Present on the stand, President M. Thatcher, Counselor Wm. B. Preston and Elder James H. Hart of the Bear Lake Stake, and several bishops belonging to the Stake.
After the usual opening services, Counselor Preston made some remarks concerning the building of the Temple, encouraging the Saints to a greater effort in the future, relative to that work.
President Thatcher spoke of his recent visit to Chicago and other cities of the west, visited several commercial and mercantile circles, and found many things well worthy our consideration. He referred to the necessity of union in the Lord's affairs among the Saints. Elder J. H. Hart, referred to his late labors in Idaho in political matters, and how his country was interested, which had resulted favorably, made mention of the progress of the Temple, and expressed his desire to attend the work.

The following brethren appeared upon the stand, having come up on this day's train: President John Taylor, Apostles Wm. B. Preston and George Q. Cannon, and Elder Frank S. Richards. After devotional services, Elder F. D. He deprecated the falling of importing anything we do not need, and urged the Saints to be self-sufficient in their temporal matters, in order that we could be a self-sustaining people. Devotional services being over, the sacrament was administered. At the request of President Taylor, Elder Cannon read the 12th chapter of Paul's first epistle to the Corinthians, beginning at the 24th verse, after which President Taylor addressed the congregation, and spoke of the satisfaction he felt at having the opportunity of partaking of the sacrament. He referred to the scriptures read by Brother Cannon, and spoke of the words of the Lord to those to whom it was written, and spoke of the length upon the similarity of the doctrine embraced by us to those possessed by the Apostles and Elders should wake up and be willing to go to the nations when called upon, and were the saints in view of the celebration, and avoid the impending evils. He treated upon many points of paramount interest and importance to the Saints, in a fatherly manner, and in the blessing of God upon them.
Elder F. D. Richards referred to the building of the Temple, and spoke of the progress of the work, and urged the Saints to be self-sufficient in their temporal matters, in order that we could be a self-sustaining people.
