OGDEN NEWS.

OGDEN, MARCH 17, 1900.

A JOKE THAT WAS NO JOKE

Butcher Attempts to "Joke" a Little Girl and Nearly Severs Her Hand.

District Court Notes—Police Notes—Sent to Crittendon Home—Died in the Hospital.

One of the most foolish tricks that a man has played in Ogden for some time, took place on Thursday. A thirteen year old daughter of B. F. Shepherd was sent to the butcher shop to get some beef steak, she informed the butcher that she was in a hurry, and he foolishly thought to scare the girl and said, "I'll cut off your hand," at the same time taking the child by the arm and laid her hand on the chopping block and raised his knife and struck her on the wrist, thinking that the back of the knife was downward, but as the knife struck the wrist the blood gushed out the girl screamed, attracting the attention of a passerby, who rushed into the shop and took the girl home, and a more frightened butcher is seldom seen. Dr. Powers was summoned and dressed the gash, finding it to be quite deep, it necessitated three stitches. He said that the arm would soon be healed. The father of the girl went and saw the butcher about it, he made all kinds of apologies, and agreed to pay all medical expenses, and to do all in his power to make everything right. The accident was purely unintentional, but has taught the butcher a good lesson.

BEFORE THE POLICE JUSTICE.

Last evening a man named James Nixon was arrested with a young lady who was driving. According to the story Nixon was driving along at a rapid speed and ran into another buggy, causing a little smash up. He was given a good lecture and released.

DIED IN THE HOSPITAL.

The young man Charles J. Moore, who was brought to Ogden on Thursday, by his father, C. B. Moore, from Wells, Nevada, to have an operation performed on him, underwent the operation and died shortly afterwards, but only for a short time, when he began to sink rapidly, and death overtook him yesterday afternoon, at the Ogden general hospital. The remains were prepared and shipped to Wells this afternoon for burial.

BANKER ROUTS A ROBBER.

J. R. Garrison, Cashier of the bank of Thornville, Ohio, had been robbed of $1,000 by a man named "Red" Smith, who was a member of the "Kidnappers' Club." Garrison was in the bank when the robbery took place, and he was the only one who saw the robber. He was the only one who saw the robber.
