THEATRICAL.-Last night Miss Ince appeared as Lady Isabel and Madame Vine, playing the dual character with much emotional power. Miss E. Ince made a favorable impression as a songstress in Barbara Hare. she has a sweet voice, and when experience gives her confidence, will make a most effective singer. Miss Ince gratified her numerous admirers with a song, and proved that she two is a sweet singer. Messrs. McKenzie, Lindsay, Hardie, Graham and Crowther played well; and Mrs. Bowring. made a most excellent "Corny;" she played n her best style. This evening, Mr. and Mrs. Davenport make their last appearance in "Wild Oats" and "The Day After the Wedding." The selection of pieces is very excellent, and the performance of these two comedies ought to ield the most unqualified amusement. Royer, the strolling actor, in "Wild Oats," is one of the finest high comedy characters n the whole range of the drama. Between the pieces, Mr. Hardie will, by request, sing "My Josephine."

To-morrow evening, Miss Ince will appear in her truly great impersonation of Queen Elizabeth, supported by the same efficient cast as in the previous performances of this drama.

GONE TO GRANTSVILLE.—President B. Young, accompanied by Elders Wilford Woodruff, George A. Smith, George Q. Cannon, Joseph F. Smith, A. Milton Mus-ser, John Squires, David Day, and some thers; started this morning on a visit to Grantsville to hold meetings.

DISCUSSING THE POINTS .- Discussions between the candidates of the Republican and Democratic parties for office are the age at present east and west. This is more sensible, if kept within proper bounds, than fulminating fire and fury at a distance, and stirring rival partisans to deeds of blood. But what an amount of eloquence will be expended before November! Great is the ower of Talk, and Bunkum is his prime

FROM ENGLAND.-The Millennial Star of the 15th ult. has a letter from Elder L. W Shurtleff, who writes from Nottingham that he work is progressing under his charge in that Conference, and out-door preaching has BLACKBERRY SEASON .- We clip the following from the New York Evening Post, and the point of it will be better appreciated when the reader understands that the story is told of a "Manager" who made hiraself known here by building and trying to run a wooden theatre in this city, and making the acquaintance of several boarding house keepers after blackberry season was over!

"A western theatrical manager has a knack of doing' people out of their salary. A young actor from New York, who had joined his company, ventured after a two weeks' engagement to hint that he would like his money." What!" to hint that he would like his money. 'What!' exclaimed the indignant manager, "you ask me for salary, after the characters I have given you to play? The fact is, my dear sir, the man who plays Claude Methodie and other lovers ought not to expect any salary!' 'Yes' said the lightwaisted youth, 'but my board is due, and I shall get turned out of my boarding house, and the truth is I have nothing to eat.' 'Keep cool, my boy!' replied the manager, 'black berries will soon be ripe!"
