention to them and the crowd did not care.

Chronicling the bout by rounds would be useless and uninteresting, as it was pretty much the same thing from start to finish. The men shook hands when they began, and again when they quit, which goes to show, when they quit, which goes to show, as Manager McNamee says, that the sport is "all right."

The mute was the aggressor in the early part of the contest and assumed a crouching position which made his red topped head absolutely immune from the Spokane man's left swings. He tried to rush the fighting but could not get within range. Occasionally he succeeded in sending his left to Burns' ozone department, and once or twice by jumping, managed to reach his tall opponent's chin and nasal organ.

The mute was unusually confident despite the big odds he was up against, and grinned good naturedly every time Burns made a vicious swing at his head. During the first half Burns stood straight up, but finally began to crouch and fight carefully. He waited patiently for an opening to send in a knock out punch, but in the opinion of those present he waited too long. He played for the mute's head all the time, often landing a body blow once in awhile. After a lead the mute left numerous good openings but Burns was not equal to the occasion, or had a healthy regard for the right hand swings of the "Dummy." The feature of the contest was the latter's clever blocking. To ward off the fatal onslaught of the man in his corner and was sending in rights and lefts to the body with terrific force. The spectators held their breath expecting to see the mute retire while the referee counted a reasonably stiff jab brought blood from the unspeakable's nose, which became smeared about considerably in the clinches which followed. It did not enhance the little fellow's good looks, but before the tenth round the claret was removed by his secretary of war, "Silent" Rowan.

All things considered, the evening's entertainment was highly interesting and no complaints were heard from the 1,000 spectators present. It was the largest crowd the club has accommodated this year and the management was greatly pleased with the showing made.

STUDENTS ARE HILARIOUS.

L. D. S. University Boys Take Teachers
Out in Dump-Cart.

Yesterday being the sixteenth anniversary of the Latter-day Saints University, the students felt that the occasion called for some unusual demonstration. So they got their heads together and fairly out-did themselves. For over two hours in the afternoon they practically owned South Temple from the Bee Hive to the "News" corner and East Temple down to First south and back up to North Temple. At the opening exercises in the morning one of the students proposed that inasmuch as it was the sixteenth anniversary of the founder's day, the same should be made a holiday. He was backed by the entire student body and there was nothing for the faculty to do but gracefully yield to the vociferous overtures of the students.

In the afternoon the latter gathered about the buildings and sang college songs and gave the university and the city an old Indian dance. The coming out of the titling office wanted to know if there "wuz a passel of Utes broke loose."

The boys were out for a lark, and the moment their eyes fell upon an old dump-cart they charged down upon it and had it taken before it could throw up any fireworks. Then the interior of the Lion House was sought and Prof. Mills and Prof. Stephens were brought forth and placed in the cart. And with flying banners and yells like unto the Comanches the two gallant professors were borne in triumph to East Temple and south on their thoroughfare to Second South, to the delight of the people on the streets.

The professors were then taken back to the Lion House, where they made short speeches to the students, who received their words with such loud and frequent cheers that not many had a chance to hear them. The day's celebration ended with a largely attended and most enjoyable ball at Christensen's.

NATIONAL GUARD NOTES.

H company has just taken a lease on a number of rooms in the Deseret National bank building. The rooms have been specially prepared for the men.

One of the finest drills that has yet been seen in the army was that in double rank by company H, last Monday night.

Manager Bob Kenyon of H company's minstrel has just made arrangements for 22 new minstrel overcoats to be used in the parade on the day of the company's minstrel show. He has closed a contract with Russell and Morgan company, Cincinnati, for lithographs and hangers. It will not be many days before the town will be billed, announcing one of the most talked of social events scheduled in recent years. The friends of the young men will readily recognize the likeness of their favorites in black faces, the lithos being made up from photos of those who take part.

Johnny Trewhella, "the great Josher," has just penned a new camp speech, entitled "Political Economy." This he will deliver in his inimitable style during the engagement of company H's minstrels. It is intended, so he states, merely for laughing effect, and, judging from former success, it will make a pronounced hit.

Through their use thousands of people have been enabled to attend social and religious functions, travel, enjoy amusements, etc., with comfort. As a preventive, when taken on the approach of a recurring attack, they are excellent.
