756

speaker. He reported the people of the speaker. He reported the people of the Stake to be in a healthy state and fi-nancially prosperous. The various offi-cers are faithful, he said in the per-formance of their duties, and perfect harmony and peace prevails. Elder Gearsen S. Bastian said he knew that the leaders of the Church were men inspired of God. He took pleasure in kaboring with his brethren in the Stake presidency and endorsed the report given by Elder W. E. Robi-on. 00.

Elder Hans M. Hansen said he re-joiced that we are living in a day when God has restored the Church organizabion and that we have in our midst Apostles. He knew the report given by Elder W. E. Robison and G. S. Bastian was true and bore a faithful testimony to the divine mission of Joseph Smith. Elder F. M. Lyman referred to the necessity of all the Stakes meeting their obligations to the Pioneer monu-ment fund and said he believed the Wayne Stake would pay all of its alloi-ment at this conference time. He spoke of the necessity of system in all things and said we should do everything in and said we should do everything in the time and season thereof. He advised the Latter-day Saints to free them-selves from the bondage of debt. We should keep out of the Lord's debt by paying our tithes and offerings and meeing promptly every requirement made of us. The Church organization is a pattern of order and system and we should draw lessons of usefulness and profit therefrom. Sunday afternoon—The Loa ,Thurber and Fremont wards were reported in good condition by Bishops Thomas, Bhackburn, Matt. W. Mansfield and Hiett E. Maxfield.

Hiet E. Maxfield. Elder A. O. Woodruff discoursed at some length upon Church organization and government, demonstrating the ne-cessity of unity in all things. The pur-pose of the Latter-day Saints, he said, is to save souls, and our example should be an incentive to cause the world to investigate the beauties of the doc-investigate the beauties of the doc-trines of Christ. Elder F. M. Lyman said he had ob-served in his travels evidences of im-provement and progress everywhere. It is surprising to note how the valleys of Utah are developing and in many places, even beautiful dry land farms are now being cultivated. He was pleased to know that the people of Wayne Stake were interesting them-selves in reservoir enterprises. He ad-vised the people to be contented and build beautiful homes and assured them that the Lord would bless the country with an abundance of water. them that the Lord would bless the country with an abundance of water. He pleaded with the people to be gen-erous in the payment of tithes and of-ferings and merit the favors of God by keeping His commandments. In the evening a general Priesthood meeting was held at which Elders F. M. Lyman and A. O. Woodruff gave timely and valuable instructions to the brethren upon the dubles and callings of the Priesthood.

Priesthood. the

the Priesthood. Monday morning—Elder W. H. Wor-rell gave his experience while laboring as a missionary in the Southern States. He urged the Saints to live humble and pure before God that they may receive a fulness of His Spirit. Elder W. E. Robison presented the general and local authorities, all of general and local authorities, all of whom were sustained by unimous vote.

Elder F. M. Lyman said in conse-quence of the fact that the work of God is constantly developing and changes are continually being made, it is ab-solutely necessary that we have among us the living oracles of God. In order to be faithful and devoted Saints we should all be in harmony with Church officials.

Elder A. O. Woodruff spoke upon the principles of love and charity. The speaker contrasted the doctrines of Jesus and exhorted the Latter-day Jesus and exhorted the Latter-day Saints to investigate the Scriptures and not be led away by false and seducing spirits. He exhorted the young to be wise and discreet in selecting their companions for life that unity, peace and joy might abide with them foreve Elder W. E. Robison made the closing remarks of the conference, in which he extended thanks to all who had habored to make the conference a success.

bored to make the conference a success. Benediction was pronounced by Patriarch E. H. Blackburn. The Y. M. M. I. conference of the Stake was held Monday afternoon and Tuesday. Elders F. M. Lyman and A. O. Woodruff attended and gave instuc-tion and counsel on M. I. work, The people attended in large numbers and a good spirit prevailed throughout the conference the conference. JOSEPH ECKERSLEY, Stake Clerk.

YOUNG MEN'S CONFERENCE.

A conference of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement associations of the Salt Lake Stake was held in the Taber-nacle Sunday. The morning session was devoted to reports of officers and remarks by Stake Superintendent R. R. remarks by Stake Superintendent R. R. Lyman, and in the afternoon the ser-vices were of an interesting character, the program of exercises being of such diversity as to greatly please all who were in attendance. Stake Superintendent Lyman presided.

The choir sang the hymn:

Come, dearest Lord, descend and dwell By faith and love in every breast. Praver was offered by Elder George S.

McAllister

The choir further sang:

Behold, the great Redeemer die,

A broken law to satisfy.

The general and Stake authorities of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement Associations were then presented and unanimously sustained as follows:

Lorenzo Snow,general superintendent; Joseph F. Smith, Heber J. Grant, B. H. Roberts, assistants, Aids-Francis M. H. Roberts, assistants. Aids-Francis M. Lyman, John Henry Smith, Matthias F. Cowley, Abraham O. Woodruff, J. G. Kimball, Junius F. Wells, Milton H. Hardy, Rodney C. Badger, George H. Brimhall, Wm. S. Burton, Edwin H. Anderson, Douglass M. Todd, John E. Heppler, Edwin H. Snow, Nephi L. Mor-ris, Richard W. Young, Horace G.Whit-ney, Willard Done, Thomas Hull, secre-tary and treasurer; Evan Stephens, musical director.

tary and treasurer; Evan Stephens, musical director. R. R. Lyman, Stake superIntendent; Joseph F. Merrill, first counselor; Heber C. Iverson, second counselor; J. B. Higgs, secretary and treasurer; Wil-liam G. Sears, corresponding secretary; John J. McClellan, musical director, Alds—Thomas Sloan, Jed F. Woolley, D. J. Lang, George E. Carpenter, T. A. Clawson, L. R. Wells, John Q. Critch-low, Joseph A. West, Joseph Coulam, B. B. Brown, Ellas S. Woodruff, F. M. Lyman Jr., Fred Best, A. E. White, Elmer Caldwell, Oliver Jensen, H. W. Einer Caldwell, Ohver Jensen, H. W. Mathews, Thomas Cook, Z. Butterfield, Joseph Mousley, J. P. Terry, S. E. Smith, Joseph F. Smith Jr. The Utahn Quartette, composed of Messrs. Thomas Ashworth, Will Chris-topherson, Will Patrick and A. H. Kel-son, then same with feeling. Lead Kind.

son, then sang with feeling, Lead Kind-son, then sang with feeling, Lead Kind-ly Light. Elder T. A. Clawson addressed the congregation. The Mutual Improvement work, said he, was a great factor in preparing the young men of Zion for the ministry in the nations of the earth. Time was when no such opportunities were afforded in prt paration for such a labor, as no such institutions as the Improvement Associations were in ex-Istence. But things were in ex-the Lord had moved upon His servants to organize such institutions for the Christian Science with the teachings of benefit of the rising generation, and they were gradually advancing and reaching a plane of perfection werein they were found a source of great bene-fit to the young men and women of these mountain vales. The speaker re-ferred to the methods in vogue in the Mutual Improvement Associations, and said that they wer such as to instill within the minds of the young people a love of God and a love of the Gospel as love of God and a love of the Gospel as love of God and a love of the Gospel as nestored in these latter days. Being so, there was no excuse for non-prepara-tion, as every opportunity was given prospective missionaries to prepare themselves for future duties and re-sponsibilities. Elder Clawson urged the young men to greater diligence in a re-sponsibilities. Elder Clawson urged the young men to greater diligence in a re-sponsibilities. Los dissemination of their filves, at least, to a dissemination of the principles of the truth and righteous-ness.

principles of the truth and lightcous-ness. The Utahn quartet rendered another selection, after which Elder George M. Cannon made a few remarks, referring particularly to the great help in Church government the Mutual Im-provement associations were. The speaker knew that they had had a bneficial effect in the section in which he rerided and helleved that such was bneficial effect in the section in which he resided, and believed that such was the case in other districts. He depre-cated the fact that so many of the young men of our Church were users of tobacco and otherwise violated the commandment known as the Word of Wisdom. Elder Cannon felt that music was a factor for great good in the as-semblies of the Saints, and he thought that song should be given every atten-tion in the Mutual Improvement associations. Elder W. W. Beckstead was the next speaker. He testified of the power of speaker. He testined of the great good be-prayer, and spoke of the great good be-ing done by the Mutual Improvement associations. He felt that the servants of the Lord had been inspired in being of the Lord had been inspired in being led to organize such associations, as to his mind, these institutions were of an enrobling character and important auxiliaries in the rolling on of the Church and kingdom of God. Elder George H. Wallace next spoke. Singing, said he, should be cultivated in the young men and should be made a feature of every Mutual Improvement association. The preparation of the les-sons was also essential, as without at-sons was also essential, as without at-tention to the subjects assigned, the meetings could not be made interesting and therefore would not accomplish and therefore would not accomplish the ends desired. Returned mission-aries, said the speaker, should make a special effort to attend the Mutual Improvement meetings, as their ex-perience in the ministry would be a source of encouragement to those inclined to be backward in the performance, of their duties, Elder Albert White, in addressing the congregation, spoke of the necessity missionary work at home in order ti Zion might be made what it ought of that Zhôm might be made what it ought to be. Example was a necessary adjunct in converting people to the Gospel, and this should be set by those more ad-vanced in years. The speaker prayed for unity among the young people that the desired good might be accom-plished. plished.

Elder Moses W. Taylor spoke of the objects of Mutual Improvement, em-phasizing the necessity of thorough re-search in order that those engaged in the work might be able to impart their the work might be able to impart their bearnings unto others. It was not the amount of time spent in study that proved beneficial, but it was the food for reflection that came out of it, and the understanding which the student had of the lessons in hand.

Prof. Jno. J. McCiellan, Stake musical director of the Mutual Improvement associations, rendered, by request, an or-gan solo, Intermezzo from Cavaileria Rusticana.

Elder Heber C. Iverson of the Stake