

Wealth of Logan and Cache County, THE GRANARY OF UTAH.

CACHE COUNTY, the granary of Utah, is bounded on the south by the dividing line of the states of Utah and Idaho, on the east by Rich, on the north by Weber, and on the west by Emery counties. A large portion of this area is mountainous, 25,000 acres in fact, being included in forest reserves. The valleys and lower bench lands are of the best soil, which afford bounteous returns to the husbandman. The estimated products for the year 1907, of Cache county are:

Wheat.....1,300,000 bushels
Oats.....1,200,000 bushels
Barley.....1,000,000 bushels
Potatoes.....1,000,000 bushels
Apples.....1,000,000 bushels
Sugar beets.....1,000,000 bushels
Condensed milk.....1,000,000 bushels
Butter and cheese.....1,000,000 bushels
Eggs and poultry.....1,000,000 bushels
Wool.....1,000,000 bushels
Horses (exported).....1,000,000 bushels
Fat cattle (exported).....1,000,000 bushels
Sheep (exported).....1,000,000 bushels

There are 21 towns and cities located in Cache county, with an aggregate population of 22,000.

Cache county's railroad communication with outside cities is in the hands of the Oregon Short Line railroad company. The main line from Cache Junction running via Mendon, Wellsville, Hyrum, Logan, Hyde Park, Smithfield and Richmond to Preston, Idaho.

The telephone companies reach every town in the county, connecting with the cities and towns of four states. The same applies to the telegraphic service, as far as the railroad towns are concerned.

District schools are established, as provided by law, in every town and precinct. Good, substantial buildings are provided and an excellent corps of teachers is attached to each school.

The chief city of Cache county is Logan, the county seat. Its population is 2,200. Among the institutions of Logan are the county courthouse, the Agricultural college of Utah, the Brigham Young college, the Jersey academy.

SPLENDID SCHOOLS.
The 19 district schools of Logan are under the care of Logan city board of education, offered by W. W. McLaughlin, president; Wesley Jacques, vice president; L. C. Farr, Jr., clerk; Orval Adams, treasurer; A. McIntosh, superintendent; and Wesley Jacques, George Thomas, Frank Thatcher, Lorenzo Benson and W. W. McLaughlin, members. There are 25 teachers employed.

The school population of the city numbers 2,200, of whom 1,200 are enrolled in the district schools, and the balance, 1,000, attend the colleges and training schools. An elegant addition is being built to the Woodruff school building that will accommodate 250 more pupils and will be completed next January. The work that is being done in these schools is second to none in the state.

Logan is justly proud of her colleges and schools; the Agricultural college and Brigham Young college have combined an enrollment of over 1,000 students, all under the care of professors who rank among the best. The many natural advantages of location—hygienic and scenic—make Logan an ideal city as an educational center.

The corporation owns its electric light plant, water works system, and has made very extended additions to the latter this year. Additions and improvements to residence properties have been far greater than in any previous year, as well as buildings for commercial and business purposes.

The question of sewerage has received some attention from the city council and districts have been created. Work thereon will no doubt be commenced in the near future.

The national government has secured a location for the erection of a post-office building which will add importance to the city. The coming year will see this long-named improvement well under way.

COMMERCIAL GROWTH.
The commercial growth is steady, solid and sure, as is evidenced by the schedule of resources given, the value of which amounts to nearly $1,000,000, a very substantial backing for enterprising business men to rely upon.

Among prominent firms mention may be made of the following:

THATCHER MUSIC CO.
The Thatcher Music company's name is a synonym for fair and honest dealing. The founders of this house, Messrs. George W. and B. G. Thatcher, began business in 1900 with a small capital. In 1903 they incorporated and others invested with them, and now the company has a paid up capital of $25,000. The home of this concern is at 29 South Main street, Logan, Utah, and is a model building, the equal of any music store in the west. In it are incorporated the latest ideas of the great music emporiums of the country. The firm has a branch establishment at Montpelier, Idaho, and active agencies are also maintained in Salt Lake City, Provo and Brigham City. While the actual field companies only Utah and Idaho, sales extend to California, Oregon, Canada and Wyoming.

CAMPBELL & SONS CO.
The Campbell & Sons Co., successors to the pioneer firm of Campbell & Morrill, deals in dry goods, ladies', boys' and children's suits and shoes. Special lines of underwear and hosiery. The only complete ladies' furnishing establishment in Cache valley.

HOWELL-CARDON CO.
The Howell-Cardon company, newly incorporated, capital $50,000, has one of the most up-to-date stores in Utah, constantly replenishing with the latest creations in dress goods, ladies' and children's furnishings and shoes, carrying the largest stock in Logan. Their trade is rapidly increasing. The elegant show window, 125 feet front, affords purchasers superior advantages in viewing goods. The trade extends largely in the county as well as those in Logan. Special attention is paid to mail orders, the public will get fair treatment and bottom prices from this firm. Mr. Joseph E. Cardon is manager and carefully looks after details of this business.

CACHE VALLEY MERCANTILE CO.
The Cache Valley Mercantile company, one of the oldest concerns in Logan, incorporated with a capital of $10,000, will supply patrons with green and fancy groceries, staple crockery and fancy groceries. The volume of the business for 1907 will be $42,000. Mr. Alma G. Jacobson is manager.

CACHE KNITTING WORKS.
Among the manufacturing industries that are making steady growth, is the Cache Knitting Works, incorporated, employing 50 to 60 hands the year round. The concern is up-to-date with the best equipment, and as an evidence of the merits of their goods it may be stated that they are sold in eight different states. The firm recently moved into larger quarters, made necessary in order to install increased machinery, etc. Union suits, garments, cardigan jackets, sweaters, and many of the latest designs, are the products turned out.

LOGAN KNITTING FACTORY.
The Logan Knitting Factory, incorporated with $50,000 capital, M. J. Ballard, president and manager, was established in 1905, and from small beginnings the growth has been steady and persistent. Now the company has a complete modern plant with full capacity to meet demands. It employs about 50 people and has paid a dividend each year. The object has been to produce the highest grade of goods at reasonable prices. The concern manufactures "beehive" underwear, hosiery, garments, known all over the west. The volume of business for 1907 is $25,000.

CARLISLE & STIRLAND.
Messrs. Carlisle & Stirland, horticulturists and florists, make lawns, plant trees and hedges, supply floral designs for funerals, etc. All work guaranteed.

TEMPLE CITY.
Logan is noted for prominence as a temple city, having a beautiful edifice situated on an eminence above the town. The building is sacred to the Latter-day Saints, many coming from Idaho, Wyoming and northern Utah to attend to ordinance work there.

In Cache county there are three ecclesiastical stakes, with headquarters in Logan for the Cache stake; Richmond for the Benson stake, and Hyrum for the Hyrum stake. In each is a large tabernacle, for general worship with commodious meetinghouses for ward purposes, Sunday schools, etc. The Episcopal, Methodist and Presbyterian churches are represented in Logan.

The Cache Commercial club is an organization maintained by the leading business men, whose officers are always ready to conserve the interests of the community.

GETTING A BAD NAME.

Little Things in Daily Life That Prevent a Workman Being Promoted.

"Johnson and I entered the service of the company at the same time. That was ten years ago and Johnson has been promoted until he is an official while I am getting very little more than I did at the start. I don't understand it."

Have you ever tried to understand it, my friend? Have you ever looked at the matter from your employer's viewpoint? Furthermore, have you ever heard the old saying, "Give a dog a bad name and you may as well kill him?"

Now you gave yourself a bad name with your employer at the start and that is why you have remained at a standstill while Johnson was promoted. Johnson was an efficient morning, ready for work at 8 o'clock.

You strolled in a few minutes later and, by the time you were prepared to go to work, it was 8:30. Your employer noted this but did not say much about it. Nevertheless you gained for yourself the name of being a tardy man.

Then, Johnson worked steadily all day long and managed to do his work accurately. You, being half an hour behind time, tried to catch up by rushing things. As a result, you made mistakes. These came to the notice of your employer and he placed the word "careless" against your name in his mental record.

Finding out that the rushing process did not work, you worked slower and remained in the office a half an hour after all the other clerks had left. This enabled you to do your work right and stopped the complaints about your carelessness, but your employer put you down as being a slow man.

Now, when the subject of promotion was discussed by your employer, Johnson, being regarded as prompt, accurate and fast, was pushed forward, while you, being known for the reputation of being tardy, careless and slow, were deemed unfit for more important work. You were good enough, despite your shortcomings, to fill the minor places, but you were not considered good enough to be promoted. That is the reason you are struggling along in the same old rut while Johnson is an official.

You can only rid yourself of the name you have by making every effort to be prompt, accurate and quick. It will require time and patience but you must stand that as you are responsible for the condition of things—Spare Me.
