A lady by the name of Chivers, who lives at No. 221 South First West, lost her purse between home and the Oregon Short Line depot yesterday. There was quite a sum of money in it. Whoever picked it up is very quiet about it as nothing has been heard from it.

Dr. Higgins took the town bath yesterday with his family. He has employed a flunkie of very great lung power to blow a horn from the boat of the drag. Several fond mothers are after the doctor for waking up their babies at an unseasonably hour yesterday.

The wheelmen of this city are shaking hands with each other over the seal of the city officials as displayed in their behalf in regard to the reservation of the strip in the streets that has been set apart for the exclusive use of cyclists. The recent arrests, and their imposed upon "road laws" by Justice Timony have elicited universal sentiments of approval from the bicycling fraternity generally.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Notice is hereby given that the publishing, job printing and book-binding departments of George Q. Cannon & Sons company, have this day been disposed of to the Deseret News. All orders and contracts now on hand for printing or binding will be completed by us, but no new ones will be accepted or entered into for work in these lines after this date.

We shall now devote ourselves exclusively to our merchandise branch, at Nos. 11-12 Main street, including the book, stationery and school and office supply business. The Juvenile Instructor will also be continued by its founder and owner, George Q. Cannon, though for the printing of this magazine, as well as that of the Fourth Volume of Whitney's History of Utah, arrangements will probably be made with the "News."

It has long been apparent to both the publisher and the transfer thus consummated that there would be mutual advantage in the union of the two institutions, which have become identified with what is locally known as the business of Church publication; and when finally steps were taken looking to such consolidation, the negotiations progressed with most agreeable rapidity. In therefore expressing our gratitude to the public for the cordial support given to us during the thirty-five years we have been in the printing and binding business, we have pleasure in referring our patrons to those lines to our successors, the Deseret News, for future business.

GOSPEL IS GOING TO ALL NATIONS

Prest. George Q. Cannon Preaches an Interesting Sermon.

ELDERS MUST HAVE FAITH.

The Lord Commanded the Elders to Go Forth Relying Upon Him—Report from Australia.

The services in the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon were presided over by President Angus M. Cannon.

Opened by the choir and congregation singing the hymn commencing:

"Come, come, ye Saints,
No toil nor labor fear."

Opening prayer was offered by Elder David McKenzie.

Continued by the choir singing the hymn beginning:

"Captain of Israel's hosts."

The first speaker was Elder F. L. Barker, recently returned from a mission in Australia. He left this city about two years and a half ago, and engaged in missionary work, which he enjoyed exceedingly. His labors were devoted exclusively to the English-speaking people. He acted as president of the Australian mission during almost his entire absence.

The speaker testified that he had witnessed the manifestations of the power of God in many ways. He traveled throughout the Australian mission in the interest of the work. He lectured frequently with the help of stereopticon views, and the greatest opposition against the Elders emanated from the press.

Elder Barker stated that the Australian mission is in as good a condition as it has been for many years. On his return home he visited India, Egypt, Palestine and nearly all the countries of continental Europe.

The speaker stated that many of the Christian worshippers in the countries where he has been, worship images as deities, and that their testimony may be heard in all the earth. They were further charged that in whatever house they entered and were received they should leave their blessings upon that house, not in whatever house they were not received, they should immediately depart and shake off the dust of their feet as a witness against that house and they in the day of judgment would be judges of that house, and continuing the revelation, it shall be more tolerable for the heathen in that day, than for that house.

In another revelation the Lord promises the Elders that if they are faithful they shall lack nothing. And they were bidden not to take thought before-hand what they were to say, but they were to treasure up in their minds words of life and in the very hour it would be given them when they were to say. The speaker read the entire revelation, which is the commandment of the Lord to the Elders in regard to the manner in which they should go into a new country, and in promising them that they would be provided for. The speaker stated that his mind had been considerably exercised of late over these matters. Of course, said he, there are dangers in the way, and the Elders are not permitted to go without money and if they do so, they will be arrested as vagrants. But if the Elders do have to go to prison it will be given them when they are to say.
